from one-half to three-fourths pound of rye bread per day, their children only one-fourth pound each per day. No butter is available except to children and only one-eighth of a pound per week to them.

"It is not my province to pass judgment upon policies of foreign governments. If they elect to sell wheat abroad at a time when they find it necessary to ration their own people, and to shoot men for foraging food cars, that is their business. Nor, is it within my power to discern their motives in bearing American markets.

"But it is my province and my duty to expose such transactions and to insist that American institutions be so regulated as to make such transactions impossible. I hope the futures exchanges of this country, on their own initiative will have sufficient foresight and public spirit to make such changes in their rules as may be necessary."

The Secretary may confer with officials of the Chicago Board of Trade sometime this week. He left Washington this afternoon for Ann Arbor, Mich., with his daughter Caroline, who will matriculate at the University of Michigan. He was considering making his return trip through Chicago.

BOARD MEETS TODAY TO STUDY SITUATION

CHICAGO, Sept. 21. (AP)—Joseph W. Badenoch, chairman of the business conduct committee of the Chicago Board of Trade, announced tonight the board will sit at 3 p.m. tomorrow for a "thorough and careful" investigation of Russian wheat operations in the Chicago pit.

Badenoch, who returned today from a vacation in Wisconsin, said his committee had the situation under consideration for a week or more. He withheld comment until after the meeting.

Intense interest in Russian trading here was stirred Friday by the publication of a telegram from Secretary of Agriculture Hyde to John A. Bunnell, president of the board, in which the Secretary said an inquiry had established beyond all question of doubt the soviet government had been a heavy short seller of wheat in Chicago. Russian operations, the Secretary said, had the effect of "manipulating the price downward against every farmer who has sold wheat since the short sales were executed.

Members of the Board of Trade said the grain markets are open to the world and the government should not place the responsibility on the exchange for setting prices or manipulating them. It is for the government to determine the soviets' status, these various members believed.

The business conduct committee consists, in addition to Badenoch, of H. H. Lobdell, Lester E. Perrin, A. W. Mansfield and Joseph Jackson.

SABOTAGE IN OTHER GRAIN MARKETS REVEALED

OTTAWA (Ont.) Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—Soviet sabotage in grain markets has not been confined to the Chicago Grain Exchange. Similar tactics in the grain markets of Holland, Germany and Italy have been exposed in recent reports received here from Rotterdam.

Mechanical Lung Retains Nurse's Vital Spark

Breathing Apparatus

The Drinker respirator which is keeping Miss Frances McGann (insert) alive from day to day. The girl has been placed in this aluminum cabinet and by means of alternate vacuum and air pressure the machine keeps her breathing although her chest muscles are paralyzed. By means of the levers and by watching an air pressure gauge the attendants maintain a gentle, even breathing. Deeper breathing may be induced by varying the pressure.

SCIENCE KEEPS BREATH IN GIRL

Young Nurse Alive Nine Days Since Lungs Stopped

Mechanical Respirator Held Only Salvation

Infantile Paralysis Victim Has Chance for Life

CHICAGO, Sept. 21. (AP)—A metal lung today afforded Frances McGann another day of life—the ninth since her chest muscles became paralyzed and she was placed in a mechanical respirator.

Attending physicians and the patient herself were optimistic of the girl's chances for recovery. Her condition, slightly improved recently, was reported as virtually unchanged today, although she took nourishment regularly and appeared to have gained strength.

Every two hours today Miss McGann was removed from the respirator for ten-minute periods and was able to breathe, although great effort was required.

When nature failed nine days ago in a swift attack of infantile paralysis science was called upon to save the young student nurse's life. She was placed in an aluminum cabinet that incased her body from neck to feet. An electrically operated pump alternately created air pressure and vacuum within the compartment, forcing the girl's lungs to function and gradually compelling helpless chest muscles to return to normalcy.

Doctors believe a serum, injected a week ago to counteract the disease, has taken effect.

WALSH VISIONS REVOLT IN CUBA

Economic Distress Fanned by Politicians

Washington Urged to Action to Avert Trouble

Senator Wants Assurance of Honest Elections

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 22. (Monday) (AP) — Reports were current in Buenos Aires today that a revolt had broken out in Concepcion, a city of Southern Chile, against the government of President Col. Carlos Ibanez.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Senator Walsh of Massachusetts said in a statement tonight that "what has happened recently in other South American republics would seem inevitable in Cuba unless the influence of our government is exerted immediately to avert trouble."

Returning to Washington from a visit to Cuba, the Massachusetts Democrat added the political and economic situation there is "most alarming," and that "anything is likely to happen that may bring to a climax the present uncertainty."

MUST DO SOMETHING

"Something should be done at once," he asserted, "to prevent the economic collapse and the political disturbances that seem to be inevitable unless an immediate, direct and absolute policy of action is undertaken by the present Cuban administration, by our government, or by the joint action of both."

Walsh said one of the causes of the impending crisis is present unstable economic conditions throughout the world, but that in his opinion the "state of mind of the Cuban people is the most disturbing factor."

"The present economic tension is increased tremendously," he added, "by what appears to be widespread political unrest. Poverty and unemployment are feeding the flames of political revolt."

He said it seemed clear that "we can not avoid the responsibility of assuring the Cuban people the right to exercise the basic privilege to declare who shall govern them."

"TYRANTS" REIGN

"Any other course," he asserted, "places us in partnership with those Cubans who hold the people of Cuba under what many claim to be tyrannical and despotic government and, consequently, breeders of revolution. When the right of election is denied revolution is inevitable."

"If we are not able to give the people of Cuba honest elections we had better retire and leave them to their fate, rather than be accused by them of being derelict in our duty and in fact supporting indirectly what may be a bold military despotism."

ECUADOR FEARS ARMY REVOLUTION

BOGOTA, Sept. 21. (AP)—A high official of the Colombian government tonight asserted a revolution engineered by the army is feared in Ecuador, neighbor republic to Peru, which underwent a revolution last month.

He said the Ecuadorean government's income of $9,000,000 is insufficient to meet a budget of $12,000,000, and President Ayora has sought to reduce expenses by cutting the army appropriation.

He has heard widespread revolutionary plans are rumored throughout the army.

Man Kills Self After Shooting

MONTEREY, Sept. 21. (AP)—Harry Markowitz, 43 years of age, Oakland salvage dealer, shot and killed himself in a Monterey hotel today after wounding Mrs. J. J. Benton, wife of a former Berkeley health officer.

Hospital attendants said her wounds are not serious.

TRIO SEIZED AMID FIGHT AT CHURCH

Policemen Battle Women as They Defy Priest and Try to Carry off Statue

MERIDEN (Ct.) Sept. 21. (AP)—A pitched battle broke out today during a religious festival sponsored by a woman's organization of the Church of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel. A squad of police, summoned to restore order, arrested three women.

An attempt to remove from the church a statue of the Virgin to be carried by men in a parade to solicit funds precipitated the disturbance. The pastor, Rev. Domenici Ricci, forbade its removal. Some of the women seized the statue and carried it into the vestibule of the church. Several policemen went in to retrieve it and a general battle ensued in which fists were used freely and women screamed. A call to headquarters brought a dozen more policemen.

Eight women were taken to the station house, but only three arrested on charges of breach of the peace. Three policemen were stationed as a guard around the home of Father Ricci, who several years ago was slashed across the face as the result of differences with his congregation.

REDS SELL OLD REGIME ART WORKS

Four Van Dycks Acquired by Catherine II Bought by Americans in Paris

PARIS, Sept. 21. (AP)—Seven famous paintings acquired by the Russian Empress Catherine II have been brought here from Leningrad and four of them—valued at $200,000 each—sold, probably to American dealers, the Russian language daily La Renaissance reports.

La Renaissance says the four sold were "The Annunciation," by Van Dyck; the "Portrait of Lord Philip Wharton," by Van Dyck; Ruben's portrait of his wife, and Rembrandt's painting of his son Titus. Works of Watteau, Terbosch and Lancret are said to be yet unsold.

Empress Catherine obtained the paintings for the St. Petersburg Hemitage Museum.

for twenty-four hours largely blew itself out during the night and today. Reports of damage to shipping, however, continued to reach London.

The steamer Chesham, 4295 tons, from the River Plate with a cargo of maize, asked for assistance off the western coast of Ireland. She is lying helpless with her steering-gear smashed.

The steamer Umberleigh, 3919 tons, which went ashore on the rocks near Plymouth, has been refloated but is badly damaged.

The liner Montcalm, bound from Southampton to Quebec, Can., felt the full force of the channel gale but halted several hours to play her searchlights on the Umberleigh until another ship came up to the rescue.

The Montcalm reached Cobh, Irish Free State, fifteen hours behind schedule.

The Italian steamer Tuscania, 4425 tons, whose wireless calls for help off the French coast Friday night caused great excitement in shipping circles, was safely towed in to the port of Falmouth by a German tug.

WOMEN DRY, SAYS HEAD OF W.C.T.U.

Sentiments of Twenty-four National Organizations Cited in Radio Talk

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (AP)—Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, declared in a radio address today that sentiment among American women is overwhelmingly dry, despite efforts, she said, that had been made to make it appear otherwise.

"A demonstration of sentiment in the United States for prohibition," she said, "was made early this year when the heads of twenty-four national organizations with a membership of 12,000,000 women, appeared before a committee of Congress to testify to the tremendous social and economic benefits of prohibition, to urge strict enforcement of the law and to oppose its modification or repeal.

"These organizations comprise practically the entire body of women's organizations of any considerable size in the United States."

VAST TREASURE FOUND IN ANDES

menesly wealthy. He returned to Spain, taking the fortune and secret with him, but when he died he gave the King of Spain directions for finding the treasure.

The trail described by Valverde has been followed by many treasure hunters but they always lost it in the Margaritas Mountains. The trail was followed in 1857 as far as Margaritas by Richard Spruce, an English botanist, who reported that up to that point Valverde's directions "correspond perfectly with the locality and landmarks."

If the treasure is actually recovered there is a possibility of controversy as to ownership, as the government is likely to demand a share and descendants of Caras, the Princess mother of Atahualpa, are said to live in the village of Yaruquies, near Riobamba.

Five centuries ago, when the Inca King, Huayna Capac, came from Cusco and conquered the reigning house of Caras, he became enamored of, and married a daughter of Stain, King of Caras. This Princess was the mother of the unfortunate Atahualpa and from this line of royal Caras, the Duchicelas, an humble Indian family of Yaruquies, are said to be descendants.

Hill Tribesmen Killed in Clash

NAGPUR (India) Sept. 21. (AP)—Four hill tribesmen were reported killed and fifty wounded today by police suppressing a riot in Bordhia village, Betuld district.

Several hundred tribesmen attacked the police with bamboo sticks and stones in an attempt to rescue some of their fellows from custody. The police, hard-pressed, opened fire.

Reinforcements have been sent to the village.

Three Jailed for Stabbing

REDWOOD CITY, Sept. 21. (AP)—A woman and two men were jailed here today in connection with the stabbing of Henry Hammer, laborer. Hammer was backed a dozen times on the left side with a small knife, but physicians said none of the wounds is deep enough to cause death.

Those in jail were Mrs. Susette De Natale, 42 years of age, real-estate dealer; James Shannon, 55, gardener, and Fred Whitrock, 52, laborer, all of Menlo Park.

Office-Slaying Suspects Held

HOUSTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Two men were arrested today and charged in connection with the slaying last night of Motorcycle Policeman J. E. Fitzgerald, the wounding of Policeman W. B. Phares, and the robbery of a furniture store.

J. J. Maple, painter, paper hanger and expert marksman, is asserted to have confessed in a statement to the District Attorney that he shot and killed Fitzgerald and wounded Phares. E. F. Grimes, also a painter and paper hanger, arrested some time later, identified himself as Maple's companion, admitting participation in the robberies, but denying any connection with the shootings.

Army Prisoners at Fort Escape

OMAHA, Sept. 21. (AP)—Knocking their guard unconscious after seizing his gun, two army prisoners successfully fled the confines of Fort Crook and made good their escape. The two are Robert L. Scott, serving a sentence for desertion from Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and Tom McNutt, serving a short sentence for a misdemeanor at Fort Crook.

DEATH WINS ONE, LOSES ANOTHER

Doctor Turns on Gas as Girl Patient's Life Ebbs

Rescue Comes for Him, but too Late for Her

Tragedy Enacted at Office in Hermosa Beach

HERMOSA BEACH, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—Saved by a trick of fate after he attempted to take his own life, Dr. William C. Fiske, prominent physician here, was under arrest at the hospital tonight, after he had related the tragic death of Vera Nelson, 18-year-old Los Angeles girl, who died on the operating table after she came to him for surgical aid.

Discovery of the body of the dead girl, who died from the effects of an attempted illegal operation, and the physician who tried to take his own life when he realized that his surgical efforts would bring death to his patient, was made by Barney Burnett, son-in-law of Dr. Fiske, when he broke in the door of the office here at 57 Pier avenue, late this afternoon.

ABSENCE ALARMS

The prolonged absence of Dr. Fiske from his home caused anxiety to his family and this afternoon Burnett went to the office. A strong smell of gas and the locked doors caused Burnett to seek the police.

The officers broke in the door, hastily opened the windows and carried Dr. Fiske, whom they found lying on a couch, to the open air. Burnett demanded to know the reason for the attempted suicide, and the physician revived enough to say: "Look in the next room."

Opening the door, the officers and Burnett found the 18-year-old girl dead on the operating-table. They found a diary in her belongings which tersely told the story of the reason for her call on the physician and from his lips at the hospital completed the story of the midnight operation that failed.

IDENTITY LEARNED

The young girl, according to the reports of the investigating officers, arranged for her operation several days ago. She went to the Fiske office early Saturday evening. She gave her home address as 1137 West Eleventh street, Los Angeles. Later it was established that she was the daughter of N. E. Nelson, 1343 Wright street.

From his bed at the hospital Fiske told the officers that the girl was alive as late as 1 a.m. today, but that he decided that she could not live. He then went into the adjoining room, locked all doors, closed all windows and turned on the gas.

Investigation of the fatal operation and the attempted suicide is being made by the Sheriff's office.

Dr. Fiske came here some nine years ago, and is about 60 years of age. He is a man of family, and lived at 71 Sixteenth street.

RUMANIAN GENERAL TRIED TO END LIFE

BUDAPEST, Sept. 21. (AP)—Bucharest dispatches today reported that Gen. Mircescu, former Rumanian Minister of War, who was compelled to resign his commission because of the loss of important military documents, had taken poison and probably would die. The documents were lost in 1927, but the fact was revealed only last week. They are said to have been abstracted from the general's pocket by a Russian woman who was his traveling companion on a train from Bucharest to a watering place.

Titian-Haired Beauty and Purported Husband Charged with Robbery

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Betty Rasson, 25 years of age, and her purported husband, Emmet Rasson, accused by Salinas authorities with using the girl's beauty in a confidence game to swindle rich men, were reunited in a Sheriff's car today after spending Saturday night in separate jails.

Deputy Sheriff A. H. Borges of Salinas took Rasson in custody at the San Francisco city prison this morning. Then he drove down the peninsula and got Mrs. Rasson at the Redwood City jail. As the titian-haired girl stepped into his car in company of a matron, Rasson greeted her warmly.

"Glad to see you, honey," he said.

"Hello, darling," said Mrs. Rasson.

And the two exchanged kisses affectionately. Then Sheriff Borges headed the car for Salinas, where the two must face charges brought by James Torres, a Monterey butcher, who asserts he was lured to Mrs. Rasson's Carmel home, plied with liquor and robbed of $500 when he fell into unconsciousness.

Rasson asserts he is a former Baptist minister and that he is vice-president of the Rasson Brake and Equipment Company of Los Angeles.

CAMPBELL'S SOUP-PLANT OWNER DIES

Heart Ailment Takes Life of Dr. John T. Dorrance at His Home in New Jersey

CAMDEN (N. J.) Sept. 21. (AP)—Dr. John Thompson Dorrance, president and founder of the Campbell Soup Company and described as the originator of condensed, canned soup, died of a heart ailment today at his home, Pomona Farm, Cinnaminson, N. J. He was 57 years of age.

Dr. Dorrance's life was the traditional story of American success. From a $7.50-a-week employee in his uncle's fruit-and-preserve factory, he rose to the head of a world-wide business organization. He was the sole owner of the Campbell company.

He was born in Bristol, Pa., and was a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He won his Ph.D. at the University of Gottingen in 1897.

While in Germany, his associates said, he conceived the idea of making condensed, canned soup available in America. He returned to this country, joined the Campbell Fruit and Preserve Company, his uncle's concern, and in 1899 put out the first batch of canned soup. From that time the company grew rapidly, in 1915 becoming the Campbell Soup Company.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Ethel Mallinkrodt Dorrance; five daughters, one son, two brothers and two sisters.

Defendants in Lyle-Whitney Case Acquitted

SEATTLE, Sept. 21. (AP)—Verdict of acquittal returned last night for all defendants in the Lyle-Whitney conspiracy trial brought to a close the longest Federal Court case ever tried in Seattle and the most absorbing from the standpoint of public interest of any litigation brought about by the enactment of the prohibition laws.

The defendants, Roy C. Lyle, former prohibition administrator; William M. Whitney, his chief assistant; Earl Corwin and R. L. Fryant, former dry agents, were charged with accepting bribes from rum-runners.

ANSWER GIVEN RASKOB QUERY

Taylor of Tennessee Tells Why He's an Issue

Houston Convention Control Cited in Statement

Anti-Hoover Propaganda Charge Reviewed

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—Representative J. Will Taylor of Tennessee today issued, through the Republican National Committee, the following statement:

"Published reports credit the Democratic high command with the intention of submitting a questionnaire to leaders of the Republican party as to why John J. Raskob is an issue in this campaign. That is a questionnaire which is extremely simple to answer, for anyone experienced in politics knows why he is an issue. In fact, the entire citizenship of the country is well aware of why he is an issue.

"(1.) Mr. Raskob became an issue in the Democratic party when at the Houston convention he was able to foist his will on the Democrats of the country in spite of the two-thirds rule which existed in the convention.

"(2.) This issue became intensified in the Democratic party when it was learned that Mr. Raskob had been a former Republican and that his money had been going to the support of Republican candidates in some districts.

"(3.) Mr. Raskob became an issue before the American people when Mr. Frank B. Kent, a nationally known Democratic journalist, recently disclosed that Mr. Raskob had been maintaining at his own personal expense a party propaganda bureau within the shadow of the White House, which, for more than a year, has been issuing statements slandering and maligning the President of the United States.

"Incidentally, it would be interesting to obtain from the Democratic high command an explanation of why this command widely advertised that Mr. Raskob would speak on the radio in one of the Democratic party's nation-wide hook-ups on the night of the 18th inst., and then, suddenly and mysteriously, substitute Representative Joseph W. Byrns of Tennessee. Was it that Mr. Raskob has become too much of an issue in this campaign?"

AMERICANS MAY PAY PARIS PIPER

Throng of French Musicians Thrown Out of Work

Players from United States Fear They'll be Goats

(Copyright, 1930, by New York Times)

PARIS, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—While the official French government figures for the week just passed show there are only 904 unemployed men and women in all of France, this number was suddenly increased today when 500 French musicians were thrown out of work as a result of the installation of talking-picture apparatus in the cinemas where they were employed.

American musicians now employed in Paris theaters and night clubs fear that their permits to work will be abrogated by the government to provide employment for the idle French musicians.

While the official employment figures published do not include the number of workers in part time, they do show that the unmistakable recession in French industry has not yet resulted in serious unployment.

FOREIGNERS ADMITTED

As a matter of fact, 2700 foreign workers were permitted to enter the country in the week and this figure does not take into account a certain number of foreign agricultural laborers who entered France for the harvest.

Another favorable indication is contained in the official statement of tax returns for August which were 3,372,000,000 francs (about $134,880,000) only 349,000,000 francs less than for August, 1929.

Louis Germain-Martin, Minister of the Budget, in an interview in tonight's Information Financier sounds a warning note of an approaching period of State financial restraint.

"All possible resources have already been discounted," he observes, "and the cash box is empty, and though the hour of penitence is over the hour of wisdom has sounded."

ANXIETY SHOWN

As a direct result of the 500 French musicians thrown out of work today the members of one American dance orchestra will sail for the United States from Cherbourg Wednesday instead of fulfilling their contract beginning tomorrow to play for several months at a fashionable restaurant in the opera district.

At least 80 per cent of the music to which revelers dance in the Montmartre cabarets is furnished by American jazz bands, most of the players being Negroes. They were on the job as usual tonight but all are frankly apprehensive as to whether they will be allowed to continue working in France. Many of them have been here for several years.

DRUMMOND WILL HEAD UNITY STUDY

Secretary-General of League to Steer Briand Scheme Program

GENEVA, Sept. 21. (AP)—The special committee of representatives of European States who plan to meet Tuesday to arrange procedure for the study of Aristride Briand's scheme for a European federation, will appoint the League's secretary-general, Sir Eric Drummond, as secretary-general for their activities, according to arrangements made today.

Mr. Briand and some of his colleagues have taken the initiative in getting the committee to work as the League Assembly ordered. It is recalled that the Assembly's resolution suggested the European committee should work in co-operation with the League secretariat.

By choosing Drummond to direct the committee's bureau it is felt the committee will avoid criticisms which might have resulted from choosing a member from another section of the secretariat, for instance, the economic section or political section.

Mrs. Craig will Run for Senate Against Norris

LINCOLN (Neb.) Sept. 21. (AP)—A three-cornered contest loomed in Nebraska today for the election of a United States Senator.

Mrs. Beatrice Fenton Craig, Lincoln school-teacher who withdrew as an original opponent of Senator Norris, filed as an independent Republican.

She announced her decision to enter the race when the Republican State convention recently made a blanket indorsement of the party candidates including Senator Norris.

The contest will be decided between Senator Norris, former Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, Democratic nominee, and Mrs. Craig.

TRIO SEIZED FOR INVADING FARM IN POT-O-GOLD HUNT

SHELBYVILLE (Ind.) Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—When three Indianapolis men appeared for the third time in six days hunting for a pot of gold on the farm of Mrs. William Ensley near here, they were arrested today and remain in City Jail pending decision of authorities as to what to do with them.

Last Sunday the three men, C. W. Bronson, his son, Warren Bronson, and William Wright, went to the Ensley farm and started digging. They explained they had been told by a spiritualist medium that a huge pot of gold was buried on the farm. Mr. Ensley, seriously ill, died Thursday. Friday the men again appeared and when the widow alarmed the countryside a posse chased them away. But they came back again today and the arrests followed.

CLERGYMEN SCORE NEW SEX STAND

(Copyright, 1930, by New York Times)

LONDON, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—An open letter of protest signed by eleven clergymen regarding the Church of England's attitude to birth control has been addressed to the Bishop of Monmouth as president of the next church congress to be held at Newport.

The letter asserts the report of Bishops seemed to give countenance to methods of birth control hitherto repudiated by the church and the signers urge an opportunity of repudiating this at the coming Newport convention.

"There are no doubt thousands of others who feel within ourselves," the letter sets forth. "If we alone are taking this step today it is because the interval between now and the meeting of the congress is short and because the conference at which this letter was drawn up afforded an opportunity which Your Lordship's own letter seems to suggest of saying out respectfully but plainly what we know is passing in so many minds and because, unless protests of this kind are forthcoming, we are confident many will feel constrained as a matter of duty to withdraw from the Anglican communion."

NEW TARIFF FOR CANADA UNRATIFIED

Rest of Changes, Already in Effect, will Get House Attention This Morning

OTTAWA (Ont.) Sept. 21. (AP)—The House of Commons adjourned at midnight without having ratified the increased tariff schedule. It will reconvene at 11 a.m. tomorrow to consider the remainder of the 130 tariff changes which came into effect throughout Canada last Wednesday.

Premier Bennett, replying to a question by Mackenzie King, opposition leader, assured the House that before the next session, protests against the increases in customs may be submitted.

The new duties became effective immediately following the new tariff announcement, but should they fail to pass the House, importers would be reimbursed. The various items will be reviewed later by the Senate, but it is an unwritten law that the Senate never changes a taxation measure.

Virginia Bank Doors Go Shut

HARRISONBURG (Va.) Sept. 21. (AP)—The Bank of Dayton, in a Rockingham county town four miles south of here, was closed today by the State Department of Insurance and Banking when examiners reported a discrepancy of $36,900 in accounts.

Miss Elizabeth Coffman, 45 years of age, assistant cashier and bookkeeper, admitted the defalcation, officials said.

The closing of the bank at this time is expected to work a particular hardship on farmer depositors, who were planning to purchase their winter supplies of feed.

NOMINEE IN UTAH WON'T ACCEPT POST

OGDEN (Utah) Sept. 21. (AP)—Frank Francis, former Mayor of Ogden, who was nominated as Democratic candidate for Representative from the First District at the party's convention at Salt Lake City yesterday, said tonight he will inform party leaders he cannot accept the nomination. Mr. Francis said when he left the Mayor's office here last January 1 he announced he was out of the political picture for good. He has resumed his duties in the editorial department of a newspaper here. He added that the action was taken without his consent or knowledge.

CHICAGO LIQUOR SUIT LOST BY GOVERNMENT

CHICAGO, Sept. 21. (AP)—Some $100,000 worth of Bibley warehouse whisky became the undisputed property of a group of whisky brokers and private individuals when the prohibition bureau lost its suit to have the liquor destroyed.

The government charged the liquor had been diluted with water and started libel proceedings to destroy it as unfit. Presiding Judge Alschuler of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals decided, however, the liquor was potable and should be returned to the custody of its owners.

DEER SEASON GETS ONE MORE VICTIM

RED BLUFF, Sept. 21. (AP)—Another victim of the deer season in Tehama county, M. Neal Conley, 50 years of age, veteran guide, was taken to a hospital here last night with a bullet in his right hip. He was shot when his gun fell from the rear seat of an automobile near Mineral and discharged.

PARSONS (Kan.) Sept. 21. (AP)—Douglas Dewitt, arrested in a hotel room here today, confessed, police said, he was one of five men who last Thursday robbed the bank of Hay Springs, Neb., of more than $7000.

Jack Graham, Chief of Police, said $1283 in currency and coins was found in Dewitt's quarters.

EX-PRESIDENT OF PERU HEARS CHARGES

LIMA (Peru) Sept. 21. (AP)—Dr. Augusto B. Legula, President of Peru until overthrown by the revolution led by Lieut.-Col. Luis M. The accusations were read to him by Justice Imeres of the National Sanctions Court.

DRY CHIEFTAIN HAS 'OPEN MIND'

Nicholson Takes Surprising Stand on Candidates

Not Necessarily Insistent on Men of Arid Views

Expression Limited to His Personal Attitude

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (Exclusive) Dr. S. E. Nicholson, associate superintendent of the New York Anti-Saloon League, considered by many the most influential member of the league in the matter of shaping campaign policies, today declared that he personally does not necessarily favor an independent dry candidate, even in the event that the Republican convention goes officially wet and nominates a wet candidate.

Dr. Nicholson further said that, again speaking personally, if the Republican convention goes on record for obedience of the Eighteenth Amendment and does not advocate its repeal, he will be willing to vote for a Republican candidate for Governor who respects that platform, even though that candidate might personally have come out for repeal.

And, of almost equal significance, Dr. Nicholson denied reports that he or the Anti-Saloon League have come to any agreement, either with the wets or the Republican leaders. He stated that he has "an open mind" on the entire situation, and added, incidentally, that not all of the drys will agree with him.

Child-education functions of the Federal Board for Vocational Education, and independent governmental agency.

The Bureau of Home Economics of the Department of Agriculture.

Besides these specific transfers, the bill would empower the President at any time to add or transfer other governmental child-care functions.

WORK HAMPERED

"I believe my bill to create a department of home and child, the result of two years' study, to be in line with the President's plan to reorganize and simplify governmental departments," commented Mrs. Owen.

"At present, the child has been dismembered and scattered amongst Interior, Labor, Treasury, Justice and Agriculture departments, involving almost a dozen different boards and bureaus.

"The splendid work which is now being accomplished by the various widely scattered groups is thus hampered and unrecognised."

Mrs. Owen spoke of the effort of educators to obtain a Department of Education and the struggle of women's organizations to obtain re-enactment of the Sheppard-Towner Maternity and Infancy Act as "two important problems which would be taken care of, in a larger fashion, through my bill."

She said she had thoroughly tested out the legislative soundness of its provisions by consulting experts, and that she had talked its clauses over with leading educators and child welfare workers and feels certain of their support.

MERMAID BORN IN MONTERREY

Unusual Infant, Lifeless at Birth, to be Studied

MONTERREY (Mexico) Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—What is believed to be the world's first "mermaid" was born in Monterrey recently, but without life.

Dr. Julian Garza Tijerina, secretary of the public health department, took the case in hand when he was called by a frightened midwife. Medical study will be made, and then the body will be buried.

The upper part of the body was in the form of a human, and the lower half in the form of a fish, tapering to a point like a finger.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROF. R. GUERRERO
Encargado de la Sección Española de Este Diario

Respecto al uso adverbial de "nada", nos hace ver el señor Cuervo en sus Apuntaciones Criticas que en muchas partes se emplea esa particula negativa, despojada de su valor de "ninguna cosa", meramente para dar énfasis a la negación.

Cuando decimos que alguno "no come nada", hace notar el sabio filólogo, "nada" significa "ninguna cosa", y no hay reparo alguno que hacer. Imitando aquella frase, en tal cual parte se valen de "nada" para reforzar la negación, despojándolo de su valor sustantivo; v. gr.: "él no viene nada". Es sabido que "nada" significa "(cosa) nacida", y que le vino su fuerza negativa de emplearse en frases de esta clase. Es común que la palabra que significa "ninguna cosa" se emplee como adverbio negativo enfático: dígalo el latin "nihil", y aun "non"; primitivamente "nenum", "noenum"; esto es, "ne oinon" ("unum").

En el ejemplo "él no viene nada", que cita el señor Cuervo, así como en los análogos, "Pedro no sale nada"; "Juan no se presentó nada", etc., disuena un poco la construcción con "nada", si bien, como lo hace observar ese sabio, es común usar así ese negativo. A mí me sonaría mejor posponiéndolo a la preposición "para" y usándolo como sustantivo término de ella: "él no viene para nada", "Pedro no sale para nada", etc. Con todo, son frases muy comunes, y entiendo que sancionadas por el buen uso, las siguientes, en que "nada" es adverbio y modifica a los verbos anteriormente citados: "He esperado aquí dos horas, y nada que viene Pedro"; "Ya son las diez, y nada que se presenta el juez"; "Ya es la hora de partida, y nada que sale el tren".

Sobre la voz "nada" nos dice lo siguiente don Rafael Angel de la Peña en su excelente Gramática de la Lengua Castellana: "Nada" se deriva del participio latino "nata" (nacida). Esto explica que antiguamente no fuera término negativo, y si lo fuese su compuesto "nonada", como se advierte en este ejemplo citado por Bello: "De nonada hizo Dios al mundo". Actualmente "nonada" significa "poco, muy poco".

Usase también como sustantivo femenino; v. gr., "Dios hizo el mundo de la nada". Finalmente, juntándose a otras palabras, forma locuciones adverbiales; v. gr., "en nada", esto es, "en muy poco"; "en nada estuvo que riñésemos". "Nada menos", "nada menos que eso". Este último modo adverbial encarece la negación.

De su primitiva significación positiva proviene el que "nada" se use en muchos casos en que no envuelve la frase negación, como lo prueba este ejemplo del señor Bello: "¿Piensa usted que ese hombre sirva para nada?", esto es, para alguna cosa. De aquí también, dice Bello, el emplearse con otras palabras negativas sin destruir la negación: "Ese hombre no sirve para nada"; es decir, para cosa alguna. Y si tiene por sí solo el sentido negativo precediendo al verbo, no vemos en esto sino lo mismo que sucede con otras expresiones indudablemente positivas; así, "en mi vida le he visto" es lo mismo que "no le he visto en mi vida". De suerte que "nada" no llegó a revestirse de la significación negativa sino por un efecto de la frecuencia con que se le empleaba en proposiciones negativas, donde la negación no era significada por esta palabra, sino por otras a que estaba asociada. La misma suerte ha corrido "nadie", antiguamente "nadi", que provino de "nado" nacido, existente, como "otri" de "otro".

Sobre el uso de "nada" y "nadie" como negativos, nos dice lo siguiente el señor Bello: Una particularidad del castellano es el subentenderse el "no" cuando precede al verbo alguna de las palabras o frases de que nos servimos para corroborar la negación: "No se le pudo encontrar en parte alguna", "En parte alguna se le pudo encontrar"; "No se ha visto una criatura más perversa en el mundo", "En el mundo se ha visto una criatura más perversa"; "El que más se admiró fue Sancho, por parecerle (como así era verdad) que en todos los días de su vida había visto tan hermosa criatura"; "Amadís fue a ver el encantamiento de Urganda, y por cosa del mundo dejará él de probar tal aventura, sino que había prometido que hasta dar fin a aquel fecho (el combate con Lisuarte) no se pornia en acometer otra cosa" (Amadís de Grecia). De lo cual ha resultado que ciertas palabras originalmente positivas, como "nada", "nadie" (chombre) nacido), "jamás" (ya más), a fuerza de emplearse para hacer más expresiva la negación, llevan envuelto el "no" cuando preceden al verbo, y no admiten, por tanto, que entonces se les junte este adverbio: "No tengo nada"; "Nada tengo"; "No ha venido nadie", "Nadie ha venido"; "No le veré jamás", "Jamás le veré". Y como las hemos revestido de la significación negativa que al principio no tuvieron, se ha extendido por analogía la misma práctica aun a las palabras que han sido siempre negativas, como "ninguno", "nunca"; y se ha hecho una regla general de nuestra sintaxis que dos negaciones no afirman, colocada la una antes del verbo, y la otra después: "De las personas que estaban convidadas no ha venido ninguna", o "ninguna ha venido"; "No he dicho nunca tal", "Nunca he dicho tal". Y aun puede suceder que tres o cuatro negaciones equivalen a una sola: "No le vendí jamás en nada"; "No pide nunca nada a nadie".

Clouds Grow Blacker, Says Lloyd George

SUFFOLK (Eng.) Sept. 21. (AP)—David Lloyd George, speaking at a Liberal rally here, said the time had arrived for a bold fresh re-examination of the whole British industrial and economic position.

"There has been nothing comparable to the present position since the darkest hours of the war," he said. "Unemployment is growing, not by battalions, but by divisions, week by week and I cannot see the end of it. We are not passing through, but passing into a crisis."

Great Britain not only is confronted with a grave situation at home, but in India, Africa and throughout the empire, said the Liberal leader.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 21. (AP)—The Mexican Supreme Court has denied an injunction to the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada against orders revoking the company's privilege to operate in Mexico last January.

The revocation order was issued by the Department of Industry, Commerce and Labor and was caused by the company's asserted failure to conform with the department's orders to invest reserves on hand in Mexico in Mexican bonds.

WAR LORD MOVE PUZZLES CHINA

Nationalists Uncertain How to Regard Manchurian

Civilians Hold Him as Ally, Militarists as Foe

President Chiang Kai-shek Hails Marshal's Aid

SHANGHAI, Sept. 21. (AP)—Conflicting reports on the intervention of Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang, Manchurian war lord, in the war between the Nationalist forces headed by President Chiang Kai-shek and the Northern Alliance rebels came from Nanking tonight.

One report says Nanking views Chang's intervention with enthusiastic approval, while other said military chieftains of the Nationalist government were watching the Manchurian dictator's actions with deep suspicion, interpreting them as a thinly veiled program aimed to preserve the military integrity of the northern rebels at a time when Chiang Kai-shek was capable of driving them to permanent oblivion.

ON WHICH SIDE?

That Nanking is perplexed as to what attitude to assume toward Chang Hsueh-liang's unexplained actions is indicated when the Nationalist official news agency Kuo-min states Sun Fo, the Minister of Railways, in behalf of the Nationalist government, has telegraphed Chang Hsueh-liang, extolling young Chang upon his loyalty to the central government, saying: "Your decision to assist the central government causes deep rejoicing in Nanking. You have become the bulwark of the party and state."

The Nationalist government military headquarters announced the receipt of a telegram from President Chiang Kai-shek stating the generalissimo welcomes Chang Hsueh-liang's action in bringing his Manchurian troops against the rebelling Kuominchun.

Chiang was reported to interpret the move as a death blow to the northern rebellion and predicted an early complete suppression of the rebels.

SURRENDER DEMANDED

The generalissimo stated Chang Hsueh-liang's peace overtures directed toward Feng Yu-hsiang and Yen Hsi-shan, leaders of the Kuominchun, constitute a demand the rebel leaders surrender and await the nationalist government's instructions. However, Chiang Kai-shek stated, the Manchurian war lord, in nowise desired the Nationalist government to suspend the anti-Kuominchun military operations it is conducting in Honan Province.

Nanking civilian official circles professedly anticipate a speedy peace, while the militarists declare the Nationalist anti-Kuominchun drive will continue until Feng Yu-hsiang is exterminated.

New Yorker Offers Way to Wipe Out Postal Deficit; Opposes Rate Increase

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—The sale of space on postage stamps to private interests for advertising purposes was suggested today by Representative Celler, Democrat, New York, as a possible means of eliminating the postal deficit without raising the postage rates on first-class mail.

Expressing opposition to Postmaster-General Brown's proposal for a rate increase of half a cent an ounce on sealed letters, the New Yorker in a letter to the Postmaster-General said the increase "will not meet with any hearty response in Congress."

He also took issue with Brown's statement that there is no justification for asking the government to transport mail for less than cost, asserting the mail service "can not be weighed in dollars and cents any more than you can similarly weigh the service which the government renders in its Bureau of Mines, in its Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, or the Bureau of Standards.

"Other countries have used the back of stamps for the printing of advertising," he wrote, adding that the United States had often used cancellation stencils for slogans, and had issued stamps directing attention to various expositions.

Commerce Department Book Presents Survey

Industry on Exceptionally High Level in 1929

This Year Said to Compare Well with Others

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Business conditions in the United States during the spring months of 1930 were said today by the Commerce Department to have "compared fairly well with the average for other recent years."

This statement was contained in the Commerce Department year book for 1929, which presented a detailed picture of the nation's economic history for that period when many new high records were established.

"Throughout the greater part of 1929," the report said, "the industry and commerce of the United States were on an exceptionally high level, and notwithstanding a considerable recession in the closing months, nearly all general business indicators showed for the year as a whole, higher figures than ever before attained.

"Some decline in activity from levels so high as those of the spring months was to be expected in any case," it added, "and a slight reduction had already appeared in the early autumn. The break in the stock market at the close of October had a further depressing effect on general business.

"The lowest figures of the recession were reached in December, 1929, and January, 1930, and activity during the last few months has been on a somewhat higher level.

"Although the figures for the spring months of 1930 have been considerably below those of the corresponding period of 1929, they have compared fairly well with the average of other recent years."

The year book said the index of industrial production, the "most comprehensive single measure of economic activity," last year was 18 per cent above the average for 1923-1925, and 6 per cent above the figure for 1928, which had broken all previous records.

. . . Does THRIFT No Longer Sell Itself?

IN A RECENT ISSUE of a banking magazine one of Harvard's distinguished professors declared: "It sometimes requires an economic disaster, like a deflated boom, to bring people back to their senses and convince them that the old principles are still working."

The foundation of prosperity is thrift. We go ahead by using the accumulated savings of many people. The progress of industry has greatly increased the number of things which people think essential to their happiness and comfort. But the widening of desire has not lessened the comfort and satisfaction of owning a reserve, of laying aside from present earnings for future needs, of seeing a competency accumulating by careful saving and wise investment.

So amid all the competition of other things to buy, true thrift still sells itself. Wise, prudent, careful men and women still realize that if they put aside in a savings account a due proportion of what they earn...they spend the balance more wisely because more carefully, and get more for the money they spend.

Carrying on from his triumph in the professional golfers' championship just a week ago, Armour dazzled the field with a sensational total of 276 strokes to clinch his victory. BOSTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—Chicago regained a mathematical chance to win the National League pennant by defeating the Braves, 4 to 2, before a Sunday crowd of 18,000 here today.

"GABBY" HARTNETT

Gabby Hartnett's thirty-fourth home run of the season with Heathcote on base in the first half of the ninth inning broke a 2-to-2 tie and gave the Cubs the game. Previously Chicago had overcome Boston's two-run lead with another two-run rally in the sixth inning. Blair hit a three-bagger off the centerfield bleacher wall in that frame and scored on English's single. Cuyler's double over first base sent English home.

Ben Cantwell scattered the Cubs' eight hits well except for those two innings. He allowed one less safe blow than Malone, who had no weak inning, however, and won his nineteenth game of the year.

Registers Sparkling 69 in Final Practice Round

Famous Atlantan Out to Win Fourth Straight Title

George Voigt Also Shines with Brilliant 68

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

MERION CRICKET CLUB, (Merion, Pa.) Sept. 21. (AP)—As a final display of scoring fireworks preliminary to the United States amateur golf championship, starting here tomorrow, Bobby Jones and one of his foremost rivals, George Voigt, gave a Sabbath gallery of nearly 3000 spectators a dazzling exhibition of par - cracking play this afternoon.

HARRISON JOHNSTON

Voigt, the slim, dark-haired New Yorker who came close to beating Jones in the British amateur tournament a few months ago, came off with the main honors when he sank a twenty-five-foot putt on the eighteenth green for a birdie 3 and a score of 68, 2 under par for the hazardous championship layout.

Jones narrowly missed a putt of the same length and finished with a 69. It was Bobby's best performance in practice and satisfied the gallery, as well as the assembled experts, that the super-star who already has bagged three national crowns this year is in fine condition for his attempt to make a clean sweep and blast all records off the books.

OUT OF BOUNDS

The 6530-yard Merion layout has thirteen opportunities for going out of bounds, with consequent penalty of stroke and distance, as well as six holes where a winding brook furnishes water hazards, but Jones and Voigt made it all look very easy to the gallery following them. Jones was out in 36, even par, and had a good chance to click off the last nine in 32 until his tee shot missed the 215-yard green and cost him a four.

Voigt, although outdriven by seventy-five yards at times by the triple champion, played very steadi-

POP WARNER DECLARES JONES IS FINE FELLOW

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 21. (Exclusive) — Pop Warner of Stanford, dean of American football coaches wishes to condense his various unofficial statements regarding Howard Jones, coach of the U.S.C. Trojans to an official broadcast of 150 words.

POP WARNER

Jones is reported to have been broadcasting uncomplimentary cracks over the radio. And "Pop" has been telling his side of the case. Much has been printed on the subject. Now "Pop" wants it understood that no matter how much he wants his boys to lick the Jones outfit on the football field he and Howard are quite chummy. So he issues the following which augments, supersedes and cancels all other statements attributed to him:

Just to set the matter right here's what "Pop" says—for publication:

"I have never said Howard Jones is a poor sport. Nor have I accused him of coaching his team to evade the rules. I have said that I believe he is using the newspapers and radio in a legitimate psychological attempt to pep his boys up against Stanford.

"I have also said and here repeat that Southern California football teams have not always come to a full second stop after their shift which is specified in the rules. However, I believe this is due rather to leniency on the part of officials and the fact that certain players speed up in the excitement of an important game than coaching by Jones.

"I have the highest personal regard for Howard Jones and greatly respect his ability as a coach. His teams have always played clean football against Stanford."

Chicago Cubs Back Near Top

By the Associated Press

Only the Chicago Cubs were able to take advantage of the idleness of the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals yesterday in the race for the National League pennant. The Cubs, defeating the Boston Braves, 4-2, by virtue of Gabby Hartnett's ninth-inning homer, gained a half-game and took undisputed possession of second place, two and a half games behind the leaders.

Brooklyn's Robins went down to third place as Pittsburgh handed them their fifth straight defeat, 7 to 6. They now are three and a half games behind first place and a game back of the second-place Cubs, an almost hopeless post with only five games left on their schedule.

Standing of the leaders:

St. Louis	87	61	.588
Chicago	85	64	.571	2½

STANFORD WELL FIXED

Jones Returns from North, But Discloses Little About Cardinals; Paid Call by Coach Warner

BY BRAVEN DYER

Stanford has another big football team and there is nothing the matter with Pop Warner's material. The Cards are running from three different formations and as a result offer more of an offensive threat than ever. West Coast Army wasn't much of a football team so as far as last Saturday's game was concerned the Redshirts were not forced to show much.

Such were the observations of Howard Jones and his scouting staff following their return yesterday from Stanford. Not much startling in that. Nobody expected anything hot, however.

HOWARD JONES

Nobody ever accused Jones of being exactly a chatterbox and scouts learn quickly to keep their traps shut. In addition the game figured to be ragged and was, and the Trojan staff didn't expect to get much more than a few basic formations. Even if they did learn anything very newsy, it probably wouldn't be made known, so all of us will have to remain in the dark until October 25, next.

Perhaps the main item of news had to do with Jones and Warner. They seem to be occupying the spotlight right now, anyway. Pop paid a courtesy call on Howard at a Palo Alto hotel. Everything was rosy.

"Pop told me he wasn't questioning my integrity," said Jones yesterday, "and declared that undoubtedly his teams missed a rule or two themselves now and then. Every team does. None of us is perfect. When you get as highly a complicated game as present-day football there are bound to be a few slip-ups. I have no intention of entering into a prolonged argument with Pop."

Jones declared that Stanford's backfield, with Rothert, Hillman, Caglieri, Simkins and Moffatt will be about as hefty as ever, and that I wonder what Bobby Jones is thinking about as the national amateur golf championship draws near. Last spring the odds against his winning all four major championships were incalculable. Now—well, it's the old story—Jones vs. the field, and the field usually finishes second. Bob's scheme was so stupendously ambitious that it almost took your breath away, and now here he is on the very threshold of success, with but the United States amateur championship to win—a

M'CARTHY 'OUT' AS CUB PILOT

Chicago Paper Says Hornsby to Boss Bruins

CHICAGO, Sept. 21. (AP)—A Chicago newspaper, in a copyrighted story today said, win, lose, or draw, Joe McCarthy is "out" as manager of the Chicago Cubs next season.

JOE McCARTHY

The paper said it had learned McCarthy, whose contract expires at the end of this season, Owner William Wrigley, Jr., and President William L. Veeck of the club have "agreed to disagree."

Rogers Hornsby, who came to the Cubs two years ago from the Boston Braves, at a price of $120,000, and five ball players, is favored by both Wrigley and Veeck to manage the team, according to the paper, which does not disclose the source of its purported information.

Wrigley, reached at his Lake Geneva (Wis.) home, would not make a definite statement as to whether McCarthy would or would not be signed, but said the story was "based on imagination."

"We will not discuss anything of that nature until the season is over," Wrigley said. "McCarthy and I are not enemies. We never have talked

Jack Tarrant in Sensational Finish to Win California Open Golf Champion

HOLLYWOOD PROFESSIONAL FIRST WITH SCORE OF 282

Olin Dutra Tosses Away Early Lead to Finish Second at Montebello; Jelliffe Leads Amateurs

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Jack Tarrant of the Hollywood Country Club is California's open golf champion for 1930!

Surprised! Well, so were many other golf fans who went out to Montebello Park yesterday with the expectation of seeing Olin Dutra of Brentwood win another title, and remained instead to watch the gallant, up-hill battle waged by Tarrant end in the most sensational victory of the year.

Five strokes back of Dutra as they teed off together yesterday morning for the final thirty-six holes, Tarrant was only two strokes behind with eighteen holes to go, all even with nine to go, and flashed into the lead on the home stretch to win by two strokes with scores of 72-72-68-70—282.

WILLIS I. HUNTER.

Dutra, the favorite, was second, 73-68-71-74—284; Dick Linares of Tucson, Ariz., finished third, 73-70-70-74, and "Wee Willie" Hunter of Montebello, the defending champion, took fourth, 70-72-76-73—291.

There has been no question of Jack's ability as a golfer ever since he first came to Southern California a few years ago from San Antonio, Tex., as an outstanding amateur. As a professional, however, Tarrant has often challenged for the victor's laurels, but has just missed out. The Hollywood professional is a fine golfer and yesterday's great finish marks him a battler of the first water. He is a fitting successor to "Wee Willie."

NOT ASTONISHING

Members of the Hollywood club took the news of Tarrant's victory with a knowing smile.

"That's not so astonishing," said Ernie Noon, well-known Hollywood lawyer-golfer, when he called in for the result last night. "Jack has been knocking the pins down out at Hollywood, and we rather figured he would win."

As was pointed out yesterday, the story of a championship often rests with the third round. It surely did yesterday when Tarrant clicked off a 34-34-68, four strokes under par, and picked up three strokes on Dutra, who turned in a 71.

The turning-point for Tarrant came on the 535-yard third hole in the afternoon round when he crashed two long woods down the heart of the fairway and then banged in his putt for an eagle 3. Dutra was down in 5 and they were even. From there on both Tarrant and Dutra were even par, but Jack held his lead with a 34 against a 36.

From the tenth hole in, it was a tremendous battle. Dutra faded slightly under the pressure, while Jack took advantage of every break. Olin put a ball out of bounds on ten and Tarrant went into the lead for the first time. On the thirteenth hole, both were ten feet from the pin. It was a question as to who should shoot first. Dutra being called upon to make the initial try. His putt slid by the hole by a hair's breadth and Tarrant holed his to take a two-stroke advantage.

GREAT FINISH

Jack held his lead to the eighteenth green and the final hole had the gallery hanging by the heels. Tarrant's second shot was in a trap and his third just barely got out. Dutra was just off the green but played the most miserable shot of the tournament, a weak approach that barely got on the green. Jack's fourth left him a long putt which he holed out after Dutra missed.

The tournament was one of the finest held in the Southland this year from all angles. Credit goes to Hunter, who revived the tournament, and Jack Ransom for his backing and the use of Montebello.

Bill Jelliffe of Girard was low amateur, finishing a stroke back of Hunter with 292. Low gross for thirty-six holes went to H. B. Gurley, 144, and F. M. Warren was low net for the same distance, 150-14—136.

A special trophy offered by Hall B. Smith for the low public course golfer went to Barney Lucas.

Tarrant won $350 for his efforts, Dutra drew down $200, Linares received $135, and Hunter $100.

Following are the final results:

Mercury Champion Defends Crown This Week

Bill Conner, defending Los Angeles Athletic Club golf champion, missed tying for the 1930 medal by a stroke yesterday at the Riviera Country Club when he registered a 76. OPEN GOLF EVENT WON BY ARMOUR third-place money with par-breaking 281 totals.

Tommy Captures St. Louis $10,000 Play, "The Haig" Cops Second Money

On only one round of his four eighteen-hole jaunts over the championship course did Armour fail to break par. That came on his final round, when with shots to spare, he leafed around with a par 72. His other rounds were all in the sixties, 67-68-69. Armour trailed only at the end of the first round when Ralph Guldahl, 18-year-old Dallas professional, startled the big field with a 66. But he swept into the lead at the end of thirty-six holes, with a 135 total and held his margin to the finish.

All told, Armour, who won prize money of $2500, was twelve strokes under 4's. He collected eighteen birdies and one eagle and slipped one stroke over par on but eight of the seventy-two holes. His finish was somewhat dramatic. Coming up to the final tee, he was informed he needed a par 4 to win. He slapped his tee shot 250 yards, sailed his second to within ten feet of the pin and calmly sank it for a birdie 3. It was a typical Armour finish.

Hagen came close to catching Armour today, but the margin of two strokes was greater than it looked. The "Haig," fighting to win at least one title during this barren year, had rounds of 69-68-70 and 71. He trailed two strokes at the halfway mark, lost another at fifty-four holes, and then gained it back to finish two shots behind the high-flying Armour. His rounds were far more erratic than Armour's, however. He had twenty-one birdies, but went over par on eleven holes because of timid approaches for the most part.

So wholeheartedly did the field chase "old man par" during the tournament that a score of cards better than 70 were turned in, while the 71's and par 72's were so numerous they did not even attract attention. The course was comparatively easy, but not as big a setup as the wholesale variety of low totals indicated. Four players shot 66's, or 6 under par.

Sixth among the low scorers came "Lighthorse Harry" Cooper of Chicago, who finished with a great 67 for a 282 score. Trailing him were Gene Sarazen of New York, western open champion, with a 283, and Guldahl, who proved his first round wasn't exactly a fluke by finishing with a 284.

The low scores and their prize winnings follow:

Tommy Armour, Detroit, 67, 68, 69, 72, 276, $2500.
Walter Hagen, Detroit, 69, 68, 70, 71, 278, $1000.

Richards and Kinsey Earn Tennis Title

FOREST HILLS (N. Y.) Sept. 21. (AP)—Vincent Richards of New York and Howard C. Kinsey of San Francisco, won the American professional lawn tennis doubles championship today, defeating Karel Koseluh of Czecho-Slovakia, and Roman Najuch of Germany, 6-2, 15-13, 7-5, in the final round.

As was the case in the singles finals yesterday, it was Richards's magnificent volleying that turned the tide of victory toward the American pair. Richards, who beat Koseluh in four sets for the singles title, played brilliantly today and had able assistance from Kinsey. The long-drawn-out second set which Richards and Kinsey finally pulled out, produced some of the finest tennis of the tournament.

The doubles last year was won by Richards and Komelub, but the championship team was split up this time.

Von Elm to Give Up Golf

ARDMORE (Pa.) Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—George Von Elm, conqueror of Bobby Jones in the final round of the national amateur championship at the Baltusrol Golf Club in 1926, announced today that this would be his last championship. He declared he was not going to turn professional but that he would retire from all championship golf in the future.

He said he would announce his business plans later on. Von Elm has been one of the country's leading amateurs for several years, runner-up to Jones here in 1924, a fine performer in the national open and a member of several Walker Cup teams.

Suds Capture Two Contests

SEATTLE, Sept. 21. (AP)—The Seattle Indians took a double-header from the Portland Ducks here today, winning the first game, 9 to 3, and the second, 5 to 4. The double victory today gave the Indians five games of the seven-game series.

The Indians had no trouble in turning back the Ducks in the first encounter, but the second contest was forced one inning beyond the agreed time when Seattle scored two runs to tie the score at 4-all in the seventh. The Indians held Portland scoreless in the first half of the eighth and put over the deciding run in their half of the frame. The scores:

STANFORD IS WELL FIXED

Pop's new C formation gives him an opportunity for more pass plays. Doub, new end, looked good, according to the Trojan staff. Cliff Herd, Gordon Campbell and Sam Barry accompanied Jones north.

The Trojan mentor plans to cut his varsity squad practically in half today. Those who fall by the wayside will become Spartans and get their exercise by combatting the varsity in scrimmage.

Jones said yesterday he plans to have Francis Tappaan spend considerable time this week with Jim Stewart. "Tap" will tell Jim all he knows about end play, which is plenty.

"Stewart can be a good football player if he wants to," was the way Jones put it. Jim is inclined to take things rather easy. It is therefore, just up to Jim whether he makes good or not.

Every major team on the Coast goes into action this week-end. The outstanding game is likely to be that featuring Santa Clara against California. Stanford goes against the Olympic Club.

Oregon State showed a lot of possibilities in beating Willamette, 48 to 0. Paul Schissler has a lot of material. The Orangemen play Gonzaga this week, and that one ought to be tough.

Oregon University, which won from Pacific, 20 to 0, takes on Willamette. Washington plays Whitman and Washington

ANGELS WHITEWASH REDS

tion of too much Baecht, the Reds having their only chance to score spoiled by a sensational diving catch made by Wes Schulmerich. The play took place in the second inning with a man on second and two out. Hofmann hit a liner to right that looked labeled for two bases until Schulmerich dived and slipped his big paw between the ball and the lawn for a catch that would have done credit to Tris Speaker himself.

George Caster, recently returned from the Globe (Ariz.) League club, started the first game on the mound for the Missions, but between Angel base hits and his mates' errors fared badly. The Seraphs took the lead in the second inning with two runs, added two more in the fourth, another in the sixth and three in the seventh, after which Caster retired in favor of Lefty Johnson.

Dutch Lieber, the knuckleballer from Alameda, was the hurling loser to Yerkes in the nightcap. Lieber got off to a bad start in the first inning, when George Harper hit a home run with one on and had the game beyond recall in the fourth, when six more Angels galloped over the plate. Lefty Darrough pitched the sixth against the Seraphs and Fred Haney touched him for a home run to complete the day's scoring.

The outfielders provided the fielding features yesterday, Harper picking Wright's long foul right off the left-field box seats and Berger making a leaping tuna catch that robbed Jacobs of a hit.

Haney and Jigger Statz had a big day at the plate. Jigger got two hits in the opener and four for four in the finale, while Haney banged out three for three in the first game and two for four in the nightcap.

Sigafoos's single and Harper's homer over the right-field screen put the Angels off to a two-run lead in the first inning of the second clash.

The Angels sewed it up with six more runs in the fourth. Statz's single, a walk to Dittmar, Skiff's hit, Yerkes's double, a hit batsman, Haney's single, Wright's wild throw on Schulmerich's grounder, Jacobs's hit and Statz's second single of the round doing the damage.

Singles by Hafey, Brenzel and Ted Pillette filled the bases with Reds in the fifth but only one run scored when Mulligan hit into a double-play.

With Darrough hurling in the sixth Haney poked one over the left-field barrier to account for the last Angel tally of the afternoon.

The Angels started scoring in the second frame of the opener, bunching three hits with a walk for a pair of tallies. Jacobs led off with a single past Mulligan and took third on Statz's single to center which got by Kelly to permit Jigger to reach second. Dittmar walked, filling the bases. Jacobs scored as Wright threw out Warren and then Baecht's single tallied Statz. Sigafoos hit into a double play.

A walk to Warren and another double by Sigafoos produced a fifth Angel counter in the sixth.

The final three Angel runs arrived in the seventh on two hits, a walk and Hofmann's wide throw to first on Jacobs's bunt. Haney's second double of the game opened the inning and then Schulmerich walked. Jacobs sacrificed and went to third and Haney and Schulmerich tallied when Hofmann heaved the ball past Burns into right field. Statz's double down the left-field line brought Jake home with the last score of the game. Score:

TIGERS WIN

DETROIT, Sept. 21. (AP)—An error which followed a double-steal gave Detroit a 4-to-3 victory in ten innings over Washington after a close pitchers' battle between Earl Whitehill and Irving Hadley in the last game of the season between the two clubs, here today.

Hadley and Whitehill each allowed seven hits, including one two-bagger, each issued six bases on balls and struck out five. Hadley was given better support until the last inning, the Senators turning in a triple play in which Judge, Hayes, Cronin and Hadley handled the ball.

Johnson doubled in the tenth with one out, and Gehringer walked. They worked a double steal and Johnson scored the winning run after Spencer overthrew third. Score:

YANKS LOSE

CHICAGO, Sept. 21. (AP)—The White Sox made their final home appearance of the season today with a rousing 17-to-15 victory over the New York Yankees, giving them a two-to-one edge in their final series.

Donie Bush's youngsters slammed Gibson, Wells, McEvoy and Herb Pennock for eighteen hits, while Pat Caraway held the Yanks to three in six innings. Red Faber finished and was hit hard by the Yankees, but it was too late for them to overcome the early Sox lead. New York committed five fielding errors. Score:

RED SOX BEST

CLEVELAND (O.) Sept. 21. (AP)—The Boston Red Sox broke loose to score five runs in the tenth inning today to make it two out of three in the series against Cleveland, 9 to 4.

The veteran, Jack Russell, held the Indians to ten hits, one of them Averill's nineteenth home run of the season, while Hudlin and Ferrel were found for fifteen. Ferrell, who leads the major league right-handers with twenty-five victories, was charged with his thirteenth defeat, after he scored the tying run for himself in the ninth. A walk, four hits and an error, gave Boston its five runs in the tenth.

Mexico Squad Splits Even

Playing their first games on American soil, the Fabrieles baseball nine of Mexico, which this year went through an undefeated season against the best nines in the southern republic, yesterday split a double-header with the Mexico-El Paso team. The games, which were held in the White Sox Park, saw more than 8000 fans rooting for the visiting players.

The Fabrieles team took the opening game, 5-4, and lost the second by an 8-5 score. The first game was the better of the two, the Mexico-El Paso team putting up a stiff fight in the final stanza that nearly gave it a victory. A rally in the fifth inning that netted seven runs, decided the issue for the Mexico-El Paso team in the second encounter. The third game of the seven-game series is slated for this evening at Wrigley Field.

NURMI SETS NEW GERMAN RECORD

BERLIN, Sept. 21. (AP)—Paavo Nurmi, the flying Finn, easily won the 5000-meter run at the "Nurmi fest" given today by the Charlottenburg Athletic Club. Nurmi ran the distance in 14m. 58s., establishing a new German record but far behind his own world's record of 14m. 28.2s. Petri of Germany was second in 15m. 21.8s. Jules Ladoumege of France defeated Otto Peltzer of Germany in the 1500-meter run in 3m. 53.7s. Jaervinen of Finland established a new German record for the javelin throw with a toss of 66.88 meters (219 feet, 5 inches.)

ROVER POLOISTS RIDE TO WIN AT UPLIFTERS'

Returning to the game following a lay-off due to an injury suffered several weeks ago, Snowy Baker, Australian athlete, led the Rover poloists to an 8-to-5 victory over the Buccaneers yesterday at the Uplifters' field. Snowy showed little or no effect from his recent fall riding hard from the opening throw-in. The Australian even had another tumble from his mount during the game. He lit on his feet, however, and came up uninjured continuing the play without the loss of more than a few seconds.

Dr. Harry Wilson led the attack of the losing team, scoring three goals with his trusty mallet. Winslow Felix scored the other two. Baker was high-point man for the winners with three tallies. Charles Crawford scored twice, Dick Smith the same number of times and Dr. Rex Duncan once. Line-ups:

CARDOZA TO MEET LAMON

The best main event the Ocean Park Club has staged in weeks is scheduled for Wednesday night, when Joe Cardoza meets Romeo La Mon in a ten-round bout. Cardoza has boxed the Coast's best welterweights. LaMon made a great knockout record at the smaller clubs. His only setback was at the hands of Benny Miller at Hollywood. The two welters appear very evenly matched.

SHARKEY AND CAMPOLO TO MIX UP THURSDAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (AP)—The Metropolitan District's closing outdoor fistic extravaganza of the season, pits Jack Sharkey, Boston sailor man, against Victorio Campolo, giant Argentine heavyweight, in a fifteen-round bout at the Yankee Stadium Thursday night.

Few experts have been able to discover just what is at stake and perhaps that is all for the best. Some of Sharkey's poorest fights have been turned in just when a spectacular victory would have meant most to him. On other occasions, when there was nothing in particular to worry about, the Boston sailor has performed like a world-beater.

Despite his many disappointing showings, Sharkey has established a 2-to-1 favorite over Campolo, who has shown little in the way of first-class boxing skill or punching power since he has been in this country.

Other boxing centers have little to offer this week, a heavyweight tilt between Al Friedman and Jack Gagnon, rival Boston heavyweights, at the Boston Arena Thursday night, being about the best attraction.

The week's schedule:

Monday—At Portland, Or.: Andy Divine, New York, vs. Eddie Murphy, Tulsa, welterweights, ten rounds. At Wichita, Kan.: Babe Hunt, Ponca City, Okla., vs. Agnus Snyder, Dodge City, Kan., heavyweights, ten rounds. At Louisville: Milo Olivo, O'Dowd, Columbus, O., vs. Cecil Payne, Louisville, featherweights, ten rounds. Bill Thomas, Louisville, vs. Speedy Reynolds, Cincinnati, eight rounds. At Indianapolis: Black Bill, Cuba, vs. Happy Atherton, Indianapolis, heavyweights, ten rounds.

Tuesday—At Indianapolis: Roy (Tiger) Williams, Chicago, vs. Jack Bishop, Kansas, middleweights, ten rounds. At Seattle: Santiago Zorilla vs. Jack Portugal, lightweights, ten rounds. At Denver: George Manley, Denver, vs. Owen Phelps, Phoenix, Ariz., light-heavyweights, ten rounds.

Wednesday—At New York: Quentin Reading, Hell's Kitchen, New York, vs. Marty Fox, New York, heavyweights, eight rounds. At Long Island City: Jackie Rocco, Bronx, vs. Jack Roberts, Fremont, O., welterweights, ten rounds. At Coney Island: Goldberg, Brooklyn, middleweights, eight rounds.

Thursday—At Chicago, Coliseum: Sammy Mandell, Rockford, Ill., vs. Tommy Grogan, Chicago, welterweights, eight rounds. At Hollywood: Al Morro, Burbank, Cal., vs. Mario Bolzon, Los Angeles, ten rounds. At Kansas City: Mickey Cohen, Denver, vs. Tommy Grogan, Omaha, lightweights, ten rounds.

It's AS EASY and natural to enjoy the fragrant mildness of a Camel Cigarette as it is to admire beauty when you see it.

Camels are made, and always have been made, for discriminating smokers—the people whose keen judgment unerringly selects the best. But that doesn't mean you have to be an expert to enjoy Camels! The delicate, mellow fragrance of those choice sun-ripened tobaccos is something that anybody can appreciate. Camels are naturally smooth and mild—never parched nor insipid.

Why is there such a swing to Camels? Because more and more smokers are learning the difference between true mildness and mere flatness. Give yourself the luxury of a cigarette that's always pleasant smoking.

QUEST FOR GOLD REVIVING

California, Nevada and Arizona Fields Held Recovering from Post-War Slump

Gold mining again claims paramount interest in the far-flung mineral regions of California, Nevada and Arizona. Brought into the slough of depression for a decade after the World War by high cost of labor, machinery and supplies, the industry has again become the principal reliance of the mineral West as a result of lower operating costs, more efficient mining and milling methods, and the world-hunger for the yellow metal.

The use of flotation in extraction of gold from refractory ore has played a stellar role in rejuvenation of many old producers, and facilitated recovery of profitable values from immense dumps and deposits of mill tailings formerly classed as waste. Use of mechanical excavators underground, large-scale operations and more scientific prospecting and development are enabling modern operators to profitably work auriferous deposits formerly considered practically worthless.

The present demand is chiefly for large deposits of milling ore, rather than small, rich veins—deposits sufficiently extensive to encourage the erection of large reduction plants, with an assurance of return of the original investment plus a satisfactory profit. The tendency is toward reduction of risk to a minimum, and the placement of gold mining on an industrial basis. This is largely brought about by working of extensive medium-grade ore bodies of sufficient magnitude to assure years of profitable production.

STABILITY IMPRESSES

The attraction of gold mining has been forcibly impressed on the prospector and operator of the West by the world-wide depression in silver, copper, lead, tungsten and other metals. The price of gold never fluctuates, and the finder of the yellow metal is always sure of a market. These facts have filled the hills and gulches of the mineral counties of California, Arizona and Nevada with prospectors for gold, of whom many have become disgusted with the uncertain status of other metals.

The great Mother Lode region of California, embracing Amador, Calaveras, El Dorado, Tuolumne and Mariposa counties, has been the premier producer of quartz gold in North America for more than sixty years. The rich gold fields of Nevada, Sierra and other adjacent counties are commonly regarded as extensions of the Mother Lode. Many of the historic mines of this area, including the Empire and North Star at Grass Valley, the Argonaut, Kennedy, Central Eureka and smaller properties in Amador county, and several small producers in Calaveras, Mariposa, Sierra, Plumas and Mariposa counties, have been consistent yielders of the yellow metal since the time of their discovery.

In the Jackson district of Amador county the Argonaut and Kennedy companies are mining profitable ore at depth exceeding 4500 vertical feet, working the deepest gold mines in North America. Activities of these corporations indicate that the gold-bearing veins on the Mother Lode may persist as deep as they can be profitably worked. Similar conditions prevail in the Grass Valley area of Nevada county, and at other points along the western slopes of the Sierra Nevada range.

A striking feature of the recent revival in California gold mining has been the renewed interest in the deep placers near the Sacramento River, particularly in Butte county. More than twenty companies are now at work in the Magalia and adjacent districts of this county, developing extensions of the Magalia, Manzanita and other prehistoric river channels. The Gem, Din-Butte, Princess, Kelly Hill, Cory and many other properties are being vigorously operated, with several companies reporting rich material. These channels produced many million in gold in the days of the Argonauts, with only the easily worked surface deposits mined.

CASE TYPICAL

Typical of the new interest in California gold mining was the recent acquisition of the immense holdings of the old Carson Hill Gold Mines, Inc., in the Melones district of Calaveras county, by Carson Hill, Limited. The properties embrace more than 1000 acres of mineral ground, credited with a production exceeding $61,000,000. At Bodie the old Southern Consolidated, Standard and other once-famous producers are being rejuvenated by the Treadwell-Yukon Company. Scores of new and old mines are being operated from Siskiyou to San Bernardino as a direct result of renewed interest in gold production.

The principal events of recent months in Nevada have been the development of the highly promising Gold Hill and McCoy districts, commencement of production by the Seven Troughs Gold Mines and Gold Hill Development companies, rich strikes in the Jarbidge field by the Elkora Mines, and launching of deep-mining projects at Goldfield. In Nevada the collapse of the silver and copper markets has turned the attention of leading operators and prospectors to the gold possibilities of the State on a substantial scale for the first time since the World War.

Near Goldfield the Pittsburgh-Goldfield Company has started sinking a three-compartment shaft to a vertical depth of 2000 feet, and the Goldfield Deep Mines Company is preparing to send its shaft to 2750 vertical feet. The old gold camp of Searchlight is attracting new interest, and production has been resumed by companies at Bullfrog, Cherry Creek, Silver City and in other noted districts. Several new and promising strikes have lately been reported from widely separated sections of the State, but their merits remain to be demonstrated by development work.

Los Angeles capital is playing a dominant role in the revival of gold mining throughout Nevada and Northern California. A majority of the new corporations are controlled by capitalists from the Angel city, and such new Nevada fields as Gold Hill and McCoy are dominated by Los Angeles interests.

GOLDFIELD DEEP MAKES STOCK LEVY

Company Seeks Fund to Deepen Shaft in Effort to Get Paying Ore

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—The Goldfield Deep Mines Company has advised stockholders that the main shaft will be sunk to a depth of 2750 vertical feet in a final effort to develop commercial ore. The shaft has a present depth of 2150 feet, but attempts to develop commercial ore at this point have failed. Stockholders are informed that six 1-cent assessments will be levied to complete the new development program, with assessments to be called at six-months' intervals.

The Gold Gulch Mining & Milling Company is running its new mill on gold ore from properties in the Marietta district, near Mina, and reports satisfactory earnings. This company, formerly known as the London Silver-Lead Company, owns large silver-lead properties near Mina, but has closed these mines until such time as better metal prices justify production. The corporation is controlled by Los Angeles residents.

Officials of the Consolidated Coppermines Corporation have denied widespread rumors that the company was preparing to close its mines at Kimberly, in the Ely copper field. The management states a normal tonnage of ore is being shipped to the Nevada Consolidated concentrator, that thirty men have been added to the mine force, and prospecting of new territory is proceeding from five levels of the deep Emma Nevada shaft. The company is the second largest copper producer in Nevada.

Clark Mountain Mine Reported on Production

Officials of the Colosseum Mines of Los Angeles had word this week from C. H. Gowman, president of the company, that the property has been placed on production and is now in steady operation.

It is a gold property situated on Clark Mountain in San Bernardino county, twenty-six miles east of Baker, and not far from the old Ivanpah silver mines.

The main property of the mine consists of two bodies of gold ore, both of which have been developed by a tunnel nearly 900 feet long, reaching one ore body at 150 feet below the surface and the other at 220 feet.

A shaft has been sunk to a depth of 200 feet below the tunnel, and two cross-cuts run to and across one gold ore body at 100 and 200 feet below the tunnel. Drifts have been carried into the gold ore at each 100-foot level, a distance of more than 100 feet, and several cross-cuts have been made, exposing and blocking out valuable gold ore sixty feet wide by 130 feet long and to a depth of 350 feet, company officials state.

Arizona Mines Tax Value Cut

PHOENIX, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—Under figures released by the State Board of Equalization, assessed valuations of Arizona mining properties show a net drop of $1,700,000, compared with the figures last year.

There is gross valuation of $278,306,761, with reduction of $3,500,000 on producing mine values and increase of $1,800,000 on smelter and other surface properties.

KETTLEMAN OIL FLOOD IMPENDS

Curtailment Plan for Area Believed Menaced

Superior Completion Starts New Drilling Activity

Curtailment Group Working to Avert Disaster

With a potential of 90,000 barrels of oil a day and the State-wide oil-curtailment program endeavoring to prevent further drilling activity, the Kettleman Hills oil field is the scene of new work based on the recent completion of the Superior Oil Company's Huffman No. 1 in the extreme northwestern portion of the north dome structure.

Fearing that at the present rate of field activities Kettleman Hills might easily get beyond control of the State-wide general committee on curtailment, the oil and gas conservation committee is endeavoring to work out at the earliest possible moment a unit-co-operative plan calling for orderly development of the field. Copies of this plan were mailed last week to the various company representatives and it is expected that action will be taken soon.

What has already happened on Sec. 35, 21-17, and on Sec. 1, Sec. 2, Sec. 11 and No. 12, now is taking place on Sec. 29, 21-17, on the north dome. Superior's Huffman No. 1 on Sec. 29 has caused resumption of operations by the Amarada Petroleum Corporation in its King No. 1. Concrete is being poured for its derrick. The Standard Oil Company is building road preparatory to construction of derrick for its No. 34 on the same section. Standard's No. 68 on Sec. 29 is making progress with the drill below 6000 feet and it probably will be Kettleman Hills' next producer.

Entrance of the Richfield Oil Company into Kettleman Hills has also increased operations near the Shell Oil Company's Dixon No. 1 on Sec. 36, 21-17. Richfield is preparing site for Richfield-Signal No. 1 to be a direct offset to Dixon No. 1, which is drilling below 5460 feet. The new well is half a mile east of Associated Oil Company's Whepley No. 1, producing 2940 barrels of oil a day from a depth of 7904 feet.

Superior's Huffman No. 1, although located on the extreme northwesterly edge of the north dome structure, has developed into the field's most prolific producer. It is yielding 10,460 barrels of 40 deg. gravity oil per day along with 30,000,000 cubic feet of gas from a depth of 5320 feet. It is Fresno county's first producer at Kettleman Hills. A casinghead gasoline plant is going up at once and is expected to be in operation within thirty-five days to handle Superior's flow of gas.

The Petroleum Securities Company's Felix No. 1 on Sec. 35, 21-17, is producing 450 barrels of oil a day and reports are that this project may eventually be deepened to improve the flow. Petroleum Securities Felix No. 2 is drilling below 6000 feet and cellar is being prepared for Felix No. 3.

On Sec. 1, 22-17, the Pacific Western Oil Company's No. 12 is drilling below 1650 feet and the Milham Exploration Company's No. 12 offsetting it is preparing to spud in this week.

Claim Holders in Boulder Dam District Sued

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—Action has been started in the United States Land Office at Phoenix toward clearance of title obstructions to the building of the Boulder Canyon Dam. Holders of twenty-two mining claims within the reservoir area have been notified of contests on behalf of the United States. All the ground is stated to be in sections withdrawn from entry under the Reclamation Act.

A number of years ago in United States courts in Prescott, Ariz., and Carson City, Nev., was successfully prosecuted a contest on behalf of the United States against the Stetson-Cameron interests, which had filed fifty or more placer claims along the river, from Black Canyon northward to about the mouth of the Virgin River, but which had done little development work. There is understanding that some of the gravel beds along the river carry gold color, but their intrinsic value is said to be problematical.

Oildale Hole Hits Showings

OILDALE, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—Oil sand has been struck at 1996 feet by the Chanslor-Canfield-Midway Oil Company in drilling of its No. 36 well on Sec. 23, 28-27, in the Kern front field.

The company's only other project in the field—No. 37 on the same section—stands with rig up, but idling, awaiting completion of No. 36 before being spudded in.

MINE LONG IDLE ON REVIVAL WAY

Angeleno Group Reopening Old Draper Gold

Estate Once Rated as Among Richest in Tuolumne

Nevada Quicksilver Adds to Cloverdale Holdings

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—The old Draper gold mine at Soulsbyville, idle for twenty years, has been reopened by Los Angeles interests who have taken a bond and option on the old producer. The Draper for many years ranked among the richest producers of Tuolumne county, and is credited with producing more than $1,000,000 from a vein ranging from thirty to thirty-six inches wide. Good ore is said to be exposed in old workings.

The Empire-Star Company is replacing the cyanide plant at its North Star mill with flotation equipment. The change is designed to effect a closer gold recovery and treat ores not adapted to cyanidation. The plant will be operated on ore produced from upper workings by lessers. The product from the lower levels is sent over an aerial tramline to the Empire eighty-stamp mill.

The Nevada Quicksilver Company announces the purchase of another group of cinnabar claims near Cloverdale, following acquisition of the Beaumaster and Cloverdale mines. At the Cloverdale twelve machine drills are operating and a 100-ton furnace is running steadily. Capacity of this plant is to be doubled. The Nevada Quicksilver operates large mercury mines near Lovelock, Nev.

The Alpine Consolidated Mining Company has been incorporated to take over and operate the holdings of the Curtz Consolidated Mines Company, located near Markleeville in Alpine county. The new corporation plans to develop the Morning Star mine through a central shaft and to erect a flotation plant for treatment of refractory ores.

Large veins carrying copper, silver and gold are said to be exposed, with developments expected to uncover extensions of veins formerly yielding free-milling gold quartz. The management estimates 1,000,000 tons of flotation ore is exposed above the Curtz tunnel. Operations are scheduled to start as soon as preliminary arrangements can be completed.

BIG LAKE OIL COMPLETING HUGE PLANT

Casinghead Project to Use All Gas Output of Company in Field

BIG LAKE (Tex.) Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—When the new casinghead gasoline plant of the Big Lake Oil Company which is being erected near here is completed, that company will be in position to utilize practically all of its gas production from its deep wells, aggregating more than 50,000,000 cubic feet daily. The Signal Gasoline Company, in which the Continental Oil Company owns a one-half interest, has just completed and placed in operation a second casinghead gasoline plant in the Big Lake field, and it is now utilizing all of the waste gas from the deep wells of the Texon Oil and Land Company (Continental.) The gas of these two companies comes from six wells that range in depth from 8525 feet to 8923 feet and which are producing a total average of more than 9000 barrels of oil daily. This production of oil is gradually increasing.

In addition to the six deep wells, the Big Lake Oil Company and the Texon Oil and Land Company have 254 wells in the same field, ranging in depth from 2400 to 3900 feet, with a total daily average production of approximately 12,000 barrels. This oil is blended with the 56.3 gravity oil that comes from the deep wells, and all of it is brought above 44 deg. gravity.

Deep Project to Start Shortly at Devils Den

DEVILS DEN, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—Preparations are complete for spudding in the Standard Oil Company's deep-test well to be drilled in the Devils Den district where the company hopes to tap the Temblor sand which has made Kettleman Hills so productive.

Standard's well is to be known as Alferitz No. 1. The location is 250 feet south and 250 feet east from the center of Sec. 14, 25-18. The property is a portion of a lease formerly owned by the Richfield Oil Company. Standard expects to drill to a depth of at least 6000 feet.

Lost Hills Test Hit by Trouble

LOST HILLS, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—Reconditioning of hole continues at Los Hills, where Universal Consolidated Oil Company is drilling a deep test well on Sec. 32, 26-21. Total depth is 3000 feet. Casing is set at 1610 feet.

Cave-ins and similar hole troubles have bothered Universal during the last few hundred feet and several days ago forced George F. Getty to abandon its Lincoln Drilling Company No. 1 on Sec. 12, 26-20. The latter operator will drill another well near by.

COPPER UPTURN FORECAST

President of United Verde Believes Moderate Advance Due at Early Date

PHOENIX, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—That the price of copper soon will rise, though only to a moderately remunerative figure, is the prediction of Robert E. Tally, president of the United Verde Copper Company. Such a rise, he explained, will be due almost wholly to betterment of general business conditions in this and other countries. Most of the present demand is for export, he said, and it is logical to assume that domestic sales soon will increase.

He agrees with other copper mining executives in declaration that about 14 cents would be a remunerative and logical copper price. Anything higher, he said, would be "unhealthy." There also must be care against overproduction in the future. The principal Arizona producers have cut production materially, the United Verde to 40 per cent of its former output.

But there must be consideration of the fact that metal costs mount with lower production, till operation would be at a loss if the percentage of output be at a figure too far below the normal. Charles W. Clark, chairman of the United Verde board, has stated his hope that, within a few months, "production may be increased to correspond with the upward business trend believed coming." He also stated the company would continue its present scale of operation.

President George R. Campbell of the Calumet and Arizona Mining Company states his belief that copper prices probably will advance within sixty days. He says: "There is no profit to American producers with copper at 11 cents, regardless of tonnage, and he advocates continuance of the policy of diminished production. He believes it better to continue operation, even at a small loss, than to close down entirely.

DELINQUENT TAX RUSH IN OIL SECTION

Prospecting Activity in Terra Bella Reclamation Area Held Spur

TERRA BELLA, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—Prospecting for oil in the Terra Bella district has stimulated taking up delinquent assessments in the Terra Bella irrigation district, according to E. H. Robinson, tax collector. The board of directors of the district, sitting as a board of equalization, will complete its work today, and the assessment roll for 1930 will be closed and the assessment rate set. Valuations are largely the same as those of previous years.

During August Mr. Robinson collected $12,427.34, mostly for redemptions. The larger part of the redemptions were for the year 1926, which accounts carried penalties of 54 per cent. Under the law, delinquent assessments carry penalties of 1¼ per cent per month. Landowners may redeem certificates of sale one year at a time, taking up the earliest sale, thereby protecting their holdings from final sale for a year longer.

Mine Congress of Arizona to Meet in Tucson

TUCSON (Ariz.) Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—In Tucson, under plans made by the local Chamber of Commerce, an "Arizona Mining Revival Congress" is to be held October 31, next and November 1 and 2.

There is to be co-operation by the mining department of the University of Arizona, the Arizona Industrial Congress, the Arizona chapter of the American Mining Congress and the Arizona section of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

A. J. Harshberger is chairman of the arrangements committee and Dean G. M. Butler of the university heads the program committee.

Stoody Mining Planning Mill

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—A fifty-ton mill is planned for the needs of the Stoody Company of Los Angeles, operating the Boriana property in the Wallapai Mountains. A flow sheet has been determined upon, with separation of 63 per cent tungsten concentrates, together with copper and gold returns declared well worthy of consideration.

The main workings are from an 1850-foot tunnel that cuts the ore at depth and that permits economical extraction. Raises to an upper tunnel level assure ample ventilation. The parent organization uses the product in a Coast factory in making alloys for steel and other metals.

Ohio Abandons McKittrick Test

McKITTRICK, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—After drilling 7362 feet, the greatest depth ever reached in the McKittrick district, the Ohio Oil Company has announced the abandonment of its M. & M. No. 1 well on Sec. 32, 20-22.

No showings of importance were encountered, although some gas indications were found. Formation similar to the Temblor was struck at 5885 feet, but nothing of a productive nature was uncovered.

DEEP TEST OF AREA IN PROSPECT

Angeleno Takes Lease North of Teapot Dome Near Porterville

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—A small steel derrick is going up on George Clements's property a short distance north of Teapot Dome. E. R. Edwards of Los Angeles, who leased the property will be required to make a deep test in the event his project does not find shallow production. Oil has been found here at about 920 feet, but it is understood that the deep test will go to at least 4500 feet to give the district a thorough prospecting.

The Gardner Lease No. 1 is believed to have effected a complete water shut-off with bottom at 1000 feet. During a recent production test it planned at the rate of seventy barrels of oil a day. It was killed to clean out to bottom.

Sullivan & Miller has derrick up on the James Hadden property, southeast of Terra Bella and the project will be rigging up in a day or two. Miley Brothers recently leased the north one-half of Peter Riva's property and will drill a well on Lot No. 480 in Subdivision No. 10. F. B. Campbell's Murray No. 1 has spudded in.

The Olympic Oil and Refining Company recently increased its holdings near Terra Bella and now controls approximately 1600 acres. R. M. Woods of Long Beach, is reported to have bought 160 acres, but will await future developments before staking locations, he announced.

NEW MEXICO WELL GASOLINE PRODUCER

ARTESIA (N. M.) Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—A gasoline well near Willard, in the south central part of New Mexico, produces gasoline that requires no refining. Its production, said to be consistent from a depth of sixty feet, amounts to six barrels daily.

NEW OIL FIELD LOOMS IN KERN

Weed Patch Declared Put on Production Map

Incompleted Shell Project Supplies Proof

Other Concerns Expected to be Drilling Soon

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—Although the Shell Oil Company still is fishing for drill pipe in its Porter-Day No. 1 well in the Weed Patch, ten miles east of Bakersfield, it is generally admitted that Shell has discovered a new oil field for Kern county. The hole is down 5370 feet, but probably will be drilled another 200 feet.

Field reports indicate that the wildcat picked up several oil formations on the way down, and that one or two of them might have been made to produce oil in commercial quantity, but the 5300-foot zone is believed to be a real producer, perhaps worth 300 to 700 barrels a day, the output testing 33 deg. gravity.

Shell already has material on the ground for another well which will be spudded in soon. Other companies have been leasing land in that area and it is believed that within a short time the 2nd will be dotted with derricks.

Mohawk Oil Company will drill a well in the Weed Patch district on Sec. 31, 30-29, one mile south and west of the Shell Oil Company Porter-Day No. 1. It is admitted by Mohawk officials who have leased 160 acres in that district.

Mohawk's property, on the northwest portion of the section, was obtained from H. R. Tomlinson, John Alexander and Elmer Stevens.

Drilling clauses in the leasing call for spudding in within six months, but it is believed that drilling will be under way much sooner than that date.

Mohawk was a pioneer in the Fruitvale field a few miles west of Bakersfield, where it has a potential daily production of 1137 barrels.

The Weed Patch area proves oil on three sides of Bakersfield. On the west are the Maricopa Flat, Midway, Sunset and Elk Hills fields, while north and northwest are the McKittrick, Belridge, Lost Hills, Devil's Den, Kern Front, Poso Creek and Kern River fields. Northeast of Bakersfield oil production comes from the Round Mountain area. Prospect wells are being drilled south of Round Mountain in the Edison area and south of the Weed Patch in the Comanche Point district where W. W. Stabler has drilled several unsuccessful wildcats. Wheeler Ridge, thirty miles south of Bakersfield, has been a good producer for the Standard Oil Company.

HOBBS DRILLING PEAK FORECAST

Let-up in Rapid Operating Pace Believed Near

Few Notable Developments Expected in Winter

New Extension of District May Upset Plans

ARTESIA (N. M.) Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—Many operators believe that the period of intense activity has passed for the Hobbs pool in Lea county and that few noteworthy developments are likely in this region during the winter months, unless an important extension is made. If the present proration plan is operated, which limits the drilling of one well to each forty acres there are enough wells drilling in the field at this time to drill out the proven territory.

The greatest possibility for continued action in the Hobbs area appears to be for a northwesterly extension. The limits of the pool in other directions seem to be pretty well defined. One of the most interesting tests completed within the past week on the western edge of the field is State No. 1 of the Atlantic Production Company on Sec. 6, 19-38, which produced 135 barrels of fluid in one hour, flowing open on a proration gauge. Absence of the usual gas pressure is believed to have materially reduced the flow.

The McKinley No. 7 of the Shell organization on Sec. 19, 18-38, a southwest offset to the Graham No. 1 of the Gypsy Oil Company, and the most northwesterly producer of the area, is rated better than 4400 barrels from 4212 feet. The McKinley No. 6 of the same company on Sec. 19, 18-38, an offset to the Hardin No. 1 of the Tidal Oil Company, is the largest of the Shell group completed within this period. It gauged 11,404 barrels on a proration test from 4300 feet.

While the production horizon of the Hobbs field runs fairly uniform, an offset to a big well does not always get the big production, as illustrated by the performance of the State No. 4 of the Midwest Refining Company on Sec. 4, 19-38, which was drilled in during the past week at 4190 feet for 3788 barrels of oil. The State No. 4, offsets the Byers No. 33 of the Midwest Refining Company, one of the largest wells in the field.

At a meeting of the executive committee held in Roswell on the 16th inst. to consider governing proration in the field, E. G. Allen of the Shell Petroleum Corporation was elected chairman, succeeding Warner A. Clark, who resigned because of his tranafer to California by the Standard of California. E. A. Landreth of the Landreth Production Corporation was elected to the executive committee, succeeding Mr. Allen. R. H. Morrison of the California company was elected secretary-treasurer, filling the place previously held by Mr. Allen. No change was made in the general plan for proration at the Roswell meeting.

ACTIVITY IN KERN AREA REPORTED

Only Two New Projects Listed for Drilling in Week Just Closed

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—The Meridian Oil Company, Ltd., plans to drill a wildcat well on the desert approximately seventeen miles due south of Tehachapi in Kern county. The well will be known as No. 1 and is to be located on Sec. 11, 9-15.

The only other new well to be started in Kern county during the past week is the Editors' No. 1 of the Union Oil Company on Sec. 22, 32-23 in the Midway field.

Tests for water shutoff in Kern for the past week were the Wellington Oil Company, Ltd., No. 4 and Doyle Petroleum Corporation No. 9, both on section 8, 11-23, Maricopa Flat.

Two deepening jobs were reported as Republic Petroleum Company No. 34, on Sec. 7, 32-23, Midway, and Kern Sunset Oil Company No. 23 on Sec. 12, 11-24, Sunset.

TEXAS OIL CURB GAINS HEADWAY

Results Reported by State Rail Commission

AUSTIN (Tex.) Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—Satisfactory progress is being made by the oil and gas division of the State Railroad Commission in applying State-wide proration of oil production, according to R. D. Parker, chief supervisor of the division and co-operation on the part of the oil producers and allied interests is being given in the curtailment efforts in the different fields.

Reports made to the commission indicate that there has been a considerable curtailment since the proration order went into effect August 27, although a little delay is evident in the North Central Texas field due to lack of agreement between the producers and purchasers of oil there. This difficulty, however, is being ironed out and the district will come within its allowable production very soon.

In the Gulf Coast district where the principal protests against proration were voiced, the producers have joined in an effort to comply with the commission's order. Wells are being beaned down in that district. There still is considerable unnecessary drilling in flush areas it is asserted.

Mr. Parker said that the allowables as proposed in the proration order figured up approximately 775,000 barrels of daily production. This figure is being exceeded at present. He expressed the belief that by the 27th inst., or the expiration of the thirty-day period from the date the order went into effect, the curtailment will have reached a figure below the 770,000-barrel mark.

Along with the general effort to comply with the State-wide proration order, the oil producers and pipe-line companies are observing the new pipe-line common-carrier act which went into effect June 18, so far as the Railroad Commission has been advised. No hint has been given of possible court action to test either the new pipe-line law or the proration order, Mr. Parker said.

Most of the oil field proration umpires have been appointed by the Railroad Commission. These selections were named on the nominations of the advisory committees of the different districts involved. Umpires so far appointed are as follows: Ray Richmond, for the Yates field; E. E. Andrews, for the Howard-Glasscock county fields; A. B. Capers, for the Winkler county fields; H. H. Fitzpatrick for the Darst Creek and Salt Flats fields; H. J. Corcoran for the Panhandle fields; W. H. Dyer for the Central West Texas fields, and R. E. Andrew for the Van field. One of the principal duties of the umpires is to equalize the conditions of all operators under the existing State-wide proration order.

CANADA GOLD OUT-TURN UP

Angeleno Returning from Dominion Says Figures for 1930 May Exceed United States Total

In spite of the general depression which has affected Canada as much as it has the United States, Canada is making satisfactory strides in a metal-mining way, according to Sidney Norman, formerly of Los Angeles, who has been connected with mining matters in the Dominion for the past three years, with headquarters at Toronto, and who was in the city last week for a brief visit to his family.

"The mining movement of the past few years, which exceeded in intensity anything ever known on this continent, has resulted in the discovery and development of several big mines that are certain to exert material influence upon world conditions.

"The great Sullivan lead-zinc mine of Consolidated Smelting and Refining Company of Canada, in the East Kootenay district of British Columbia, is now treating 5500 tons daily and gradually stepping up to capacity of 6000 tons daily. Total lead production of the Dominion is now around 200,000 tons annually, or about one-third of the production of the United States.

GOLD OUTPUT GAINS

"There is a possibility that Canada will pass the United States in gold production this year, taking second place to South Africa among nations of the world. For the first six months of this year the production of Ontario alone was $17,237,122, or at the rate of $36,000,000 annually. Add to that the production from British Columbia and Quebec, where Noranda, the richest copper-gold mine on the continent, is in steady production, and there is little doubt that total production of the Dominion will approximate that of the United States, which last year reached about $45,000,000.

"Some important projects have been brought to or near the productive stage in recent years. The Flin Flon mine of the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company in Northern Manitoba went on a production basis of 1000 tons monthly a few weeks ago, and will gradually work up to 3000 tons daily. Expenditures to bring this property into production have exceeded $20,000,000, the equipment including smelter, concentrator, railroad from The Pas, and hydroelectric plant on the Churchill River, sixty-five miles north of the mine, with present capacity of 44,000 horsepower and provision for three more units of 14,000 horsepower each.

PROJECT DEVELOPS

"Forty miles from Flin Flon is the Sherritt-Gordon mine, where a new concentrating plant, with capacity of 1800 tons daily, is nearing completion. The concentrate will be treated at the Hudson Bay plant, which will be blown in within the next few months.

"At Sudbury, the Frood and Creighton mines of the International Nickel Company are in a world class of their own. They already supply about 90 per cent of the nickel of the world and the ore bodies are exceedingly rich in copper and precious metals, including the rare metals.

"Treadwell-Yukon, under direction of Fred W. Bradley of San Francisco, is operating a 250-ton concentrator upon its Errington mine, near Sudbury, where some very intricate metallurgical problems have been met. The mine has developed some large complex ore bodies containing lead, zinc, copper and some silver.

"Also near Sudbury is the Falconbridge mine of the Lindsley interests, now in production and shipping its matte to a refinery in Norway, controlled by the same interests.

NEWFOUNDLAND MINES

"In Newfoundland, a separate dominion but generally looked upon as part of Canada, the American Smelting and Refining Company has developed the Buchans mine, showing a complex ore body containing exceptionally high values in lead, zinc, copper and silver. A plant of 600 tons capacity has been in operation for over a year and its capacity is to be increased to 1000 tons daily. A large order for flotation equipment, amounting to $80,000, has recently been placed with a leading house in San Francisco.

"The gold mines of Porcupine and Kirkland Lake, Ontario, are in particularly good shape. Hollinger, at Porcupine, has reduced its daily output to 4500 tons from 6000, and is now selling mill ore with advantage to net results. Recovery from 802,000 tons milled during the first six months of the year was $6.25 per ton and it is understood that some exceptionally high values are being secured at the 3300-foot level, the deepest horizon reached.

"The new plant of Dome Mines at South Porcupine, recently destroyed by fire, is being rebuilt and will be in operation shortly. Recovered values have been running around $7.60 per ton. McIntyre, also at Porcupine, milled 279,860 tons during the first half of the year for a recovery of $8.70 per ton.

"At Kirkland Lake, Lake Shore and Teck Hughes, the highest-grade major gold mines of the continent, are both preparing for heavier production after completion of very extensive deep development plans. For the first six months of the year Teck-Hughes recovered $16.55 per ton from 167,955 tons and Lake Shore $15.36 per ton from 242,889 tons. Kirkland Lake Gold, Wright-Hargreaves and Sylvanite are adding materially to the production of the district."

SURVEY FOR GAS LINE IN GLOBE AREA

Progress Reported on Project from Fields in Texas and New Mexico

GLOBE (Ariz.) Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—Surveys are nearing Globe for the natural gas pipe line that is to bring fuel from New Mexico and Texas fields. The route is via Clifton, where the Phelps Dodge Corporation will be a heavy user of the fuel, consumed in the company's reverberatory furnaces and in the large power plant at Morenci. Safford and other Gila Valley towns will be served, as well as Globe and Miami.

At the latter point the great International smelter will be the main patron, though the fuel also is to be used in the big Inspiration and Miami power plants, substituted for crude oil in both furnace and boiler uses. It is expected also that the line will be continued over to Superior, about twenty-five miles, for the needs of the smelter and mill of the Magma Copper Company, though it is unlikely that service will be given the smelter and mill at Hayden or the mines at Ray of the Nevada Consolidated Copper Company.

It also is reported improbable that the line will be extended to Phoenix, which recently was given much lower freight rates on fuel oil from the Pacific Coast. It is explained that one smelting furnace consumes more gas than even a large town, while the cost of service is much lower.

Extension of Artesia Field Now Indicated

ARTESIA (N. M.) Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—The possibility of opening up a new shallow extension of the Artesia oil field seems to be good, because of the showing in the R. D. Compton No. 2 well on Sec. 5, 18-27, at 1255 feet.

The well is flowing by heads and is estimated to be good for 100 barrels daily.

ARIZONA POWER PROJECT PENDS

Plans for Plant on Upper Salt River Drawn

PHOENIX, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—There has been linking of the name of the United Verde Copper Company with a revival of the long-discussed plan for added hydro-electric power development on upper Salt River. Plans have been made by Engineer J. B. Girand of this city for works that are to cost in excess of $3,000,000 and that are designed to furnish an initial 10,000 horsepower, though the river and its tributaries are declared capable of generating even 150,000 horsepower at need.

Girand has easements from the Interior Department and his project is reported favorably considered by the Salt River Valley Water Users' Association, which has a number of power dams on the river below Roosevelt. Heretofore there has been consideration especially of the power needs of a large asbestos producing area close to the site of the initial dam site.

Near Miami the United Verde has optioned about 6000 acres of ground and soon is to start diamond-drill exploration of a number of low-grade copper leases. J. A. Quigley of the company's staff is in charge on the ground. Now he is engaged in development of a water supply.

In the event of purchase and operation, there may be necessity for provision of a large and cheap supply of electrical current if the reduction process includes sulphuric acid leaching, such as used in the same district by the Inspiration Copper Company. Inspiration recently shut down its great mill and now is relying wholly upon leaching, reported to be both economical and thorough in extraction of values from mixed oxide and sulphide ores.

OATMAN MINING SITUATION TOLD

Tom Reed Work Delayed by Water Jinx Again

OATMAN (Ariz.) Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—Water difficulty, following necessary pump repairs, has caused temporary stoppage of work on the lower Tom Reed level, the mill fed from the 800-foot-level workings. It is declared that all the lower openings are in good mill ore. On the Reed's Ben Harrison property, the Siders lease is producing from a stope sixteen feet wide and seventy-five feet long, with ore averaging $25 in value. Ore is to be shipped soon from the Eyster lease, near-by.

United American is furnishing the Reed mill with $30 ore from a raise from the 1000 level in the vein. There is to be connection with an upper level, with stoping to be started thereafter. There is expectation that this property will develop as well as has its neighbor, the Reed, when an equal depth has been reached.

John W. Henderson, superintendent of the Big Jim, states: "We now are working well below the 300-foot level. As soon as we get the 400-foot level open, it is our intention to put some lessees at work, opening some known blocks of potential ground. We will continue as rapidly as possible to the 500 level. On the 500 a long drift is to be carried into new territory, cutting a vein system from which much is expected, prior to sinking to 1000 feet depth.

Gas Lift Idea Under Study by Mines Bureau

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—In the California oil fields the most valuable function of the gas lift is to bridge the gap of inefficient production, which exists usually between the time that natural flow in wells is no longer efficient and the time when production is still too large to be handled by plunger pumps, is the conclusion of the United States Bureau of Mines, which has made a study of the subject.

The further conclusion is drawn that the gas lift will not operate satisfactorily in all wells. In wells in which the gas lift should work satisfactorily its operation is not productive of the desired results if improperly installed and operated.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Belasco, Eighth between Broadway and Hill—"The Big House."

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"Easy Trouble." Kenneth MacKenna in a play of matrimonial manners expected in August.

California, Main near Eighth — "Carnival." Erwin Connelly, Vilches, enacts the leading role in this Spanish version of Victorien Sardou.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Holiday." A film play of quality and depth, with Ann Harding at her best in defense of youth.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood — "Hell's Angels." Ben Lyon, Howard Hughes, four years and $4,000,000 to produce the colossus of the air; and it was worth it.

Criterion, 645 South Grand—"All Quiet on the Western Front." Erich Remarque's story of the war receives splendid treatment. Lew Ayres.

Egyptian, Hollywood Boulevard—"Another Man's Wife." Helen Chandler makes much use of her praiseworthy rise in the cast.

El Capitan, Hollywood Boulevard—"Five o'Clock Girl." Ann Harding receives good treatment in this, the third version. Will Connell.

Fiesta, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"Shanghai Gesture" and "Frederic March" promise some entertaining drama.

Filmarte, 8332 Melrose—"Mother and the Fatal Passion." Reviewed in today's Times.

Fox, Figueroa at Norton—"Man from Arizona." Buck Jones, Ginger Rogers and all the virile characteristics in this film with a Western theme.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Rough Romance." Buster Keaton seeks to extract humor in a heartless world.

Majestic, Seventh at Broadway—"Top Speed." A rather silly uproar with Joe E. Brown.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"The Bad Man from Brimstone." Another of Walter Huston's inimitable characterizations.

Orpheum, Hollywood Boulevard at Vine—"Let Us Be Gay." A good performance by Rosalind Russell in an average feature.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Spotlight." Two reels of Alan Dinehart receive good treatment in this, the third version. Will Connell.

Rialto, Wilshire at La Brea—"Sap from Syracuse."

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"For the Love of Mike." Elliott Nugent and others have good time in a light comedy.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"The Little Accident." Tragedy of a prospect interpreted by Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and fellow workers.

Tiffany, Western at Tenth—"Common Clay." Constance Bennett charms in a rather melodramatic story.

United Artists, Broadway near 9th—"Alibi." A highly interesting drama that sometimes forgets to be funny. Chester Morris.

Vogue, Sawyer at 8th—"Sins of the Children." A sympathetic scene of a family struggle poignantly interpreted by Louis Wolheim.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"The Office Wife." A modern Cinderella story, a quest for the unfortunate. Dorothy Mackaill and Lewis Stone.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Dirigible." Jack Holt and Ralph Graves and Harding again excels in this medical melodrama.

Wilshire—"Animal Crackers." The four Marx brothers provide hilarious nonsense and are well worth seeing—as is the new theater.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at Seventh—"It's a Wise Child." A splendid cast entails more than adequate treatment of an old theme. Recommended to those who like comedy with a grain of salt and lots of pepper.

Casino, Hollywood Blvd. at Highland—Parisian burlesque. Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—Thin Ice." A conventional play by Grace Perkins and Edgar Allan Woolf and Francis X. Bushman.

Little, 1615 N. Vine—"A Cup of Sugar." A delightful comedy by Dorothy Mackaye, returns in a farce about husband and wife relations.

Music Box, Fourth—Burlesque.

Palace, Main at Fourth—Burlesque.

FLYWEIGHTS TANGLE

Generso Padillo, all-Navy flyweight champion, and Chato Laredo, Mexican 112-pound title-holder, will box the ten-round main event at the Main-street club Saturday night. Since arriving from the Atlantic Coast Padillo has had two warm-up bouts, winning both by knock-outs. In his last two starts Laredo took a decision over Speedy Dado and dropped a close fight to Newsboy Brown.

ly and was one under par on each nine.

The cards, compared with par:

Par (out)	453	544	443—36
Jones (out)	454	53-	433—36
Voigt (out)	453	544	442—35
Par (in)	444	344	434—34—70
Jones (in)	344	244	444—33—69
Voigt (in)	443	354	433—33—68

As the first and third "seeded" players on the list, Jones and Voigt cannot meet before the semifinals. If they can weather the intervening play, including the extremely hazardous opening two rounds of match competition Wednesday at eighteen holes, they will face each other next Friday. Bobby's third-round opponent, on form, should be either Don Moe or Dr. Oscar F. Willing, the two stalwarts from Portland, Ore., who rank well up toward the top of the list of contenders.

Jones is, of course, the topheavy favorite to win this affair and set a winning record that may stand for generations, if not for all times, but no one knows better than the Georgian that there are plenty of pitfalls in the coming week.

The field of 168 golfers scheduled to start the two days' qualifying competition at 7 a.m. (Eastern standard time) tomorrow includes the foremost amateurs of the United States as well as strong contingents from Canada and Great Britain, plus representatives from as far away as Hawaii and Cuba.

The real battle will start Wednesday, when the thirty-two survivors of qualifying play meet in morning and afternoon rounds of eighteen-hole match play, reducing the field to eight quarter-finalists.

If the "seeded" eight all come through, Thursday's competitors will include besides Jones, the defending champion, Harrison R. Johnston of St. Paul; George Voigt of New York; George Von Elm of Los Angeles, who had announced this is his last amateur tournament; Dr. O. F. Willing of Portland, Or., the 1929 runner-up; Johnny Goodman of Omaha, the youthful star who beat Jones in the first round at Pebble Beach last year; Donald K. More of Portland, Or., and Cyril H. Tolley, the former British champion.

All matches are at thirty-six holes for the last three rounds of the tournament and once he reaches the longer route that he favors, Jones will be a prohibitive choice. He has lost only one thirty-six-hole match in the last six national amateur tournaments. That was to Von Elm in the 1926 final round.

SEEDED LIST

"The seeded" list doesn't include all the threats in the tournament. Roland Mackenzie of Wilmington, Del., a Walker Cup performer, has done some brilliant scoring in practice and registered his third 71 today, in addition to which he has equaled par with one round of 70. Other excellent scores today were a 71 for Tolley; 72 for Charles Seaver of Los Angeles; 73 each for the veterans, Willing and Francis Ouimet; 74 for David Ward of Grand Rapids, Mich., and 75 for Don Moe, Watts Gunn and Dick Jones, who played in the foursome with Bobby Jones and Voigt, each carded 76.

The green for the 125-yard thirteenth hole may be unplayable as a result of a blight that has turned the grass to a rusty brown in large spots. A temporary green, for which wagonloads of white sand were brought in yesterday to duplicate the original's hazards as far as possible, was used today. It may also be used tomorrow, if the United States Golf Association decides the regular green is unplayable.

The two withdrawals which cut the field from 170 to 168 were Reuben R. Albaugh of Houston, Tex., and Capt. J. R. A. Stroyan of the Royal and Ancient Club of Scotland.

The first pair off in the qualifying round at 7 a.m. (E.S.T.) are Philip L. Carson of the home club and Charles C. Clare of Orange, Ct. Jones and his partner, Emery Stratton of West Newton, Mass., are scheduled to start at 8:15 a.m. and the champion, Johnston, at 11:35, with Ellsworth Giles, Jr., of Pittsburgh.

Stauber High in Trapshoot

A. J. Stauber, former champion, was high in the main event of the trapshoot held at the Union Pacific Knickerbocker field yesterday. Stauber scored 97x100 to lead the field. Several other good marks were turned in, in spite of the bad cross-winds that swept the field. M. C. French, with the score of 96, was runner-up to Stauber and was awarded the Class B trophy. W. C. Daniels won the handicap trophy with 47 out of 50 from the nineteen-yard line. Other trophy winners were: Class A, L. B. Clarke; Class C, Mrs. C. E. Groat; Class D, George Warren.

Mrs. Moody Again Winner in Net Event

together much better than did their younger opponents. Wood displayed one of the reasons for his string of victories in the East this summer, when he uncorked the best service of the day. Although he dropped his serve in the first game of each set, he was unbeatable the two other times, his opponents getting the ball into play only twice. Allison's work at the net was spectacular.

In another men's doubles exhibition, Ellsworth Vines and Keith Gledhill split even with Bruce Barnes and Barkeley Bell of Texas, the local youngsters winning 6-4 and losing 3-6. Barnes's errors on his own service cost the visitors the first set and in the second he came through with some sparkling placements to break through Vines. The latter's overhead smashing game was working well.

Gregory Mangin of Georgetown University and J. Gilbert Hall of New Jersey provided a great singles battle in the opening exhibition of the day with the former winning 6-2, 6-4. Each of the games was hotly contested and the gallery of approximately 4500 fans was kept in a constant state of excitement.

The men's singles first round was completed with Allison, S. Lockwood, G. Lyttleton Rodgers, Barnes, Sutter, Bobby Sellers, Bell, Dolf Mitelhelsen, Lott, Barnes, Mangin, Herrington, Neil Brown, Wood, Clay Mahoney, Hall, Solly Baiano, Johnny Risso and Van Ryan winning their matches. Baiano provided the only upset when he defeated Frank Westenith, U.C.L.A. star, 9-7, 6-3. Stanley Robinson, U. S. Army champion, gave Herrington a terrific battle, the latter winning 13-11, 8-6.

MAKO SHINES

The quarter-final round of the junior boys' singles was filled with Jimmy Bobbitt, Charley Hunt, Gene Mako, Leonard Patterson, Harold Steiner, Billy Doeg, Frankie Parker and Hutton. Mako, Southern California boys' champion, conquered Jay Cohn, national champion, in the same division for the past two years, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3, to provide a sensational upset. Cohn was seeded No. 4.

Second round in the men's singles and the opening contests in the women's singles are scheduled for today, as well as several doubles matches. Seeding for the women's singles were announced yester

MAKING AMERICANS OF HER COUNTRYMEN

Mrs. Valentina Kachmarsky

RUSSIANS IN ANTISOVIET MOVE HERE

National Civic Center to Counteract Red Doctrine Founded by Art Director.

Russians and Ukranians in Los Angeles county, believing in the spirit of Americanism rather than the disruptive doctrines of Communism, have virtually completed preparations for the dedication of the headquarters of the Ukranian-Russian Civic Center at 358 South Boyle avenue.

Mrs. Valentina Kachmarsky, founder of the civic center and its director for the last seven months, declared yesterday the institution already has converted hundreds to belief in the value of liberty under law, and set up a strong counterforce to the taint of Red propaganda.

A feature of the dedication, she said, will be a pictorial exhibit of the history of Russia painted on the walls of one of the rooms of the new edifice by M. Konopioff, Hollywood artist, assisted by Col. A. Iavleff, who arrived in the United States three months ago.

"We wish to express our sincere appreciation of the assistance that has been rendered the civic center by many individuals, the Daughters of the American Revolution, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Rotary Club and others," said Mrs. Kachmarsky, who formerly was director of the European School of Music and Fine Arts at Philadelphia. She is serving at the civic center with out remuneration.

"I doubt if there is a more democratic organization than ours in this democratic country," she said. "The Russians are naturally social-minded and all they need to make them good American citizens is a little sympathy and understanding."

Undertaker Dies After Paralytic Attack Saturday

A paralytic stroke suffered Saturday evening at the Biltmore Theater caused the death of Frank P. Wynn, a member of White Company undertakers, at St. Vincent's Hospital last night. The body is at the White Company, 644 West Washington street.

Mr. Wynn had resided in Los Angeles for the past twenty years, coming here from Carbondale, Pa. He resided at the Miramar Estates, Santa Monica. He was 44 years of age. Besides his widow he leaves Loretta, Elizabeth, Joseph and Thomas Wynn of Carbondale and Paul Wynn of Los Angeles, sisters and brothers.

Funeral services have not yet been arranged and will be announced later. He was a member of Junipero Serra Council of the Knights of Columbus.

S.C. MAN HONORED

CENSUS REPORT TO BE MAGNET

Chamber will Use Figures for New Advertising

Los Angeles Metropolis for 12,000,000 Customers

Factories and Branch Plants will be Invited

Arranged on a schedule that will bring the story of the West's new market of 12,000,000 consumers as disclosed by the recent Federal census of population before every manufacturer in the United States, the Chamber of Commerce has just launched its most intensive industrial advertising campaign of the year in an effort further to build the manufacturing structure of Los Angeles county.

Throughout the fall months, magazines of general circulation as well as those covering trade, technical and class fields, will contain page displays telling the story of the huge market of the eleven Western States that can best be served through the location of branch manufacturing plants in this territory, Secretary-Manager A. G. Arnoll of the chamber, said yesterday.

"The census count has been responsible for an awakened interest in the West on the part of eastern industrialists," Arnoll says, "and since Los Angeles county offers the largest local market, we believe that the manufacturer can be 'sold' on the advantage of locating in this territory.

"Occupying less than 3 per cent of the total area of California, Los Angeles county accounted for more than 7 per cent of the total increase in population in the whole United States. The city of Los Angeles showed a gain of 655,000 for the ten-year period, or an increase of 113 per cent. This is 136 per cent more than the combined increases of the four next largest Pacific Coast States."

Containing carefully selected material prepared by R. D. Sangster, industrial manager of the Chamber of Commerce, the eastern advertising campaign will lay the greatest stress on population increases in this territory. Details of the distribution of this population will be outlined with the result that the largest concentration of consumers is shown to be in Southern California and thus of greater advantage in the location of new industry.

LEMON CROP EXCEPTIONAL THIS YEAR

Fruit Growers' Exchange Reports Shipments Grade Higher Than Usual

During the heavy shipping months of May, June, July and August all lemon shipments of exchange packing houses, amounting to more than 6400 cars, showed an average of only .71 of 1 per cent decay on arrival in the markets throughout the United States, according to H. J. Ramsey, field manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. This is a new record for exchange shippers in recent years, he said.

"Not only have handling methods in the packing houses been improved through co-operation between the field department and the associations, but much injury to the fruit which was formerly received during picking operations has been eliminated," Ramsey said.

"The 1929-30 season has been marked by a minimum amount of stem end crystallization in Valencia oranges, partly due to the fact shippers picked and shipped the fruit before crystallization had an opportunity to develop in the groves where early indications of this trouble was noted.

"This year's crop of Valencias has generally been quite free of tortrix type injury, usually associated with the mealy bug pest. Apparently this is due to efficient control of the mealy bug through the wide introduction of parasites. Decay in orange shipments during the past four months also has been far below last year."

MANY VIEW FOUR-HOUR FIRE FIGHT

Three Stores Gutted and Apartment-house Partly Destroyed by Flames.

A stubborn fire which gutted three stores, partly destroyed an apartment-house and then leaped a block to set fire to a garage drove a dozen families into the street late yesterday afternoon at East First and Indiana streets and did damage estimated by the County Fire Department at $40,000. One fireman was injured but not seriously.

A huge crowd gathered to watch the four-hour fight before the blaze was subdued. The fire started in a barber shop at 3523½ East First street conducted by Ramon Louano, who resided in the rear of his shop. From there it spread to a tailor shop conducted by A. Erishenowitz and from there to the Smith grocery. The building was a two-story brick and was occupied by families on the second floor who were driven to the street by the flames.

Sparks dropped on the roof of a two-story brick apartment-house at 3529 East First street owned by Paul Thomas. The roof was destroyed on this building and the contents of the flats damaged by smoke and water. The blaze then leaped a block to 3615½ East First street where it set fire first to a garage roof and then to several chicken coops and sheds. The blaze here was extinguished without loss.

Engine Company No. 32 of the County Fire Department was assisted by Engine No. 2 and Truck Company No. 10 of the city department. A. M. Jore of the county department suffered a badly cut hand which was dressed at the White Memorial Hospital.

Among the droll statuettes will be his impressions of George Arliss, Ramon Novarro, George Bancroft, Laurel and Hardy, Gloria Swanson, Greta Garbo, Charles Chaplin and Douglas Fairbanks.

AUTO TAX ASSESSORS' TOPIC

State Association Convenes Wednesday at Avalon; Two Hundred Expected to Attend

Steps necessary to bring about a change in the California law permitting the collection of county automobile taxes by the State Division of Motor Vehicles and change of the annual assesment date are scheduled to be taken up Wednesday at the annual convention of the State Association of County Assessors, to be conducted in Avalon. Two hundred delegates are expected.

The convention will begin Wednesday at 10 a.m. with an address of welcome by Mayor Paulson of Avalon and close Saturday morning with the selection of next year's meeting place and the election of new officers.

Announcement that changes in the State laws governing automobile taxation and the assessment date will be sought was made from the office of Assessor Hopkins by J. W. Hartman, chief appraisal engineer. Change in the method of collecting automobile taxes will result in an estimated saving of between $600,000 and $1,000,000 in Los Angeles county, he said.

Advancement of the assessment date from the first Monday in March to the first Monday in January, permitting a longer period for the preparation of the assessment roll, also would be an economical move, obviating the necessity of scores of extra employees during compilation of the roll, Hartman said.

Headquarters of the convention will be at the St. Catherine Hotel.

Board Refuses Permit for Pier

Permission for the construction of a pier on the ocean side of Cabrillo Beach for the purpose of loading and unloading passengers of a fishing boat, sought by F. O. Adler of San Pedro, has been refused by the Playground and Recreation Commission.

Adler first made application for permision to moor a barge for loading and unloading passengers and later changed the request for permission to build a pier from the sand adjacent to the breakwater.

Construction of a pier, it was contended by members of the board, would prove a menace to bathers, especially when there is a surf, as it has been found that most of the rescues effected at Venice Beach have to be made under the old Sunset pier, now used to sustain a bathhouse.

OIL BLAZE AT VENICE CONQUERED

Fire Fighters Extinguish Burning Well Following Two-Day Battle

With mud, steam and chemicals, firemen early yesterday gained control of the fire which for two days had been burning well No. 1 of the Metropolitan Oil Company in the Venice oil field, and at 10 a.m. the flames were declared subdued. Although all apparatus was withdrawn from the scene, a detail of men remained on watch throughout the day.

Drenched continually with water while the flames roared about it, the steel derrick rising above the well survived the fire and stands now practically undamaged. The wooden platform and tool shed at its base, however, were destroyed. Oil men estimate the loss at $15,000.

Two men suffered burns when the fire broke out Friday night. They are William Robinson, derrick superintendent, and Roy Crampton, a worker. Both have recovered.

TRAFFIC MONEY PROVIDED

The City Council has appropriated $180,000 from the street traffic fund to cover the expense of operating the Bureau of Street Traffic Engineering for the ten months' period beginning the 1st inst. The money is to be expended in ten equal amounts.

PLANE GOES UP SEEKING RECORD

Mendell and Reinhart Aim at 1000 Hours Aloft

Thousands Cheer Take-Off of Former Champions

Radio Man With Them Will Broadcast News

With shouts of encouragement from 10,000 throats ringing in their ears, Loren W. Mendell and R. B. (Pete) Reinhart took to the air in their Albatross monoplane, Pride of Hollywood, at 3:20:46 p.m. yesterday on their long-planned attempt to restore to Los Angeles the world's record for sustained flight.

They hope to remain uninterruptedly above earth for 1000 hours and thus exceed by more than 350 hours the present record of 647 hours 28 minutes and 30 seconds, established at St. Louis recently by Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine.

FIRST DINNER ALOFT

Early today the green-and-gold cabin ship continued to cruise at a comparatively slow air speed of seventy miles an hour back and forth between the port, Hollywood and Los Angeles. Its colored running lights were on and the trio aboard settled down for their first twenty-four hours aloft.

As the sun went down contact was made between the Pride of Hollywood and the refueling Javelin monoplane. Dinner for the flyers was lowered in a sack, followed by 100 gallons of gasoline and five gallons of oil for the motor.

The 100 gallons nearly filled the ship's tanks of 275-gallon capacity, augmenting the 165 gallons of fuel aboard at the take-off. A full load of gas, Mendell said before the departure, will keep the Wright Whirlwind motor turning over at 1400 revolutions a minute for twenty hours.

A refueling is planned at daybreak this morning.

Mendell was at the controls when the trio took off. He and Reinhart will guide the plane in four-hour shifts.

As the large monoplane sped down the runway and left the ground Reinhart stood up in the refueling hatch and waved to the cheering thousands witnessing the start. At the window of the ship's soundproof radio cabin sat R. V. (Doc) Howard, radio technician, who as the third participant in the ambitious flight, will broadcast news of its progress four times daily over KGPJ.

FOUR DEPUTIZED

Grand Central Airport was agog with various activities for hours before the actual take-off. First Mendell and Reinhart and C. Hjalmer Holdson and Bud Hussey were deputised formally to represent the Sheriff's office while in the air, being thus vested with authority to rout private pilots who might endanger them by approaching too close in observing refueling operations. Holdson and Hussey are to handle the refueling ship throughout the duration of the flight. They will make three contacts every twenty-four hours.

Following their induction into office, the four went aloft for a refueling test, which was accomplished satisfactorily. While Hussey held the refueling plane in position above the Pride of Hollywood, Holdson let out the forty-six feet of hose, through which Reinhart, standing in the hatch, guided the take-off load of gas into the tanks. There are six tanks, all located in the wings and each equipped with two lines to the carburetor as a precaution against forced landing due to leakage or stoppage.

SHIP CHRISTENED

The refueling test over, the monoplane was christened by Gwen Seager, Glendale beauty who recently was acclaimed "Miss Prosperity" during the Glendale Prosperity Jubilee. Carrying an armful of American Beauty roses, Miss Seager stepped up to the ship, struck at the propeller tip with the fragrant bouquet, and, as the petals fluttered to the ground, exclaimed: "I christen thee Pride of Hollywood."

A moment later the motor was started and tension among participants and witnesses alike, increased. Then, when Mendell and Reinhart pronounced all in readiness, Joe Nikrent, official starter of the National Aeronautic Association, gave the signal. The monoplane shot down the runway and gracefully left the ground. The take-off was observed officially also by Charles Cook, manager of the

by Harry Carr

THESE birds of passage from Tin Pan Alley have slid back to New York again, having deposited with us various common vulgar gobs of jazz. Meanwhile the only real song I have heard for some time is a waltz composed by a shy, young Mexican boy down in a cafe in El Paso.

His name is Rafael Gama and his song is the loveliest waltz I have heard; the name of it is "Nidito de Amor" (Little Nest of Love.)

HEARTS THAT SING

I have never known a Mexican who wasn't full of music.

In a forlorn little Mexican town in the mountains of Michoacan, the presidente led in a scared little peon wearing a battered straw sombrero and linen drawers to sing us a song he had composed. It was a witty satire about the coming of the first airplane; and the air he had made up was a gay lilt that danced on the sunbeams. He strummed it out on his old guitar; they gave him a drink of pulque and he lost himself in the crowd. His name was Fernando Delgado and this is the first and last time this genuine musician will be heard of.

"Rancho Grande" and "Cuatro Milpas" were composed by two boys in Tepic. They come the nearest to being a new type of music of anything that has happened since the Negro spirituals; songs coming from the soil. "Three O'Clock in the Morning," from which Tin Pan Alley made fortunes, was composed by a Mexican boy in Hermosillo.

Somebody will make a fortune out of "Nidito de Amor" but it will be some musical gangster — not Senor Rafael Gama.

PALACES AND BUNGALOWS

Building has started again with a whoop and a boom in Los Angeles.

I wonder which direction it will take this time. I predict that the houses will be smaller. The upkeep of these movie star palaces is terrific, both in point of money and responsibility. As eastern arrivals become accustomed to living in California, it will dawn on them that the way to enjoy this country is to have two homes —one in the country and one in town.

The one in the country can usually be made to support itself—or partly support itself; so the double upkeep is less than the cost of supporting a town palace.

The roads are so good and modern automobiles are so fast that my friend Harry Carey found it possible to live on a cattle ranch with his vaqueros riding herd and to work every day, himself, in a movie studio.

We are fortunate in this; that Los Angeles offers everything that a charming, gay modern city can, yet it is surrounded by a near-by rim of country where the city resident can live the life of the old-time hacendado.

MONTEREY BOATS

Another opportunity opens itself for those who find a joyous playfellow in the sea. Due to new methods of electric refrigeration, all the small fishing boats have become passe. All the fishermen are buying large steamers.

These fish boats can be had for a song. The best are the "Monterey boats." They have wide flaring bows, built to fight high seas. All were built in Monterey, modeled after the fish boats of the Mediterranean. They have powerful engines and are so seaworthy you could go to China in one.

P. S.: Don't ask me where you can buy one. I am retiring from the directory business.

VICTORY PARK GHOST ARISES

Acquisition of Arroyo Seco Acreage for City Uses Comes Up Today in Council for Action

The old ghost of the acquisition of Victory Park No. 2 in the Arroyo Seco arises this morning to confront the City Council. Last spring, following the routine prescribed by State improvement acts, the Council listened for more than two weeks, day by day, to appeals against the assessments, the speakers opposing the project asserting that more than 7000 persons objected.

After having heard the last appeal, the Council delayed action, whereupon the opponents took their troubles to court. Injunction proceedings were brought attacking the legality of the project, but the real objection is the levying of the cost on the district.

Superior Judge Tappaan, a few weeks ago, held in favor of the city and the opponents lost their case. Meanwhile, the Council has been postponing the final hearing from week to week, awaiting the outcome of the court proceedings.

The land to be acquired consists of 186 acres in a long, broken line from Pasadena avenue and Avenue 35 to San Pascual avenue. The cost is approximately $800,000. Eventually it is proposed there is to be built through the parkway a magnificent highway, a part of the artery from the harbor, along Figueroa street, through the Elysian Park tunnels of the North Figueroa extension, through South Pasadena and Pasadena, past the Devil's Gate Dam into the upper Arroyo Seco, and by a secondary State highway, now under construction, through the mountains to Palmdale.

It is this proposal that the residents of the assessment district attack, asserting that they are being taxed to provide land for a highway of county and State importance.

The recall petition circulated some months ago against Councilman Holland was occasioned by the district row over the park. Plans have been discussed to relieve the district and acquire the land as a city-wide project, but doubts as to the legality of this proceeding have been expressed.

POLICE ROLLS LIST FEW PATROLMEN OF HORSE ERA

The "old gang" is going. Veteran police officers who could recall the days when they wore bell-shaped helmets and drove the patrol wagon behind horses are fast leaving the force. Only a few are left.

Records of the Pension Board reveal that fourteen of the old-timers, the majority occupying high ranking positions, have retired in the last year. The fifteenth will be added to the list today when Captain of Detectives Walter B. Barr makes his application for retirement.

Those who have gone before him are such veteran officers as Assistant Chief Spellman, Chief of Detectives Cline, Deputy Chiefs Lyons and Plummer, Captains of Police Charlie Jackson, Poor, Kierscey, Mart, Kriege, Oakley; Detective Lieutenants Newstetter and Williamson, Police Lieutenants White and Harlan—all retired within the last twelve months.

Capt. Barr's twenty years' service ended a month ago today. He was appointed patrolman August 30, 1910. He was one of the first mounted officers in the department. In 1921 he entered the detective bureau and for many years was in charge of the automobile theft detail. Determining that crime increases were due largely to the modern influence of the automobile, he concentrated the efforts of his squad on the apprehension of car thieves and established a record for their arrests and recovery of stolen cars.

"Burglars and bandits in the majority of cases use stolen cars," was his contention, "and if we can curtail car thefts banditry and burglary will decrease." Police records for the time he was in charge of this detail corroborate his statement.

SWINDLE SUSPECT SEIZED

J. T. Simons, Widely Known in Business Circles, Accused of Deals on Fake Stock

Joseph T. Simons, widely known in business circles here, is under arrest on a charge of grand theft, bunko, after Detective Lieutenants Bligh and Armstrong of the bunko detail ended an eighteen-month search for the misuse of an asserted fake stock issue said to have been promoted by Simons.

Officers Bligh and Armstrong were assigned to the investigation and immediately recognized the stock as shares in the "Palos Verdes Water, Light and Power Company," a fictitious company. The officers had been searching for an appearance of the stock in a business deal for more than eighteen months following a complaint by a printing company that after they had printed stock with a face value of $1,000,000 the customer ordering the stock had been unable to pay for the printing bill in full. Their suspicions were aroused and Bligh and Armstrong watched for an appearance of the stock, but no trace of it could be found in any business transaction. The stock had not been registered with the State Corporation Commission nor did the bank whose name was carried on the stock have any Police reported that information was given Dep. Dist.-Atty. Moses by two asserted victims in Pasadena that they had loaned money to Simons on the valueless stock shares and on ten shares of Southern California Edison stock that investigation proved had been stolen last year.

The asserted swindle was revealed, police said, when Walter Powers, 460 North Hill street, Pasadena, called at the power company offices to check on the validity of the stock. There he was informed that the stock had been reported stolen from John Cuisick, Edison Company employee, in December, 1929.

Powers, with Miss Marie Jeanerette, 1640 Paloma street, Pasadena, who had also loaned money to Simons on his stock came to Moses and asked for an investigation.

TRAIL OF KILLER SUSPECT FOUND

Asserted Wife Slayer Said to Have Been Living Here

Lindsay and Girl Traced to Local Apartment-House

Harrowing Story Told Later by 11-Year-Old Child

While police of every city from Seattle to the Mexican border were seeking him for the brutal murder of his wife, Elizabeth Audrey Lindsay, April 30, last, it became known yesterday that Everett Frank Lindsay, the asserted slayer, has been living in Los Angeles under the assumed name of R. F. Williams.

This discovery also revealed that Lindsay, who, according to police records, has used more than a dozen aliases since the murder of his wife, had been living at the Stanley Apartments, 216 South Flower street, with an 11-year-old Napa girl, whom he introduced as his daughter.

STORY OF CAPTIVITY

He vanished from the place early on the morning of the 17th inst., a few hours after the girl had departed, ostensibly to join her mother in Oakland. The two were expected to return within a few days, Lindsay told Mrs. M. Maya, who conducts the apartment-house.

Upon her return home, according to press dispatches, the girl told a harrowing tale of having been held captive by Lindsay in this city. Information received by Los Angeles police indicates that the girl, whose identity has not been disclosed, was entrusted to Lindsay—known to the parents as Harold Simpson—to be taken to San Francisco, where she was to enter school. She became acquainted with the girl's parents while living in Napa and brought her to Los Angeles instead of taking her to the Bay City.

Circulars broadcast by Seattle police state that, in addition to the murder charge, the fugitive is wanted for kidnaping his foster daughter, Pearl Grant, 12, and also for attacks on three other young girls.

BRUTAL CRIME

Immediately following the murder of his wife, Lindsay and the Grant girl disappeared and she was found May 4 in an Oakland boarding-house where he had abandoned her.

The murder of Mrs. Lindsay is described as one of the most brutal crimes in the history of Seattle. Her skull was crushed, apparently with a hammer, her throat cut, and the body, sewed up in a burlap sack, was found buried behind the barn at the home where the couple had lived.

Lindsay is said to be 48 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches in height, weight about 160 pounds; brown hair streaked with gray. His occupations include coal miner, plumber, steam-fitter, painter, carpenter, hotel manager and river steamboat engineer.

Advices from Sheriff Bannick of Seattle state that he also is wanted for questioning in connection with the death of a rancher who was slain at Woodland, Wash., in 1921.

OPIUM DEN RAIDED BY DRUG SQUAD

Lone Chinese Taken at Establishment Equipped for Six Persons

Equipped to accommodate half a dozen patrons at one time a one-room opium den was found by police yesterday at 319½ Apablasa street. One Chinese was arrested in an early morning raid.

The lone occupant of the room when the raid was made gave his name as Kim Jou, alias Woo Hoy, 41 years of age. When Detective Lieutenants Kirkpatrick, Robinson and Powell of the police narcotic squad broke in they reported finding Kim Jou reclining on a low bunk, blissfully puffing at his long pipe. The room was choked with the heavy, sweet odor of burning opium, they said.

Searching the place the detectives asserted they found twelve full tins of opium in a cupboard and a bindle of cocaine among Kim Jou's few personal effects. The room contained enough bunks, the detective said, to accommodate half a dozen smokers. When further search failed to reveal more pipes the detectives interrogated Kim Jou. They asked him if he was the owner of the place.

"Me no live here," he replied, according to their report, adding that he lives at 550½ Los Angeles street. "Me come smoke sometime. Lottsa boys sometime they come smoke here," he continued.

Kim Jou, the detectives stated, also was under the influence of cocaine. He was booked at the City Jail for violation of the State Narcotic Act.

INFLUX HERE OF FAMILIES ON INCREASE

Van Concern Reports 15 Per Cent Gain in Number of Households Arriving

The American family continues to settle in the Los Angeles district in increasingly large numbers, according to statistics just compiled by Milo Bekins, president of the Bekins Van and Storage Company. During the first eight months of 1930 Bekins vans moved the household effects of 14,476 families into homes in this city, Pasadena, Glendale and Beverly Hills, representing an increase of 15 per cent over the number moved in the corresponding period of 1929.

The greatest percentage of increase, according to Bekins, is supplied by families from the territory contiguous to New York. Europe also this year has produced large numbers of new Southland dwellers, most of whom are former expatriates who have decided to return.

Bekins says the majority of newcomers do not store their goods, but order them sent to homes purchased almost immediately after arrival.

Veteran Buyer Visitor Here

One of only six men to possess a diamond medal for service with Marshall Field & Co., William E. Boettiger of Sheboygan, Wis., and Miami, Fla., was in Los Angeles yesterday, stopping with his son-in-law, Fay R. Smalley, assistant manager of the Alexandria, and Mrs. Smalley.

Boettiger retired from business last year, with a record of having advanced from messenger boy to the post of foreign buyer for the Chicago merchandising concern. On the completion of fifty years' service he was presented with a diamond medal. On his retirement he was declared to be one of the country's outstanding foreign merchandising men.

"My interests are in Florida," Boettiger said, "and this is my first visit to California, but you can say for me that California is the greatest place in which to live.

"Your mountains, beaches and hospitality surpass anything I have found in my many trips around the world," he added.

THEY DO RETIRE TROLLEY CARS

Disposal of Outworn Street Vehicles Found Fact

"Bone Yard" Supplies Hulks for Many Purposes

As Little as $50 will Buy Usable Structure

BY WILLIAM HAMILTON CLINE

What becomes of all the decrepit street cars that have outlived their usefulness?

Well, according to the general consensus of opinion: "They're still running and carrying passengers; I rode in one today." Or, if more charitable and honest, one might reply: "They operate till, like the one-hoss chaise, they just fall to pieces all at once."

But as a matter of fact, both answers are wrong. Street cars are retired from service before they disintegrate and they do serve a purpose—many purposes, it might be added — after they have finished their careers on wheels. If you don't believe it, go out Southwest to the "bone yard" on Second avenue and count nearly 300 of them on trackage there awaiting disposal.

FUNNY FANCY

And if you see one that you fancy, you may purchase it for a sum most reasonable—$50 up. But it will be minus wheels and trolley pole, as well as all other operative machinery; it will be sold to you "as is, where is." It'll be up to you to take it away; business in second-hand trolley cars is cash and carry; you pay the cash and do your own lugging.

Still and all, for the sum named—or up—you get something worth while in many cases, usable for many purposes. And the cost of haulage is not prohibitive, provided the distance is not too great. Once you have acquired such a treasure and placed it where you wish it you have something that cost a lot to construct, that is thoroughly substantial and well built, and that may serve you for years to come.

LAST TO CHANGE

Los Angeles, as you may not know, is about the last place in the land—certainly the last city—that uses narrow-gauge trolleys. Almost without exception the standard gauge is favored—that of the railroads and the Pacific Electric here. But through a queer kink in municipal history the narrow tracks were made obligatory in Los Angeles years ago for the yellow cars and it would cost millions to change them.

Cars, hence, have to be built accordingly; they are not so wide as are those of standard gauge and it is not possible to resell discarded rolling stock to smaller places or in foreign lands; you cannot put the wide running gear under the narrow bodies. Consequently, when a trolley car here has reached the point where it costs more in repairs to keep it rolling than it is worth in income, it is hauled to the Second-avenue lot, dismantled of its metal parts and all that can be salvaged, and offered for sale. And you'd be surprised at the uses to which they are put.

SEAGOING TROLLEYS

Years ago a whole colony of little ex-horse cars of the bob-tail or rear-step vintage did duty at one of the beaches as bathhouses and admirably fitted they were for that purpose. But clubs and modern bathing pavilions long since sent them into desuetude. But if you look closely here and there about our private beach homes, you may find a later-date trolley car officiating in that capacity even yet. They are not quite wide enough for garages, and the bulwarks separating the open and closed sections interfere for this purpose, but they do make admirable playhouses for children and many are now doing duty as such, here and there. Also as chicken houses and dog kennels and pony stables, when more or less transformed.

One chap has taken over a real find in ex-trolleys and made of it a delightful studio in his back yard. The many windows fit it for such use and it cost him far less than it would to build one. Others have been put into service as clubrooms and rest houses at pee-wee golf courses, after being suitably rehabilitated. Out south on Western avenue is one that has become a glorified hot-doggery, made brilliant with many lights and still keeping its identity to a degree—by means of a fake trolly pole, only illuminated, also.

NICKEL PULLMANS

Many have been converted into all-night lunch cars; running gear has been put under them and horses haul them about from spot to spot. If you see them marked "Pullman dining car," don't be fooled; maybe you paid nickels to ride in them years agone.

Folks have even made mountain cabins out of them, but that means a long haul and isn't often profitable, though not so costly, in fact, if such a housing catches your fancy hard enough. For there are firms here equipped to put one of them on a truck and take it almost anywhere. The cars are hardly large enough for bungalows, though they have been so used; a combination of two or more might readily be utilized in this fashion and the expense would be trifling compared to regular building.

Dan Healy, who has charge of the Second-avenue yards, tells a lot more about the past-its-usefulness street car sales business. He has nearly 300 of them on hand—or did, lately. He not only knows what they are worth and will sell for but what use may be made of them; he is an expert adviser. If you crave a li'l street car in your family, or see a need that one may fill, see Dan and have a chat with him about the matter. You'll likely stumble on a real bargain.

LIFE APPLIED TO EDUCATION

Gloria Lloyd Enjoys Novel Teaching

Studies All Fun

Harold Lloyd's young daughter gets traffic-tag lesson from her teacher, Eleanor Smith.

GLORIA LLOYD, 6-year-old daughter of Harold Lloyd, film comedian, goes to school every day without knowing it. She is learning music, art, writing, mathematics, reading, French, botany, pantomime and social graces without realising she is being taught.

The unusual method being used in the education of the child was devised by Eleanor Smith, who taught school for several years. She took her idea to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd and they adopted it. The lessons take no set rules.

Gloria herself guides the entire day's work. For instance, she takes her little automobile and is arrested for speeding. The teacher gives her a ticket and she must sign her name at the bottom. She is told to appear in court on a certain day and she must figure how far away that is. By this means she learns the names of streets with a little citizenship added.

Miss Smith reads to her the stories of the operas and Gloria draws her own interpretation of the music as it is played on the phonograph records. She studies botany in the Lloyd gardens. They have theatrical performances with scenery and costumes and of times create their own stories.

According to Miss Smith, Gloria shows best talent in pantomime and she likes to stage plays best of all.

LOYOLA INVOKES BLESSING

Jesuit College Opens Academic Year with Mass Preceded by Colorful Procession

Preceded by a colorful out-of-door academic procession 700 faculty members and students of Loyola University gathered in Blessed Sacrament Church, Hollywood, yesterday morning to attend the mass of the Holy Ghost, a ceremony held annually by all Jesuit colleges to invoke divine aid upon the work of the academic year.

The mass was read by Rev. Zacheus Maher, president of Loyola. Assisting him at the altar were Revs. Lawrence J. Heney and John Madden. A special musical program for the occasion was presented by a choir of 100 voices.

The sermon was preached by Rev. William Lonergan, former dean of faculties at the University of Santa Clara and now associate editor of America, the national Jesuit weekly published in New York. Taking as his theme the Catholic influence in the field of education, both past and present, he said, in part:

"The students of our Catholic colleges owe a very special debt of service to the community. The reason is more or less obvious. The Catholic college has committed itself to the training not only of scholars, but of Christian scholars. Over and above the science it teaches and vitalizing it all as the sun's rays do the world in which we live, are the lessons of character the college inculcates.

"Its theory of education always has been that the training of the mind is not its exclusive task. To knowledge it adds education of the will and considers its work incomplete where heart and mind have not been so attuned to the truth that its students will not only love knowledge above all things but will pursue justice at any hazard."

Dr. J. C. Merriam of the Carnegie Institute, Washington, D. C., will open the Tuesday program at 9:30 a.m. with a report of recent studies of early man in the Southwest. Dr. Chester Stock, California Institute paleontologist, will tell of recent discoveries in Gypsum Cave, Nevada, which have pushed back human history in the United States 20,000 years.

One of the highlights of the Tuesday program will be a report by Dr. Edwin Hubble of Mt. Wilson Observatory, who recently revealed the results of the first attempts to measure the limits of the universe by computations of the light from distant nebulae.

The National Academy will convene in Dabney Hall, California Institute of Technology.

MENDELL CONFIDENT

"I'm supremely confident we'll bring back the record," Mendell said a moment before he stepped into the roomy cabin. "We've taken every possible precaution against mishap and have prepared for this event, determined to stay up at least 1000 hours."

The pilot then kissed his fiancee, Miss Sadie Hayes, and was lost to view in the "room" he expects to be his only home for the next forty-one days.

The Pride of Hollywood has a light-green body and golden wings, and is equipped with colored lights that will reveal its identity as Mendell and Reinhart cruise above the city at night. The ship is powered with a 300-horsepower Wright Whirlwind motor, the gift its manufacturers presented the flyers when they hung up a world's endurance record over Culver City Airport in 1929. The refueling ship is a Javelin monoplane powered with a 225-horsepower Wright Whirlwind motor.

Association Bans Daylight Saving

The executive committee of the Hollywood Boulevard Association is urging its membership to aid in the campaign to defeat the daylight-saving proposition at the election on November 4.

"Investigation shows that daylight saving would constitute a handicap to the motion-picture industry and the association feels that all public-spirited citizens interested in the progress and development of the film capital should use every effort to insure the defeat of the measure, No. 7, on the ballot," President Baine of the association said.

FIRE CURB NECESSITY STRESSED

National Forest Chief Gives Report on Work and Recent Arrests

That the national forests will be protected from fire caused by carelessness of campers or autoists was emphasized yesterday by W. V. Mendenhall, Supervisor of Angeles National Forest, in making a report on several arrests made in the forest.

It was pointed out by Mr. Mendenhall that the carelessness that causes fires among California's big trees is unnecessary and criminal. He stated that the government is ever ready to aid pleasure seekers in enjoying themselves in the national forests, but that they should have the same consideration for the forests as the government has.

Mr. Mendenhall reported that Percy Northey, 229 Grape street, Monterello, was arrested and convicted before Municipal Judge Gibbs at Pasadena for leaving a camp fire burning in the Arroyo Seco. The defendant was sentenced to ten days in jail, five days being suspended, and fined $25, of which $5 was suspended.

R. J. Saita, 1201½ North Westmoreland avenue, was sentenced by Police Judge Ricardi of Pasadena to twenty-five days in jail, which was suspended, and fined $50, $40 of which was suspended. He had to pay $10 for throwing a lighted cigarette on the road in a restricted area.

When A. L. Faso-Ruiz and Jose Menashasa, who are accused of leaving a camp fire burning in the national forest, failed to appear in the Pasadena court, bench warrants for their arrest were issued.

OUSTED DOCTOR LOSES IN COURT

Board Upheld in Revoking License of Bold

Acquittal in Murder Case Held Not Binding

Asserted Illegal Operation Basis of Dispute

Acquittal of a doctor by a jury on a charge of murder assertedly the result of an illegal operation does not bar the Board of Medical Examiners from revoking the practitioner's license on the same accusation, Superior Judge Yankwich has just held in a decision which establishes precedent here. Other important points in this decision are:

(1.) A charge of unprofessional conduct brought before the board may be sworn to by an investigator who acquires his knowledge from examining others.

COURT POWER LIMITED

(2.) In reviewing the act of the board in revoking the license of a physician, courts are bound to sustain its action if there is any substantial evidence to sustain it. The fact that a jury found the accused "not guilty" does not stand in the way of upholding the decision of the board based upon the same evidence in a proceeding to suspend.

Judge Yankwich's decision upholds the board in revoking the license to practice medicine of Dr. Francis James Bold of Whittier. The physician had been tried on charge of the murder of Carmelita Wilhite, assertedly the result of an illegal operation. A jury acquitted Dr. Bold. After the acquittal charges of unprofessional conduct arising from the same asserted operation were filed before the board.

DEFENSE ARGUMENT

At a hearing the board refused to accept the murder-trial acquittal as evidence clearing him of the unprofessional-conduct charges and found him guilty and ordered his license revoked.

This refusal was one of the chief grounds on which Dr. Bold's attorney, William T. Kendrick, took the matter before Judge Yankwich on a petition for a writ of review. Kendrick argued double jeopardy, that the jury's verdict cleared the doctor of all wrongdoing and that the State cannot exact another penalty in any form.

Judge Yankwich held that license revocation is "not another punishment," but is aimed to protect society and the medical profession. He instances many cases where two consequences are made, in law, to flow from one act, one criminal and one civil.

GRADUATES IN MEDICINE PASS TEST

Only Twenty-one Fail in State Examination Out of 309 Candidates

Three California medical colleges furnished 117 of the 309 graduates at the examination before the California Board of Medical Examiners in Los Angeles and San Francisco, according to an analysis of the examination results by Dr. Charles B. Pinkham, secretary of the board. Only two California candidates failed to meet the board's requirements.

Medical colleges and schools throughout the United States and Europe contributed 192 graduates to the examinations. Of these, only nineteen failed to attain passing grades, it was stated.

The medical school of the University of California led the list with forty-six candidates, all of whom passed. The College of Medical Evangelists was second with forty-three candidates, of whom forty-one passed. Stanford contributed thirty graduates, all of whom qualified to practice medicine and surgery in California.

Elton Morrell of Sacramento, a graduate of the College of Medical Evangelists, achieved the distinction of high man, attaining a grade of 90 5-9 per cent.

Dr. Pinkham stated that foreign medical schools represented were Albertus University, Germany; Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, England; University of Guadalajara, Mex.; University of Toronto, Can.; University of Glasgow, Scotland; Charles University, Prague; University of Vienna, McGill University, Canada, and the University of Wurzburg, Germany.

CHILD'S MIND GIVES RICH RACE PROMISE

Flora T. Bowen

That "children of the world's new dawn," which has followed the night of the great war, are the human flowers of history and that they are destined to acquire knowledge and power undreamed of in former generations, is the opinion of Dr. John Snape, pastor of Temple Baptist Church. He recently returned from his former home at Cleveland, in which city he became acquainted with Flora True Bowen, whose phenomenal memory has attracted national attention.

Little Miss Bowen is 2 years of age and a daughter of R. H. Bowen, a member of the Cleveland Baptist Church of which Dr. Snape formerly was pastor. While normal in every other respect, she is said to be supernormal in her ability to acquire knowledge. The little miss, following a brief course of study, answered correctly sixty-three questions concerning persons, places and events of general interest.

Many of the questions given Flora have to do with her home city but scores of the queries concern topics of national and international interest.

Among the questions asked of Miss Flora was "Who is the richest man in the world?"

"John D. Rockefeller," she replied, as per instruction, adding, on her own initiative, "He's a Baptist, too."

STUDENTS THRONG AT INSTITUTE

Fifteen Thousand Register for Special Course in Christian Leadership

The Bible Institute has the largest enrollment of new students ever known in the history of the institute. Since the beginning more than 18,000 have registered in the several day, night and correspondence courses offered by this international training school for Christian leadership. These students have registered from every part of America and practically every foreign country at all touched by Christian doctrines.

Dr. W. P. White, president of the institute, gave a brief summary of the educational activities in an address before the Biola challenge board which is inaugurating a nation-wide mustering of friends to bring the work of the institute before the public. Dr. White said:

"This fall we inaugurate a four-year collegiate Bible course constituting as comprehensive and thorough a course as offered anywhere for Bible students and Christian workers. In addition we will continue our specialized two and three-year courses and special evening classes in Christian education for Sunday-school workers, as well as the correspondence courses which link us with all of America and practically every nation of the other continents. The Bible Institute offers this training to all who seek it without any tuition charge whatsoever, and undertakes to furnish living accommodations for resident students on a practically cost basis."

Resident students will be present at the convocation of friends by the Bible Institute on Tuesday evening. Foreign students will attend in native costume, and have a significant part in the program. Dr. James M. Gray, president of Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, will deliver the convocation message.

BIDS REJECTED

With the sum of $6000 set aside for the purpose, the Playground and Recreation Commission has turned down all bids on the job of cleaning the Venice beach after the 30th inst., when the Board of Public Works relinquishes the job, for which it received $415 a month from the playground department. The lowest bid was $7980. The board adopted Supt. Hoyt's suggestion that the department could do the cleaning up itself with the $6000.

MEMORIAL TO DE NEVE WON'T END WATER FLOW

Water is to be kept running forever from the fountain in the Plaza on North Main street where Felipe de Neve stuck his sword in the ground 149 years ago and established the pueblo of Los Angeles, according to Park Superintendent Shearer.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce seeks permission to place a seventy-ton rock in the center of the park for unveiling in September of 1931 in memory of Los Angeles pioneers, when the 150th anniversary of the city will be observed.

As the center of the Plaza is occupied by the fountain erected to the memory of De Neve a preliminary sketch of the marker places it in the center of the fountain, with provision for sculptural work and scrolls on four sides giving phases of the city's history.

Preliminary plans of the memorial have been approved by the Art Commission, but permission to allocate the necessary space for the marker has not yet been given by the Park Board, which delegated Shearer to find out what restrictions exist on such use of the Plaza.

Explaining that he got his information from the Water Department, Shearer states that on the present site of the Plaza was established the city's first water supply, with two pipe lines branching out to Third and Main and Third and Los Angeles streets. The waterworks, in private hands, was established in 1857 and in 1868 the city obtained a franchise to operate the system.

As a consideration of this franchise the city was required to build the fountain on the spot of the first waterworks and the Water Department was to furnish water free of charge for thirty years. A further consideration, Shearer reports, was that the water was to be kept running in the fountain forever as a historical tribute to De Neve. The waterworks was moved away and the fountain constructed in 1872 and dedicated to De Neve, according to Shearer.

Continued operation of the fountain is the only restriction on use of the center spot of the Plaza, according to Shearer's report to Saunders. Tentative plans for the marker provide that it will merely occupy the center of the fountain, allowing the water to run on the outside. The matter is to come before the Park Board shortly.

POLICEMAN'S TRIAL TODAY

Charged with the murder of William Teems, 17-year-old Negro youth, while raiding a dice game at One Hundred and Sixteenth street and Wilmington Road on August 2, last, Luther Weyant, Los Angeles police officer, today is scheduled to go to trial in Superior Judge Aggeler's court.

It is charged that Weyant shot the youth down without cause when he was fleeing from arrest on a misdemeanor charge. Weyant, however, denies the charge, stating that Teems threw a knife at him and that he shot in self-defense.

Weyant is represented by Peter J. Youngdahl.

Today's Bible Text

Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.—Heb. ii:1.

THE GREAT UNKNOWN

Back in the sixteenth century the Spaniards in Mexico called our southwest country the great unknown north. Write that on the banners of Hollywood today.

GEESE

A wild goose flew into high-voltage wires up in Colusa county, California, and with feathers blazing fell into the dry grass, starting an extensive fire. Thus does one goose after another set the fields and forests aflame in California.

COLLEGE DAYS

General advices from educational centers prove that college enrollment is heavier than ever. The boys are all out after diplomas. Whether they can make use of them later remains to be seen. But we are getting to be a college-bred race—whatever that race may be.

LARGE FAMILIES

An Indiana man of 88 years had a family reunion the other day and was able to count up 105 living descendants. It looks as if the Hoosier State wouldn't run out of people for a few weeks. There's more than one big family in this reckoning.

THE BY-PRODUCTS

At the recent inter-American conference of the agricultural industry it was shown that California is making rubber out of oil; that leather is being made from paper-pulp waste, and that a superior grade of sugar is being produced from cottonseed. For the love of Meander don't throw anything away. It may be money in disguise.

AN AUTHORITY SPEAKS

Senator Shortridge says he feels certain that the next Assembly will be fair with Southern California in the matter of Congressional reapportionment. He says that the Representatives will consider population rather than geography and give us the six new Congressmen to which our numbers entitle us. Let us hope so.

A CAT-ASTROPHE

When that man returned from his summer vacation and found his house had been on fire, his radio stolen, his garage windows broken by stray golf balls, his wife's fur coat and seven dresses abducted and his electric bill trebled by a light left burning in the cellar, he was considerably put out. And when he reported to the police and was asked, "Is that all?" he said sadly, "No, I forgot to put the cat out!" This would seem to call for profound meditation.

PICKING THE POWERFUL

The list compiled by Ida M. Tarbell of the fifty living women who have done the most for the welfare of the United States is a formidable one. She shows she knows. And with few exceptions her leaders are acceptable.

However, she might have made a few substitutions. Mary Pickford, for example, has had an exceedingly wide and wholesome influence upon American life in her portrayals of character. Her films have been without blemish even to the most fastidious. She has lifted the ideals of the youngsters for a generation.

Then there is Carrie Jacobs Bond. Some one has said that as long as he is permitted to write the songs of the country, he does not care who makes the laws. And yet the author of a "Perfect Day" need not feel slighted; for a grateful people croon her songs.

Being an author, Miss Tarbell's widest acquaintance is naturally among writers and artists. These have had a marked influence upon the welfare of the nation.

But you search in vain for those who have done the most for us—our mothers. It may be difficult to choose from among their multitudinous number. They are proverbially modest and hidden away—washing babies' faces, sending them off to school to be taught by their better-known childless sisters, whispering great thoughts into their hearts and working unselfishly for the world without wages.

Who can say that the mother of Lincoln did not make a greater impact on her day than any living woman? There may be another like her at this hour.

EMPIRE FREE TRADE

Empire free trade is the slogan most likely to obtain the overturn of the Labor government in Great Britain and return the Conservative party to power, in the opinion of Isaac F. Marcosson, writing in the Saturday Evening Post. September figures of the unemployed in Great Britain place the number at 2,139,500, greatest number of the year; the figure has been steadily rising since January, when it was 1,478,800, and at present it is not far from 18 per cent of the United Kingdom's employables. The United States thinks it has an employment problem with slightly over 2 per cent out of work.

Since the Labor government took office after a campaign of promises to solve this very problem, immediately and completely, it seems certain that its fall cannot long be delayed. No doubt it would have occurred ere this had either opposition party, Liberal or Conservative, felt ready for a new general election. But in the Conservative party itself there has been no agreement on a program and empire free trade has been making a campaign of its own, half in and half out of the Conservative ranks—the out part being under the banner of the United Empire party, creation of Lord Beaverbrook and Lord Rothermere, British newspaper magnates. Coalition of the United Empire group with the Conservatives under one name or the other seems certain eventually.

Like so many political phrases, empire free trade is somewhat misleading and does not tell all the truth about itself. It is not a free-trade plan, but a protection plan, that is being advanced under this name. It proposes, in fact, to build a tariff wall around the entire British Empire, but to have as much free trade within that wall as circumstances permit. The United Kingdom, for example, would levy tariffs against all foreign goods which can be produced within the British Empire in sufficient quantities for its needs, but would admit such goods, in general, free when coming from the constituent nations of the empire. Tariffs would be levied upon empire-produced goods only for purposes of revenue. Each constituent nation of the empire would be expected to adopt a similar policy, admitting goods from the United Kingdom or other parts of the empire at low duties or none, and levying heavily on goods from nonempire nations.

Beaverbrook and Rothermere, while at odds about some details of the plan, unite in believing that it will revive British industry and that it will prove acceptable to the self-governing units such as Canada and Australia. There are signs that this is true of Canada; the Conservative party, which recently won a victory there, has introduced its new tariff bill at Ottawa, continuing the preference for British-made goods which the Liberal party granted in its tariff of last May, and even increasing it in some respects. At the same time duties against American products are greatly increased.

This is somewhat surprising, as during the campaign Premier Bennett condemned "imperial preference" and announced a policy of "Canada first." Bennett pledged a tariff which would cut Canadian imports of American goods by at least $500,000,000—an enormous cut, since Canadian imports from the United States during the first seven months of the present year were $427,000,000 only. While Premier Bennett insists that this tariff is a temporary measure and that the imperial preferences may be dropped in a later revision, it may be that it is to be retained as a talking point for the empire free-trade scheme at the Imperial conference at London the 30th inst.

At the present time the United Kingdom grants preferences to the other British Empire units, of 33⅓ per cent discount, but the tariffs are only on manufactured articles and do the dominions little good. Raw materials and foodstuffs, the principal exports of the dominions, are all on the British free list.

It may be noted also that the empire free-trade plan is roughly parallel to the "United Europe" plan of Premier Briand of France now being considered in the League of Nations. The British government has turned a rather cold shoulder to the Briand proposal, but other European governments have shown interest in it. Briand would build a customs barrier around the European continent and have relative free trade within it.

In all these plans, the United States, of course, has an intense interest, since foreign activitie of such a nature would compel a world market readjustment and realignment. Fortunately for this country the United States has, due to the forethought and insistence of President Hoover, a Tariff Commission empowered to act with reasonable promptness on such changes of American duties as are called for by circumstances. Without such a commission, the United States would be helpless should a trade war develop.

It is generally considered that success for Briand's United Europe plan is a long time in the future, if it can be consummated at all. However, the putting into effect of empire free trade would furnish a powerful impetus for the continental countries to get together in a similar organization. Either the British Empire or continental Europe, as an economic unit, would be a powerful factor in world trade, and if both should chance to be so organized the consequences might be very great.

Politically, the component parts of the British Empire have had a centrifugal tendency since the World War. Empire free trade might reverse this tendency and draw the dominions and the mother country closer together. That is one of the motives of the sponsors.

GREAT FIRES IN LONDON

Like the historic blaze which swept over London in the year 1666, the great fire which occurred recently in the Wapping district of that city did its deadly damage in September. The Wapping fire consumed miles of tenements along the Thames as well as warehouses and factories, millions of dollars' worth of property going up in smoke.

The great conflagration of 1666 spread over a large area, destroying nearly 15,000 houses, ninety churches and many public buildings in 400 streets and courts. But while it was regarded as a calamity it stamped out another generally believed to be almost as great—the bubonic plague which had raged in the city for more than a year and had caused the closing of Parliament and the flight of the King and Queen from the city.

If old London had had the modern fire-fighting equipment used on the Wapping blaze the fire of 1666 doubtless would not have been nearly so disastrous. Yet the Wapping conflagration required Homeric work to bring it under control, 300 firemen working with ten miles of hose and seventy engines for days to subdue it.

The fire of 264 years ago was followed by a greatly improved London. Perhaps this latest conflagration ultimately will be of architectural benefit to the city. Then, too, it will give employment to many now jobless men.

CRAVENS OF THE GARDEN
By James J. Montague

I gaze upon the tender flowers
That decorate my yard
In somewhat thin and ragged bowers
With very scant regard.
They flourish for but fleeting terms
Beneath the summer sun,
And in their daily wars with worms
The worms have always won.

The rose puts up a feeble fight,
She lacks the sturdy heart
To battle with the creeping mite
That tears her leaves apart.
Before the lily lifts her head
And shows her silver crown
With petals handsomely outspread,
The cutworm mows her down.

But dandelions still bravely gleam
Until the fall of snow,
And neither slugs nor weevils seem
To blight their golden glow,
And on the hills the goldenrod,
With radiance freshly mined,
With its aloof superior nod
Defies all insectkind.

Why tend and coddle weakling plants
Which live in idle sloth,
And cower at the hostile glance
Of every churlish moth?
I sometimes think that you and I,
To prove we love brave deeds
Should let our caitiff flowers die

LEE SIDE O' LA
By Lee Shippey

WE USED to think window shopping the zero in entertainment. But the other night we accompanied our helpspend on such a Scotch frolic and she had to tear us away from some of the windows to keep us from missing the last car to Ourville.

We started at Barker Bros. and though the windows probably will have been changed before this appears we feel that such artistic studies as those windows displayed deserve one of our medals. Each of about twenty was set as a stage is set to represent a different period—Louis XVI, Queen Anne, early American, modern American, Italian renaissance, early English and so on. Figures costumed in the styles of the period were in each set and the whole series constituted a remarkable and lovely educational exhibit.

Rival World's Best

Hundreds of people were walking from window to window, taking in the whole series and pausing long enough before each picture to study its balance and detail. Thousands of Los Angeles people have learned to count window shopping as a major entertainment, for the reason that here we not only have some of the finest stores in the world, but they vie with each other in artistic window displays. Yet even here such a window display showed a rare combination of artistry and enterprise. We have seen lovely windows in such stores as Printemps and the Louvre in Paris, but we have seen lovelier ones here in Los Angeles.

One of Best Shows in Town

We passed on down Seventh street, making a detour to take in the smart shops on Flower. In nearly every window there was something charming enough to make us stop. Our next big enthusiasm, though, came when we reached Robinson's. The artistic restraint with which those windows were dressed could not fail to arouse admiration. There was no crowding. In every window the attention was focused by one lovely thing for which all the rest of the window was an artistic background.

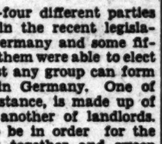
At Dyas's, the May Company, Coulter's and other stores there was more to see and compare and study, for the window shopper trying to decide what to buy, and no doubt for many sightseers those windows were more entrancing. But for pure dignity and loveliness those windows in Robinson's stood out.

Have Made Their Corner Famous

In Bullock's windows there was a fine combination of dash and dignity. There was not quite so much restraint as at Robinson's, but plenty to make every figure or object which was featured compel attention. Window dressing long has been a fine art with Bullock's and the store has scored notably with some of its Christmas and Easter displays. One December day a woman with two children boarded a car just ahead of us at First street and agitatedly asked the conductor: "Does this car go to Seventh and Bullock's? I've got to take my kids there to see their Christmas window."

Great (Imaginary) Buying Spree

We went next to feast our eyes on the exquisite furniture in the windows of W. J. Sloane, Los Angeles Furniture Company, Birch-Smith Furniture Company and Goodan-Jenkins. Of course we can't buy any furniture like that while our children are small and destructive, but some day when they are grown up we hope to. After standing there and dreaming beautiful dreams we had to go home and figure on the chances of recovering the old davenport and restuffing the cushions of the two big chairs, which have lost weight alarmingly since the boys discovered their possibilities for pillow fighting. But they're great dreams while they last—so much homier than driving through Beverly Hills and imagining what we'll do when we live in one of those castles.



We lingered there long enough to spend a few thousand imaginary dollars, then trekked up Broadway, stopping every three minutes to invest (mentally) in just the suit or hat or coat we wanted. But we doggedly refused to make final choice until we reached Walker's and the Broadway, because in their windows we so often see something we not only need but can afford. And that evening they more than fulfilled our expectations.

Talk about miniature golf! We had walked about two miles in the open air. But our helpspend vowed she wasn't a bit tired. On the contrary, she was exalted. "I'm so glad we did this instead of going to a show," she murmured. "I really believe this city has the most beautiful shops I ever saw." And our helpspend was reared in Paris.

Joshua Little Says

Ourville has one advantage over the big city. You can be courteous to any woman you meet on the street without being suspected of "mashing."

If you'd shout "Fire" in a theater a lot of people would get hurt in the panic, even if there wasn't a sign of fire. And it's the same when some fool shouts "Hard times!"

Times are a good deal like a turtle. Sound an alarm and the golden head jerks in and only the hard-shell surface is visible.

Yet of course there's just as much money in the country as there ever was, and all you have to do is offer the right inducement in the right way and it will appear.

When I see an announcement that "court will sit" I can't help being reminded of the fellow who said that "sometimes I sits and sits and thinks and thinks and other times I just sits."

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

YOUR HAT, MR. HEARST
[The Toronto Globe]

The people of France are traditionally polite, but their courtesy does not go the length of harboring a man who has proved himself recreant to the ordinary decencies of public life. The French mind is, above all things, logical, and prompts to direct action; hence, because of these national attributes, it followed as a matter of course that when William Randolph Hearst, multimillionaire United States publisher, arrived in Paris he was officially taken firmly by the shoulder and ordered to get out again.

A touring plutocrat from the States ordered out of a friendly country! This seems rough, but let France explain: "The French government has always expelled foreigners who are consistently hostile to France," say the police authorities. "Mr. Hearst is a Francophobe, and we prefer that he should do his criticising outside of France. The Horan affair of 1928 formed only a part of the reasons why Mr. Hearst was asked to leave."

The world will recall that this unscrupulous publisher obtained by underhand methods, and published, a secret document relative to the Franco-British naval negotiations. And the world will not have the slightest regret that, for such treachery, Mr. Hearst had to swallow a particularly nasty dose of medicine, though it is not likely to do him any good. This cold-blooded, selfish man is too thick-skinned to be affected by treatment that would make an ordinarily sensitive person hang his head in shame. Like the town bully brought to book for his boorishness, Mr. Hearst essayed to treat the incident with fine scorn. What did he care? He had seen France, anyway. And then the pity of it is that he left for England.

There must be a word of commendation for France. She has done the obvious thing in getting rid of an undesirable—ordered him out. Other countries should follow suit and send this journalistic pariah back to the country he professes to call home. Home! The poorest of creatures honor their home; but who will say that William Randolph Hearst is a true friend of the United States? Not the straight-thinking people of that country, for whom his absence will be good company.

Sooner or later the world "discovers" men of the Hearst type—discovers the selfish motives that govern all their actions. Then the world acts promptly; and France has shown the way.

MANY PARTIES

Some twenty-four different parties were represented in the recent legislative elections in Germany and some fifteen or sixteen of them were able to elect candidates. Almost any group can form a political party in Germany. One of the parties, for instance, is made up of war crippies and another of landlords. It would seem to be in order for the housewives to get together and sweep the country.

THE WASHINGTON WASH

BY STRICKLAND GILLILAN

Any time at all in Washington, even when the Animals from the Senate and the House menageries are out on the prowl for a permit from the peepul to return to their cages and live on government raw meat or hay for another stated period, is either thrilling or bids fair to become thrilling at any moment.

The other Sunday evening when I was engaged in that most commonplace and prosaic of occupations—getting my old blue repaint filled with gas, oil and water preparatory to a long drive—I heard a noise in the air. It was a noise of thunderous yet familiar nature—it was a bunch of planes.

There against the gray early evening clouds in the northwest were silhouetted a whole flock of small planes all headed west by northwest. They were flying in formation as if to show off for something. Then I saw approaching them a bigger plane, gaudily colored. The little planes waggled their wings at the big plane and the big plane waggled its wings at them. Then they formed again with the big plane as the center of the wedge and all were headed for Bolling Field.

That wasn't anything, was it? You might have been getting your tank filled in Ottumwa or Painted Post and seen some airplanes. But nowhere else would you have seen what I had just casually seen without paying a penny of admission—the American aces welcoming in the high atmosphere Dieudonne Coste (pronounced "coast," remember) and his partner to the capital of our nation, preparatory to the formal greetings and felicitation of President Hoover next day, along with Admiral Byrd, Col. Lindbergh and Eddie (Cap'n) Rickenbacker. Yeah, Washington is a ringside seat.

Washington is almost crowded with horse statues. Ordinarily, these gasolinear days, there are more bronze horses than flesh and blood ones in the city. Some day the nation's official center (and by that time it will be more nearly the nation's metropolis) will be a one-horse town. Then it will be a no-horse town. After that, the little children will have to be told what those funny-looking things in the squares and circles are.

In my own humble opinion, being no sculptor or no art critic, but having associated with champing steeds on a farm in my early days and claiming to know my dobbins, the best plug in the entire carved cavyyard and bronze remuda is the one old "Pap" Thomas (as his soldiers called him at Chickamauga) rides at Thomas Circle in Fourteenth street at Massachusetts avenue. The sculptor who sculped that nag knew his animals. He knew his pasterns and fetlocks and hocks and gambrels and chines and throat latches and whatnot. He had seen a spirited horse step and toss its head and whicker and had been thrilled by same. Enough of that thrill had been left when he set to work mounting Pap Thomas, to put it into the attitude and the swing of that charger.

Just two blocks up Pennsylvania avenue sits fat old Winfield Scott on the sleekest-looking stallion ever seen. If Scott really knew and loved horses, as Grant did after him, the old Mexican War veteran must be turning over and over in his grave—he must anyway, having taken part in our only thinly disguised war for conquest that got us Texas and, eventually, Jack Garner. But that horse of Scott's is a most effeminate Bucephalus. She is no proper stallion.

Andy Jackson, whom we boys called Old Hickory, sits a squatting, fire-eating war horse in Lafayette Square, but the horse is clearly only showing off and not throwing off. Anybody could have sat a horse that wasn't doing any better job of carrying on than that one is.

The horse that is really having an epileptic fit is that one on which Phil Sheridan sits at Sheridan Circle away out Massachusetts, near where Nick and Alice and Paulina (pronounced Paul-eye-na, don't forget; that's official. The "i" is pronounced that way to remind the world of Grampaw Roosevelt)—out where these folks live. Of course it is sacrilege, lese majeste and all that to speak thus disrespectfully of publicity-shunning Gutzon Borglum's piece de resistance, but the Sheridan horse, well modeled as it is, didn't do much of that sort of cavorting and acting as if it had a hornet under the crupper, in doing that twenty historic miles into Winchester. Phil was probably an hour or so doing that twenty—more likely an hour and a half. The other day I rode it in my aforesaid repaint in twenty-eight minutes.

There is also a George Washington equestrian statue, but the horse on which the metal Father of his Country sits astride was modeled back in the days when no artist had ever seen either a horse or a man and didn't know how to model either animal. So that doesn't count.

Speaking of statues some more, a stranger from the Middle West was walking along Pennsylvania avenue one day recently, looking lost. Meeting a lady, he said:

"Pardon me, Madam, but will you tell me where Kosciusko's statue is?"

"Certainly," said the lady and pointed out that object, across the square. The man's face lighted up as he cordially thanked her.

Then he turned and came back to say:

"I don't want you to think I'm taking any interest in them dam' foreigners, but I parked my car there and couldn't find it."

There is told, under cover, a story of Woodrow Wilson, that had not as yet had the circulation it deserves.

At the beginning of his first term, while his idealism wasn't wearing so many black eyes as it sported later on, President Wilson called the Hon. John Garner of Texas into his office to lay before that whilom leader of the Democratic side of the lower house the Presidential agenda for the incoming Congress.

To the hard-boiled, practical Democratic politician from the land of the longhorns, those fulminations of an idealistic college professor sounded like a high-pressure salesman's prospectus of corner lots in the better portion of the residence section of the millennium. But John listened because the President must be listened to; besides, Wilson was stating it well and musically.

But when the program was finished, the Texan, wondering if the President would pull the rip cord in time when he started to descend from those heights, was at a loss for comment. At length he said:

"Mr. President, the program you have outlined is a most admirable one. There is not a thing in that entire list that would not, if enacted, redound to your credit and be of vast benefit to the people, individually and collectively. But I know the temper and the make-up of the Congress which is about to convene, well enough to fear that there might be some things in that list of tasks that would not at this time be altogether feasible."

That was letting him down gently with a parachute, helicopter and shock absorbers.

President Wilson stretched himself to his most dignified height, in that attitude known as "strutting sitting down," and said:

"Mr. Garner, had it not been for my hereditary, long-held and deeply ingrained belief in predestination, I could never have carried as far as I have the loads that life has intrusted to my shoulders."

That was a facer. It was an altitude record. But Mr. Garner is never totally or for long at a loss. He replied, soothingly:

"Mr. President, I understand you perfectly and know exactly how you feel. You see, I grew up among the Negroes, too, and am superstitious as h—l myself."

And be it said to the everlasting glory of Woodrow Wilson that, after a moment of looking shocked, he threw back his head and laughed most heartily, in full appreciation of the humor of the situation.

They Will Pass Away

TUJUNGA, Sept. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Every so often somebody tries to convince me that prohibition is a failure. I am still unconvinced.

The Eighteenth Amendment was not a measure foisted overnight upon a people taken unaware. It was adopted after a campaign of education extending over many years. It is based on a fundamental principle of government that "what is morally wrong can never be legally and politically right" and should be abolished.

It has the approval of the best minds of the country, the support of a majority of its citizens and has gained for us the respect of the rest of the world. After a regime of ten years, notwithstanding the rampant lawlessness of its opponents, with a 60 per cent enforcement shown and going stronger all the time, national prohibition can hardly be called a failure. It is in the Constitution to stay.

As for those whose highest concept of the rights of man is to "rally 'round" a bottle, they will never change, but—they will pass away.

Why Throttle Genius?

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In The Times today Charles D. Hunt says, says he, "There is something pathetic to me to see such men as Thomas A. Edison being dragged in to bolster up the dry cause."

Mr. Edison, of course, being quite at the mercy of the draggers in. And what is the objection to Mr. Edison, anyway? Does not Mr. Hunt consider him a smart enough man to express an opinion on the subject?

A. GEORGE.

For Future Needs

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] We in California are making a great ado about the wonderful benefits to accrue, particularly agriculturally, when the Boulder Dam is completed. Then we read in the papers how today we are destroying or letting rot hundreds of tons of the crops of the soil because of an overabundance and no market therefor.

A rationalist is prompted to inquire, whither are we drifting?

FOOD AND CIGARETTES

Food, cigars and cigarettes make up 25 per cent of drug-store sales in the United States, says Food Distribution. The annual volume of business done by 57,812 independent and 4053 chain drug stores of the country is almost $2,000,000,000.

PEN POINTS

Maybe it would be a good idea to quit saying, "What's the use?" and just teach the art of being decent.

Yet the fellow who criticizes others for making virtues out of their weaknesses is a little short of his own paunch.

A war comes for each generation, thus giving every young man an opportunity to get the habit.

India might win freedom by fighting for it as America did. Maybe she could get France to help her some of it.

"The poor face realizes bitterly." That's right. In a fashionable restaurant the waiter has to check face up.

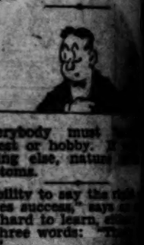
Officials who plan new traffic instruction to inclose all jaywalkers might get a few pointers by studying the Chinese system.

Thank goodness the country was in shape to meet these times. The weak banks were already broke.

Americanism: Declaring that the government has got to stop howling for it to advertise and save us.

Another way to meet the unemployment problem is to be a millionaire willing to split.

Maybe the gods were only dieting to get thin and didn't need any more perfection.



Everybody must have an interest or hobby. If you have nothing else, nature supplies symptoms.

"Ability to say the right thing insures success," says a writer. It isn't hard to learn, either. Just the three words: "Yes, dear boss."

A new photo shows Hoover looking with a contented eye at his feet, and yet some people say dogs can think.

A man can be a success at his office, but not at home or in the park.

A bachelor is a man who is always going the wrong direction on a one-way street.

Many a man leads a woman into temptation and then blames it on a woman.

A bigamist is a man who has too many wives, but some husbands think one is too many.

The young man who has loved and lost does not feel so bad if he can get the money back.

Those who gamble on horse races are so busy fooling with horses that they never get wise with themselves.

The trouble with so many people who hold the belief that the world owes them a living is that they are such poor collectors.

Trojan Delt Announces Choice of Medi

Miss Gene Long

OF INTEREST in collegiate circles is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Gene Lang, daughter of Michael Bernard Lang of 220 South Norton avenue, to Dr. Jack Mickey Congdon, son of Walter Congdon of Santa Ana.

The wedding date has been chosen for November 1, the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride-elect's brother, Howard Lang, 314 South Las Palmas, at 4 p.m. Both Miss Lang and her fiance are former students of the University of Southern California, Miss Lang being a member of Delta Delta Delta Sorority, and Dr. Congdon affiliated with Delta Sigma Delta Fraternity, having been graduated with the class of 1928.

Luncheon and Shower

Honoring Miss Margaret Dickson, bride-elect of Irving Bloom of Honolulu, whose wedding will be an event of November, Miss Eleanor Veale entertained recently with a lovely bridge-luncheon and china shower. A profusion of yellow chrysanthemums, combined with greenery, created a color scheme which was repeated in all of the appointments, including the miniature bride-adorned tally cards. The guests included those chosen for the bridal party and twenty of Miss Dickson's intimate friends.

Surprise to Friends

The announcement of the marriage of Miss Viola Fay and Mack Fisher of New York City, which took place August 22 at Karuizawa, Japan, came as a surprise to their many friends. The ceremony was performed in the late afternoon in the gardens of the hotel in Karuizawa. The bride was attended by Miss Johanne Madsen of Tacoma, Wash., and James Porter of New York City attended the bridegroom as best man.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. C. H. Fay of Riverside.

Personal Shower

Miss Dorothy McCall, one of the popular brides-elect of the season, was honored with a personal shower given recently by Miss Grace Sugars and Miss Ellen Pearson, both of whom will attend the bride at her wedding, October 18. Novelty was introduced in the presentation of the gifts when a silver-tinted wagon, loaded with gifts was mounted on a table attached by a ribbon streamer to a large star which extended from the blue-tinted ceiling, giving the effect of the star-lit heavens and symbolizing the old saying, "hitch your wagon to a star."

Verses dedicated to the bride-to-be and numbers indicating a gift were inscribed on smaller stars which hung from the ceiling.

The guests included Mrs. Virginia McCall, the bride-elect's mother; Mrs. Monta J. Moore, mother of the bridegroom-to-be; Mrs. Cecil Simons, Mrs. E. P. Ruosf, Mrs. Louise Emery, Mrs. Mary Stephens, Miss Ida Mae Storey, Miss Dorothy Moore, Miss Roberta McPherrin, Miss Ethal Whitlock, Miss Geraldine Hehr, Mrs. George Peterman, Mrs. Charles W. Hatton, Miss Margaret Whidden, Miss Adrienne Fortune and Miss Mary Wiley.

Recital

Poems of Paul Lawrence Dunbar and Louis Untermeyer were read in delightful fashion by Jessie Ward Haywood, popular poet-diseuse of New York City, in a recital given last evening in the French salon of the Hollywood Plaza Hotel.

Bridge-Luncheon

A delightfully appointed bridge-luncheon given recently by Mrs. Joseph L. Smale was the occasion for the announcement of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Audrey E. Smale, to R. Darwin Knowles. The notes carrying the news of the betrothal were hidden in bouquets of autumn flowers that decorated each table.

Among those bidden to the affair were Mmes. Alice Normna, Rose Marie Jones, Louise Ross, Catherine Robinson, Inez Holsey, Edythe Meade, Catherine Brenner, Mary Thorpe, Nelle Bonser, Florence Payton, Patricia Pierce and Misses Dorothy Walden, Margaret Scarlbrick, Claire Heller, Helen Roberts, Mary Curtis, Ruby Meinke, Margaret Runkel, Barbara Degnon, Kathryn Craige, Deemulder Lufkin, Bera Felsing, Margaret Hohnholz, Lois Thorpe, Marybelle Thorpe, May Andrews, Betty Pickering and Dorothy Steffey.

Rushing Party

Members of Sigma Alpha Iota, national musical sorority at the University of Southern California, were hostesses at a bridge-rushing party the evening of the 17th inst. at the home of their patroness, Mrs. S. Fay, 4848 Los Feliz Boulevard. Florence Butler Haynes, dramatic soprano, sang several selections and Mme. Lisa Roma, a newly initiated honorary member of the group, was introduced.

Bridge-Supper

One of the attractive affairs of the past week was the bridge-supper and shower given by Miss Shanna Houtz in honor of Dorothy Murdock, bride-elect of Ralph Ramsey, whose wedding will be an event of October 4 at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Glendale. The hostess will be a member of the bridal party.

The guests included Mmes. Richard Astle, Raymond Hodge, Lester Jones, G. C. Paxton, Max Moody, Wallace Hammer, Ellsworth Savage, Lee Austin, John Peterson, Floyd Rible, Keith Thomas, John Houtz and Earl Bleak, and Misses Portia Harding, Mercedes Harding, Katherine Holman, Margaret Miller, Margaret Sutherland, Rhea Monson, Ruth Baker, Louise Peters, Ione Beckstead, Della Olsen, Louise Olsen, Virginia Stohl and Mary McCune.

If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

ARE YOU HELPED BY ADVICE IN THIS COLUMN?

All of us secretly or openly appreciate flattery. Despite "poohpoohs" and assertions of, "I know this is flattery," we nevertheless "eat it up." I have a particular weakness for wanting to know if the advice given mothers hits the mark and really ends some unpleasant situation. Only by such methods can one know if advice is useful both in theory and practice.

Through her own observation, Mrs. L. D. has made an interesting discovery which I am glad to pass on to other readers. I would be equally interested in having mothers who try it tell me whether it works as well for them.

She writes: "Just a word of appreciation for the help you have given me and I hope your work will go on for years. For nearly a year my baby was troubled with an upset stomach at regular intervals. We tried to be careful about his food and blamed everything but his milk. Finally I read an article of yours about too much fat in the milk, and decided then and there that that was the trouble. We changed from a very rich milk to an ordinary milk and there has been no trouble since. He hardly gained at all when he was drinking such rich milk, his tonsils were large and his color pasty. Since changing milks he has gained rapidly and has rosy cheeks. So much for that.

"My boy is also an unspanked baby and people marvel at the way he obeys. Thank you for help with that, too. At times he holds out against my wishes but if he wants to do anything very much I explain that it can't be done right now, but some other time.

"Here is something I have learned which I would like to pass on. My boy is now 3½ years old and last winter persisted in wetting the bed, despite the fact that I took him up regularly. I watched carefully and noticed that he did this only on the nights he had a bath at bedtime and not the alternate nights. I proved my theory by bathing him in the daytime and we had no more wet beds. I have not changed my methods in any other particular. Why should bathing have this effect?"

Children can easily be stimulated to urinate by putting hot water in the chamber. Warmed diapers have this same effect, for the conscientious mother who warms all of baby's diapers is rewarded immediately by another wet one. So it is probable that the hot bath acted in the same way, and it might not have happened if the bath water were cooler.

A pediatrist told me recently that he considered the fat element the least important of the food elements. Most children, even on ordinary skimmed milk, get some cream in the milk, and also cod liver oil and butter, so all diets have some. Many have far too much for individual children, especially those who have what is called a fat idiosyncrasy and are made appetiteless or actually ill by it.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

SHADOW DOES RETURN

What'er you do, do with your might,
But first be sure that you are right.
—Old Mother Nature.

Impy, the black Chipmunk, hadn't lived long enough to have the wisdom of his father, Striped Chipmunk. When pretty little Mrs. Impy insisted that the entrance to their home should be closed and another entrance made, Impy didn't agree with her at all. It seemed to him like a waste of time and energy. That was a perfectly good entrance they had and he could see no reason for making another.

"I suppose you think that Shadow, the Weasel, has gone for good?" said little Mrs. Impy.

"Why not?" said Impy. "Why should he return when he couldn't find anyone here?"

"I guess you don't know Shadow very well," said Mrs. Impy. "Shadow doesn't forget. There was no one at home when he made his last visit, but he knows that somebody lives here. The first time that he passes this way again he'll stop to visit this house of ours. If we have an open door he is going to come right in; and what chance will we have if he surprises us? We haven't got to give up our home. No, sir, we haven't got to give up our home. All we need to do is to build a new entrance and close the old one. Just plain common sense says that is the thing to do."

Impy wasn't convinced, but he said nothing. He had learned who was head of the household, wherein he was smarter than most people I know. Having found out who was head of the household, he was wise enough to let the head have her way. It saved a lot of argument and trouble and in the end the results were the same.

"All right, my dear," said Impy. "If you say we must have a new doorway, it is all right with me. Where shall it be?"

"I've got the place already chosen," said little Mrs. Impy, who, as you may have discovered, was a very practical person. She wanted what she wanted when she wanted it. At the same time she knew what it was she wanted.

"Shall I begin filling up this entrance?" inquired Impy, and started to push some sand in.

"Yes," replied little Mrs. Impy, "but not from the outside. I'm afraid you haven't been well trained, Impy. The idea of closing that door from the outside, telling everybody what you are doing! The only way to close a door is to close it from the inside. Then you can pack the entrance hall full and there will be no chance of being dug out."

He seemed to be hunting for something he couldn't find

So little Mrs. Impy went to work to make the new entrance, and she also worked from the inside. While she was doing this Impy was closing the old entrance. So it was that, in course of time, the Chipmunk home had a new entrance in quite another spot. It was not at all near the old entrance. All the time he was at work Impy thought it was all foolishness. However, he was wise enough to say nothing.

Three days after the new entrance had been made and the old one closed Impy was sitting on the top of a fence post. By chance he caught a glimpse of a brown form moving swiftly. His heart almost stopped beating. It was Shadow, the Weasel, beyond a doubt. Impy kept his eyes fixed on Shadow. Straight to the very place where the old entrance to Impy's home had been went Shadow, the Weasel. There he stopped and began to look all about. There was a puzzled expression on his face. He seemed to be hunting for something that he couldn't find, and he was quite unable to understand why he couldn't find it. At last he gave up, and with a snarl bounded away.

"You see, he did come back," whispered a voice in Impy's ear.

"Yes, my dear," replied Impy. "You were right, as you always are. I am glad we had this new entrance."

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

The Times' free cooking school conducted by Chef Wyman has been discontinued for the summer. Date for resuming has not been set but will be announced later.

RICE BUTTERSCOTCH

Wash one-third cupful of rice, place it in double boiler, and add to it one cupful and a half of scalded milk. Cover and allow to cook until tender. Place in a sauce pan one cupful of brown sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-quarter teaspoonful of salt, and stir over a slow fire, until the sugar has melted, to a syrup. When the rice is nearly tender, stir in the sugar mixture, and finish the cooking. Place in individual cups, and allow to stand until cold.

HOT OYSTER BISCUITS

Prepare a biscuit dough, and roll it out about one-quarter of an inch thick, cut it in rounds, about two inches in diameter. Drain medium-sized oysters well, and wipe them dry, dip each one in melted butter, that has been seasoned with a little salt and pepper. Place one on each round of biscuit dough, cover with another round of the biscuit dough and pinch the edges down tightly. Brush the tops with milk or melted butter, place in a baking pan and place in a very hot oven.

SPIDER CORN BREAD

One and one-half cupfuls of cornmeal, one teaspoonful of baking soda, one teaspoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of butter, two eggs, two cupfuls of sour milk. Mix and sift the cornmeal, soda and salt together, add to them the two well-beaten eggs, and the melted butter, then gradually add beating constantly the sour milk. Melt in a saute pan two tablespoonfuls of butter or shortening, and tip the pan so the sides will be well oiled, heat the pan, and pour the mixture into it. Place in a hot oven, and bake from twenty-five to thirty minutes.

CARROT TIMBALES

Two cupfuls of grated carrots, one-half cupful of bread crumbs, two eggs, one-half teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-half cupful of milk. Wash the carrots, scrape and grate them, and mix the pulp with the bread crumbs, beat the eggs and add to them the salt, and the melted butter, then combine with the carrot-and-crumb mixture. Fill individual baking dishes that have been brushed with melted butter, with the mixture, set in a pan of hot water, and bake in a medium oven, until firm.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in this department. PRACTICAL RECIPES published every Friday.—[All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.]

MODES OF THE MOMENT

by Honore Booth

FASHION EXPERT OF HARPER'S BAZAAR

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (Exclusive)—The first of the international polo matches was played at Meadowbrook on a matchless day. So brilliant was the sun that many women wore frankly midsummer costumes. They looked distinctly appropriate despite its being September. One charming white silk dress, double-breasted and tailored, was accentuated by a ruby silk cardigan with matching accessories. An unusually effective, though discreet, black and white silk print flourished under a white beret. Black and white spectator sports pumps and the sheerest of black clocked stockings lent distinction.

Woolens

However, tweeds and especially wool laces outdistanced other materials in their general acceptance. They were seen in both the tailored and informal type of dress, the latter perhaps most popular, undoubtedly owing to the sporting nature of the occasion.

Lace tweed makes an excellent compromise with the weather, for it is reasonably cool and its texture is ideal for a sports event. Yellows, browns, many dark brilliant greens, some wines and even purples were to be seen. Two rust color costumes were outstanding. One was a two-piece tunic dress in tweed. Its neck, very trig in line, was without collar or trimming. The other, a flat crepe one-piece frock, had a surplice blouse, short-waisted and tying tight about the waist. Its circular skirt was marked by sunburst tucking, centering in the middle of the front of the dress at the waistline. Of this type of flat crepe dress with fitted blouse and long easy-swinging skirt I noted two in black with delicate lace scarf-collars looped over and secured with diamond pins.

In vivid yellow, goldenrod in tone, there was a flat crepe costume, dress and short coat, with a matching felt hat. A striking contrast was achieved by a touch of dark bright blue grosgrain ribbon edging the band of the hat. Owing to the state of the thermometer, few coats of a serious coat nature were to be seen, though there were frequent jackets and boleros. A beige cape, broadcloth, had a shoulder cape of moire maple coat. This is a fur which I consider among the most becoming and effective for informal wear. It is especially suited to the new browns.

Hats

Brims there were and berets and draped turbans. Drapery was the word. Where are the tight, unbecoming helmet hats of yesteryear?

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

HOLDING THE BREATH

When young children become angry they often hold the breath even to the point of turning blue in the face. In some cases the child may persist until he is unconscious, but death from this trouble is practically unknown. The situation is very alarming to the mother because she may not know what is the trouble nor what is best to do.

Holding the breath is a means by which many practically healthy young children get what they want from their parents. It will usually be found that the child holds his breath after he has been corrected or when something he wants has been taken from him. He may do this after some strong excitement, as from fear, anger or pain. He usually begins to cry and then catches his breath. He may utter half-strangled sounds and his face begins to turn blue. The child may continue to struggle for breath while the spasm lasts. After the paroxysm is over the air rushes into the lungs with a peculiar sound which has been given the name of "child-crowing." As he breathes again, the blueness fades and the color gradually returns to the face. In some cases the spasm lasts until the child is unconscious and convulsions may also occur, but this is unusual and does not take place with healthy children. What occurs is a contraction of the muscles of the larynx or voice box which closes the glottis. This condition is sometimes called a spasm of the larynx or spasmodic laryngitis. The spasm may come on during the day or night, but nearly always is brought on by excitement.

Children with rickets, adenoids or nervousness are most often affected, though healthy children may intentionally develop this habit. Holding the breath is often the result of a bad nervous habit which the child has formed. Usually, it is first begun when the parents pay too much attention to a child when he is crying because he is angry. He finds that by holding his breath he can gain the center of the stage and have his own way. If the child is otherwise healthy these spasms should cause the mother no great alarm. If the child is nervous, he should be helped to form a steadier mental attitude.

In persistent cases the child should be carefully examined to see if there are enlarged adenoids or an enlarged thymus gland.

The best immediate treatment is to throw a cup of cold water into the child's face, as the sudden shock will cause him to catch his breath in surprise and release him from the attack. This treatment may seem a little cruel, but it is practically always effective. Many mothers find that a quick slap on the hand just before the child holds his breath will avert the attack. In other cases, the cold water treatment seems to be the best for discouraging the child away from the habit.

Two Ortiz Rubio Boys Returning from Tia Juana

Returning from Tia Juana Fernando and Guillermo Ortiz Rubio, sons of President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico, will arrive in Los Angeles today. In company with A. Rosas, former insurance commissioner of Mexico, they crossed the border to talk with Gov. Bernal of Baja California.

They made a special request of the Governor to send the famed Baja California Band to Los Angeles officially to represent Mexico in the civic celebration arranged for the University of Mexico football team from Mexico City, which is scheduled to play an international game with Occidental College's eleven Friday night in the Coliseum.

The Ortiz Rubios will remain in Los Angeles until Saturday in order to witness the game before proceeding to Atchison, Kan., for their second year at St. Benedict's College. The gridiron contest marks the first time a Mexican athletic unit has played a collegiate game on American soil.

MARINE PARCEL LINE TO START

Formal Announcement to be Made at Club Today

Department Stores will Get Cheap Freight Rate

Packages to Come Here from East in Nineteen Days

Formal announcement of a new freight transit company, to be known as Marine Parcel Freight, Ltd., will be made today at a luncheon in the Commercial Club, sponsored by the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company.

The affair is to be attended by members of the Western Traffic Association, comprising traffic managers of Southern California department stores. Speakers will include Richard Neumaier, president of the new concern, Louis Hart, vice-president; M. B. Goldman, general counsel, and Fred H. Hooper, district manager, American-Hawaiian Steamship Company.

The new concern, a California corporation, will open for business October 1, with local offices at 1215 South Los Angeles street and New York offices in Bush Terminal, Brooklyn. It will accept in New York packages of less than 100 pounds for store delivery here nineteen days later, via the Panama Canal.

Rates, it is announced, are to be 50 per cent less than those now charged for overland transit, thus placing within reach of local merchants many eastern-made commodities hitherto prohibitive because of high transportation costs.

NEGRO POSTAL CLERK UP FOR SENTENCE

Having been convicted of stealing letters that were handled by him, Alexander Lewis, a Negro postoffice clerk at the Arcade station, is scheduled to appear today before United States District Judge McCormick for sentence. It was charged that Lewis opened the letters and took small sums from them.

Charlotte Greenwood Acts Hilarious Role to Delight of El Capitan Patrons

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER.

It begins to look as if El Capitan Theater cannot do without Charlotte Greenwood, and audiences without either. Yesterday, Miss Greenwood descended, arms akimbo, on the same playhouse which sheltered her for so many weeks in "She Couldn't Say No." Her success was borne in a shrill key of hysterical laughter to a waiting world: "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" would be a hit.

There is no rhyme and very little reason to this farce by C. W. Bell and Mark Swan, but those who go in for the rough-and-tumble in their theater will find no better expression of it the length and breadth of the town. Yesterday afternoon's audience had begun to exhaust its reserve of laughter even before Lady Charlotte put in an appearance well toward the first-act curtain. Thanks for this were due largely to a comic, who sustained the brunt of plot and situation—that inchoate, gasping little chap known as Johnny Arthur—as a husband with a reputation for infidelity which just had to be lived up to.

Remember the day when every erring spouse in farce comedy was called Reggie? It saved a playwright whole acts of explanation. In "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," Mr. Arthur goes by that name; and all the regular paraphernalia, from surreptitious seaside apartments to actors, is hauled in to make this Reginald exactly like all the other Reginalds. Only this time the actors undergo even rougher treatment than usual.

Miss Greenwood's popularity is immense. She was the idol of the crowd yesterday, and should continue to be for all of ten weeks to come. She made a little speech, sang a song and then danced it. All were, like the play itself, familiar; and all were equally acclaimed. The members of this audience knew what they liked.

They especially liked Miss Greenwood as she went through her paces with Mr. Arthur in the second act. These paces may be defined as lessons in love—a lamentably inadequate interpretation, but I am afraid my poor memory fails if a more detailed accuracy is expected. Thus love lessons were not ordinary lessons in any sense of the word; they were slapstick, pure and simple, and who can describe mummery so gauche without himself growing gauche?

Ad-libbing is second nature to Lady Charlotte. It hurdles her smoothly over the awkward spots, and it enables her to repeat a killing gag as many times as the demand for it needs to be met. Yesterday this talent made for mutual satisfaction.

A word for the others. Sally Starr meets the well-known "cute" requisites as Nita, a runaway wife. Grace Stafford acts the wife who forces her husband into a life of impossible sin, and Myra Hubert, her sister, Mia Marvin fills the conventional idea of a divorcee. John Litel resumes his local trouping, as a well-wisher of the whole scheme; and the less conspicuous members are Eric Kalkhurst, Dorothy Cecil, Donald Campbell, Hugh Kidder and Edward Seabrook.

"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" is its own best excuse. For good measure, it has Miss Greenwood and between the two, it should go along cheerfully for a long while. Certainly laughter will drown the noise of its creaking.

'Hell's Angels' Leaves Chinese Theater in Week

Patrons are making eleventh-hour reservations to see "Hell's Angels" this week at Grauman's Chinese Theater before the engagement of the Howard Hughes aerial film passes into history Saturday night.

With Bobby Agnew, screen juvenile, presenting his vaudeville act as a special attraction on the stage, the final week promises to set a record for the concluding performances of productions offered at the Chinese, according to the management.

Out-of-town residents who have postponed seeing the production, repeat visitors seeking a final peep and individuals entertaining groups of friends are contributing to the attendance, box-office records show.

Role Tailored to Suit Actor

Rollo Dix, who plays an important role in "Thin Ice" at the Hollywood Playhouse, has a varied theatrical career to his credit. Dix, who specializes in Spanish types both on stage and screen, has a part that was "tailored" for him.

Dix plays Pedro De Carbille, clever swindler and educated foreigner, who worms his way into the home of the Whitney Nelsons, wealthy family about whom the action of "Thin Ice" revolves.

"Thin Ice" is proving popular with theatergoers since its opening, it is said. Francis X. Bushman and Aileen Pringle costar in the play and the supporting cast includes Marion Burns, Edward Earle, J. Frank Glendon and Harry Morvil.

Carthay Holds Lyman and Band

Abe Lyman and his orchestra will be held over for the run of "Just Imagine" at the Carthay Circle, which starts October 10. The band is now playing in connection with the showing of "Holiday."

The caliber of music offered by Lyman and his aggregation has been changed in the past few months, it is said. In place of their former "hot" popular melody selections, they have sprinkled their program with modern jazz symphonies, offering arrangements in concert style. Herb Taylor is writing the arrangements.

'SEA WOLF' SCHEDULED AT LOEW'S

Fox Films Jack London Story as Talking Picture; Features Three Players

"The Sea Wolf," featuring the late Milton Sills, Raymond Hackett and Jane Keith, is announced as the next screen attraction at Loew's State Theater, starting Thursday.

Sills portrays the character of Wolf Larsen, created in the fertile imagination of Jack London. This iron-willed captain rules the ruthless and motley crew of his ship in "The Sea Wolf." Complications are added when a young man and girl are picked up in an oriental port and shanghaied for the cruise.

This is the first talking version of the story that has proven popular in two previous silent adaptations, the first starring Hobart Bosworth and the second featuring Noah Beery.

Alfred Santell directed the Fox picture. The current offering is "Dough Boys," starring Buster Keaton.

AIR FILM NEXT AT WARNERS

"Dawn Patrol," Starring Barthelmess, will Begin Run Friday

Richard Barthelmess's latest starring vehicle, "The Dawn Patrol," comes to Warner Brothers Hollywood Theater Friday for a one-week run.

This decision to bring this production into Hollywood was the result of numerous requests by those who had not seen the picture in its previous showing, it is said. "The Dawn Patrol" is credited as being one of the finest pictures in which Barthelmess has appeared.

The performance of Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., also has been favorably noticed. Neil Hamilton, likewise, enacts a prominent role in the air picture.

Majestic Books Barrymore Film

"Moby Dick," a Warner Brothers picture starring John Barrymore, comes to the Majestic Theater for one week starting Friday. Based on the novel by Herman Melville, the story of mad Capt. Ahab and his hunt for the white whale is one of the most spectacular dramas ever transferred to the talking screen, it is said.

Joan Bennett plays the feminine lead opposite the star and Lloyd Hughes, Noble Johnson, Walter Long, Nigel De Brulier and Jack Curtis are also in the cast. Lloyd Bacon directed. Joe E. Brown in "Top Speed" will be seen the last times Thursday.

Biltmore Gets Casella Drama

Henry Daniel and Betty Ross Clarke of the British stage head the cast which has been assembled for the Pacific Coast premiere of "Death Takes a Holiday," by Alberto Casella. This drama will open at the Biltmore Theater October 3.

Carmel Myers, screen actress, and Philip Strange, English actor, will be seen in featured roles.

FOLLIES ENTERTAINS

An entertaining burlesque called "American Beauties" is playing at the Follies Theater this week. Comedians Fagan and Clark offer a barrage of cross-fire comedy, and Bob Stanley proves himself a straight man of ability. Jacques Wilson, Vilma Jozsy and Bee Cunningham are seen to advantage, and Dorothy Akern, an attractive soubrette, dances well in her specialty. The show also includes a new team, the Lewis duo, capable acrobatic dancers. Others are Gordon Ryden, Yvonne Orinda and a chorus of forty.

'ALL QUIET' TO END RUN HERE SOON

De Mille's "Madam Satan" Opens Local Engagement Wednesday

"All Quiet on the Western Front" will play at the Criterion Theater two more days. Arrangements for the premiere of Cecil B. De Mille's "Madam Satan," Wednesday, have been completed by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios and Fox West Coast Theaters.

"Madam Satan's" central character is Kay Johnson, who plays the role of the wife who finds that another woman is stealing her husband's love. Other leading roles are played by Lillian Roth, Reginald Denny and Roland Young, comedian.

The cast also includes Elsa Peterson, Ella Hall, Julanne Johnston, Betty Francisco, Mary McAllister, Countess de Liguoro, Martha Sleeper, Katherine Irving, Ynez Seabury, Doris McMahon, Vera Marsh, Katherine De Mille, Lotus Thompson, Aileen Ransom, Marie Valli and Ilka Chase.

"Temptations" will Include Novel Number

Produced under the tentative title of "The Enchanted Forest," Los Angeles is to view a new dance creation by Le Roy Prinz, in "The Temptations of 1930," which has its premiere Thursday night at the Mayan Theater.

Spectacular lighting effects will attend the number, it is said, which stresses beauty and mystery and will be interpreted by the entire ensemble of 100 girls. Prinz has created novel steps and movements for the number and the figures of the girls will be decorated with radium paint.

A score of noted players are engaged in daily rehearsals for the sketches, travesties and musical divertissements.

Carli Elinor to Lead Band at Grauman's

According to an announcement, Carli Elinor and his concert orchestra will come to Grauman's Chinese Theater with the world premiere of "The Big Trail," Raoul Walsh's production, in Grandeur, on Thursday, October 2.

Elinor and his orchestra of thirty-six musicians will be heard in a descriptive overture, "Pioneer Memories," specially created and personally conducted by the popular leader. Elinor, it is said, has blended together in a musical panorama the moods and emotions of those heroic men and women who contributed a stirring chapter of achievement to history, the foundation of western civilization, as revealed in "The Big Trail."

Norma Shearer Stars in Next Boulevard Film

Norma Shearer is starred in the picturization of "Let Us Be Gay," which is scheduled to open at the Boulevard Theater Thursday.

This is Miss Shearer's fifth appearance in talking pictures and is regarded by some as the smartest performance of her career. She made her audible debut in "The Trial of Mary Dugan."

Rod La Rocque and Marie Dressler head the supporting cast. Robert Z. Leonard directed.

FILM STORY BY JOSEPHINE LOVETT

Josephine Lovett, who penned the original story and the continuity on "What a Widow," now showing at the United Artists Theater, has done her writing exclusively for the screen. Usually, it is said, film writers have had experience in some other line of writing before aligning themselves with motion pictures. At present she is writing the adaptation for "The Squaw Man."

NEW FILM READY FOR PREMIERE

Fox Completes Work on "Just Imagine," Booked at Carthay Circle

"Just Imagine" has been completed at the Fox studios and will be given a world premiere at the Carthay Circle Theater, Friday, October 10.

Interest in this second film produced by De Sylva, Brown and Henderson, has been unusually keen, it is said, since figures revealed that their "Sunnyside Up" brought more financial return to the Fox corporation than any film produced in 1929.

Maureen O'Sullivan, Frank Albertson, El Brendel, Marjorie White, John Garrick and Hobart Bosworth head the cast.

UFA Picture Offers Study in Technique

"The Fatal Passion," a UFA production now showing at the Filmarte Theater, is an entertaining film, if for no other reason than it presents a study in foreign picture technique of the past decade. The story, taken from "Dr. Mabuse the Gambler," allows the principal players emotional opportunities that pale those of the present into insignificance, and the settings in part presage the modernistic treatments of today.

Drawn with sweeping strokes by Fritz Lang, the director, the action of "The Fatal Passion" runs rampant over the screen, jumping lightning-like here, there and back again, from house to house, room to room and cellar to garret.

There is no time for the viewer of this melodrama to sit back and relax. Lang has seen to that. And if, by chance, you happen to lose the thread of the story now and then, chalk it up to the fervor of the tale's action.

There is a man of many faces in "The Fatal Passion." He piles his nefarious trade, by the use of various masquerades, on unsuspecting gentlemen who would be both lucky at cards and love. His interest is in the former, and by means of his psychic powers he causes his victims to lose enormous sums of money. But his infatuation for a lady causes his downfall, for she happens to be in league with the ever-present Chief of Police.

The man of higher intelligence (Dr. Mabuse) is, at the end of the picture, caught in his own trap and driven to insanity by accusing wraiths.

Featured in the cast are Rudolf Klein Rogge, Aud Eged Nissen and Paul Richter. Karl Hoffman is responsible for the photography, some of which is remarkable, for the story would have been told with the pictures alone, in fact, to better advantage, with the subtitles eliminated.

Actress will Portray Dual Role in Film

Portraying the dual role of mother and daughter, Ruth Chatterton will be starred in "The Right to Love," Paramount's filmization of Susan Glaspell's novel, "Brook Evans."

The dramatic part carries Miss Chatterton from a girl of 20 to the middle-aged mother of an emotion-tossed daughter of 18. She will be seen both as the mother in the early and later stages of life and as the daughter. The locale will take her from America to the out-of-way spots of India and the Orient.

"The Right to Love," will be Richard Wallace's first directorial assignment since his recent return from a world tour. It will bring him back to the direction of emotional drama such as marked "The Shopworn Angel." Zoe Akins, author and playwright who did the screen plays for "Sarah and Son" and "Anybody's Woman," is working on the adaptation.

Sally Eilers will Take Bow

Sally Eilers, who plays a prominent role in "Let Us Be Gay," Norma Shearer's latest starring picture, now at Pantages Hollywood Theater, will appear in person on the stage tomorrow night. Miss Eilers was recently selected by Flo Ziegfeld as being the most beautiful brunette in the film city.

In "Let Us Be Gay," Norma Shearer is supported by a cast headed by Marie Dressler. Rod La Rocque, Hedda Hopper, Raymond Hackett and Gilbert Emery are others. Robert Z. Leonard directed.

Paramount Film Gets New Title

"Only Saps Work" has been selected to replace "Social Errors" as the title of the comedy screen production featuring Leon Errol, Richard Arlen, Stuart Erwin and Mary Brian, it was announced today by Paramount.

"Only Saps Work" is a mystery farce by Owen Davis, adapted to the screen by Sam Mintz, Percy Heath and Joseph Mankiewicz, and directed by Cyril Gardner and Edwin H. Knopf.

FORMER SECRETARY ENACTS FILM ROLE

Before embarking on his stage career, Kenneth MacKenna served as private secretary to J. Pierpont Morgan, the wealthy financier. MacKenna is cofeatured in "Man Trouble," now playing at the Boulevard Theater.

Dorothy Mackaill, Sharon Lynn, Roscoe Karns, Oscar Apfel, Edyth Chapman and Lew Harvey are in the supporting cast. Berthold Viertel directed, from the Ben Ames Williams story.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

"I know him," said Goyad. "He was king of the brute when I was a young ape." "Yes," said Tarzan, "I am Whiteskin. We are all prisoners. They wish us to fight each other, but we shall not." "No," said Zutho, "we shall not fight against Tarzan." "Good," said the ape-man, and they gathered about him, sniffing.

"What has happened?" cried Sublatus, who had looked with gloating eyes to see the death of the barbarian who had humiliated him. "The white giant has cast a spell upon the beasts," the Emperor's guest replied. The people looked on wondering. It seemed to them as if Tarzan were possessed of miraculous power.

Tarzan turned and walked toward Caesar's lair, his bronzed skin brushing against the black coats of the savage beasts lumbering at his side. The ape-man and the apes halted below the Emperor. "If there are any others, Sublatus, that you would turn against me, let them come now. At a word from me, my apes would tear you to shreds."

If Tarzan had not intended to effect the escape of his friends simultaneously with his own and had not planned to have them join him in the rescue of Erich von Harben, he would have unleashed the apes then and there. As it was he walked back to his dungeon, taking the apes with him to their cages, as the mob roared in turmoil.

FLOWER SHOW TO BE INDOORS

Silver Jubilee Event Opens Next Month in New Hall

Pasadena Exhibition in Its Twenty-fifth Season

Garden Clubs of California and Arizona Invited

PASADENA, Sept. 21.—Representatives of every garden club in California and Arizona will be invited to help Pasadena celebrate the Silver Jubilee Flower Show, to be held indoors on October 22, 23 and 24. It will be the twenty-fifth annual Pasadena Fall Flower Show, and significance is attached to the show because it has now been staged each year since 1905 by the Pasadena Horticultural Association, and elaborate plans have been made by the organization, aided by the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association, to make it the largest and most beautiful of all.

For the first time in many years, the show will be produced indoors. The new Southern California Telephone Building at 223-239 North Main avenue, a structure as large and commodious as the huge tent that have housed the show, will be the scene of the Silver Jubilee flower show. Replicas of beautiful gardens, pools and fountains will be revealed amid the hundreds of thousands of blooms already assured for the floral exhibition.

ADDED TENT

As many exhibits have been assured that a large tent will probably be erected at the rear for the commercial exhibits. The floor plan of the show reveals that the show will appear as a beautiful park, with paths winding in and out, and with round panels in the center that is reserved for special sub-tropical exhibits.

One section devoted to flowers and plants grown in the little gardens will occupy one end of the auditorium-like building. Robert Rumsey, manager of the amateur show, will be assisted by a committee of garden club members of Pasadena cities, including Mrs. Fred Baker, Los Angeles; E. H. Rust, Pasadena; Mrs. E. E. Coles and Mrs. Herbert S. Rooskby, Pasadena; Mrs. Charles Wendland, Altadena; Mrs. Laura E. Cadmus and Mrs. Frank Maynard, Sierra Madre; Mrs. Ida Orr, Eagle Rock; Mrs. Edith Hall Davis, Temple City; Mrs. W. A. Clark, San Marino; E. C. Rost, Alhambra, and Mrs. W. I. Harrington, San Gabriel.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS

In addition to a wealth of bloom from the gardens and estates of Pasadena, Los Angeles, Beverly Hills, San Diego and other cities, there will be special exhibits from the leading flower growers of California. Armacost & Royston will exhibit a rare and costly collection of orchids. Howard & Smith, Montebello, will have a huge exhibit of roses and Howard, Los Angeles, will show indoor and outdoor-grown plants. W. E. Trostle, dahlia grower of San Gabriel, will show the latest varieties of flowers in an extensive exhibit. Six large collections of cactus and succulents form leading features that have been secured by President James Matson and his associates, J. B. Elkins, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce will send speakers to various clubs and garden centers in this and other cities to boost Pasadena's Silver Jubilee Flower Show. The Merchants' Association, through Charles E. Eveleth, has promised co-operation in the way of providing special exhibits in windows of downtown stores.

J. L. RENICK SLATED FOR POSTMASTERSHIP

The new incumbent will succeed Frank Fesler, who has been in charge of the postoffice for four years. It is likely that Renick's nomination will be approved, it is generally stated here.

BLEACHERS PROMISED FOR FAIR

Supervisor Graves Tells Throngs at Pomona of Plan for Structure

POMONA, Sept. 21.—Speaking on behalf of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, who were hosts to the 65,000 visitors at the closing day of the Los Angeles County Fair, Sidney R. Graves, chairman of the body, stated that the county is proud of the showing this year and that the Supervisors are happy indeed that they had been able to co-operate with the fair association in erecting the mammoth $250,000 building which this year housed the agricultural exhibits. He also stated that the Supervisors are pledged to assist the annual show in every way possible, working toward an eventual goal of having every exhibit housed in permanent structures. For the coming year, the Supervisors have under consideration the erection of a new $150,000 grand stand, the present structure having proven wholly inadequate to handle the vast throngs that have sought admittance to the afternoon and evening racing programs this year.

With the Supervisors as hosts, today was all-counties day, with members of boards of supervisors of fifty-eight California counties present in large numbers, while members of the American Legion, responding to invitation, were here, bringing with them four drum-and-bugle corps, namely, organizations from Pasadena, South Pasadena, Long Beach and San Bernardino. Assisting the Los Angeles county officials in entertaining today's visitors were the following counties: San Diego, Imperial, Riverside, San Bernardino and Ventura.

A. B. Stoner of South Park yesterday broke the world's record in the finals of the horseshoe tournament for 100 shoes, when he made 274 points out of a possible 300. In making this record he scored eighty-three ringers and thirty-four doubles, before a crowd of more than 5000 spectators. In order to keep the huge crowd informed of the progress of the games it was necessary to install a portable loud-speaking system.

Fiddlers from all over Southern California were present today for the finals in this feature, and made a motley spectacle, some in costume and others in street clothes, showing that the world had not been too kind in their declining years.

With today's packed grand stands and bleachers, it was learned that more than 100,000 spectators have viewed the night-and-day races during the ten-day run, the largest grand-stand attendance ever recorded. The annual $2,000,000 stock parade, the largest event of its kind in the West, was staged today during the afternoon racing program and gave an idea of the extent of this year's live-stock exhibit, which was the largest in the history of the local fair. As the week's winners passed the grand stand, announcements in the various classes were made.

The final racing programs today and tonight were made up of the pick of the week's winners and demonstrated again that Californians love horse-racing, which no doubt spells the doom of the former night horse shows, which, though brilliant, did not maintain the interest that has been shown in this year's exhibit.

The grand finale came with the huge fireworks display tonight following the racing program, when all manner of pyrotechnics were set off in great profusion before thousands of admiring eyes. The exhibits were kept open until midnight, at which time a final bombardment brought the marvelous exposition to a close.

With today's attendance, fair officials announced that the 300,000 mark in attendance had been topped with a comfortable margin, which eclipsed the prediction made at the opening of the fair that this year's show would attract a total of 250,000. In passing, it is interesting to note the enthusiasm of exhibitors in signing already for more than half of next year's exhibit space in all departments. Also a letter of thanks, signed by every concessionaire on the grounds, was sent, this morning, to the fair manager, C. B. (Jack) Allerbaugh, for his successful planning and carrying out of the event now a matter of history.

SOUTHLAND FAIR ATTRACTS

International Interest Evinced in Annual Exhibition at Riverside, Shown by Foreign Entries

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 21.—Regarded for years as one of the Southland's traditional classics, the annual Southern California Fair which opens here tomorrow and closes the 28th inst., is this year attracting not only nation-wide but international interest, it is announced by fair officials, who state that Chile, South America, Canada and Mexico, among other foreign entries, already have exhibits en route to fair headquarters.

Stimulated by the prestige to be gained as well as the valuable cash prizes and trophies to be won, stock raisers and agriculturists have sent their entries in from the four corners of the country, according to Mrs. Cecelia G. Cravens, secretary, who points to the live-stock entries on the way from the Prince of Wales Ranch in Canada, the Justamere Farms in Jacksonville, Fla., E. I. Wetzel in Detroit and the Lillard Stock Farms in Arlington, Tex. Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Colorado, Arizona and other Pacific Slope States will be well represented and southern counties expect the keenest rivalry from Monterey, Kings, El Dorado, Napa and San Joaquin counties, which are bringing their State fair exhibits to Riverside, it is stated.

Agricultural produce, due to its perishability, cannot be shipped as far as live-stock but, nevertheless, officials say that the number of exhibits coming from Northern California and other comparatively distant points is surprising.

Although agricultural and live-stock exhibits make it certain that this will be the greatest fair in the south, officials promise an entertainment program that will be on a par with them. Band concerts and other musical events will be daily and nightly features, it is said, with musical comedy and dancing shows every night by the New York Winter Garden Revue and special novelty programs the last three days of the fair by Capt. Hugh Barrett Dobbs and his company of fifteen Shell Happy Timers.

One of the unusual features of the fair this year will be staged on Japanese day, Wednesday, when fifty pretty Japanese maidens in native costume will present geisha dances and other entertainment numbers which will be of keen interest to fair patrons, it is predicted. Another event that is being closely followed is the sweetheart contest, billed for the opening day. Entries continue to come in from cities and communities throughout the Southland giving promise of a real problem for the judges, who are to be selected from some of Southern California's most prominent motion-picture and business men, officials state.

This year's fine arts exhibits will include numerous painting and photographic subjects from artists whose names are well known throughout the country, among them being Karl Jens, William A. Griffith, John Raymond, Charles Krauth and Jack Leonard of Laguna Beach, Warren Squires and Franklin Pearce of Riverside, Carol E. Sanders of Alta Loma and many others.

Officials report that a crew of men at work on the fair grounds are rapidly getting everything ready for the opening and several of the huge tents are already erected and ready to house the multitude of agricultural, industrial and educational exhibits.

ARTICLES FILED BY COMPANY

Authorized Capitalization of $2,500,000 for Group Planning Yacht Harbor

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 21.—The Santa Monica Harbor Company with an authorized capitalization of $2,500,000, has filed articles of incorporation, according to a report received here by Fred S. Wilson, municipal industrial secretary. Directors named were E. J. Opshal, E. A. Helwig, E. Brown, F. E. Swain and M. Langstaff of Los Angeles, D. Button of Glendale and L. H. MacHenry of Eagle Rock.

The company will have headquarters in Los Angeles, it was stated, and plans to "hire, lease, own and control harbors, breakwaters, docks and wharves, piers and lighthouses," for commercial and amusement purposes. According to Wilson, the company will operate here under the franchise recently granted by the city of Santa Monica to W. Eugene Craven, and at a forthcoming meeting a board of directors will be elected.

At the City Hall and among prominent business men, the filing of the articles of incorporation was taken as an assurance that the plans to build a breakwater and create a pleasure harbor off the Santa Monica Municipal pier will be carried out as announced. The first step, it was stated, will be the construction at a site already selected of enormous hollow sections of the breakwater, which is to be floated to position and sunk by pumping sand into the chambers. The structure will be of concrete and steel.

Taggart Aston is the engineer, and the first unit to extend 1000 feet northerly from a point off the end of the present pier, will cost approximately $400,000. The local project is to be limited to pleasure yachts and fishing craft, it was stated.

Woman Shot in Liquor Row Dies of Hurts

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 21.—Emma Hodges, Market-street laundress, wounded three times last week by a man angered over a refusal of liquor, according to police, died late yesterday and automatically a charge of assault with a deadly weapon lodged originally against James Murphy, 59-year-old Ivanpah carpenter, was changed to first-degree murder.

An autopsy showed one of the three bullets assertedly fired by Murphy passed through the lower muscles of the woman's heart, causing her death three days after the shooting. Her condition was reported improved when she suddenly became worse and succumbed. The other two bullets had injured her wrists as she endeavored to protect herself by her arms.

Informed by Sheriff's officers of the woman's death, Murphy was quoted as saying: "I'm sorry—I don't care what they do with me now."

An inquest will be conducted tomorrow and a murder charge filed against Murphy immediately afterward, authorities announced.

Murphy went to Mrs. Hodges's home early Wednesday and the two soon became embroiled in an argument, according to a male helper of the laundress. He soon heard the shots and rushing to a bedroom where the two were, found Mrs. Hodges in a critical condition and Murphy with a slight wound in his head. It is thought by police he attempted to commit suicide, but lost his nerve.

ENDEAVORERS ELECT

BELL, Sept. 21.—The Christian Endeavor Society of the Friends Church here has elected Bernice Baumgartner, president; Lillian Coppock, secretary, and Leonard Gillmore, treasurer.

Golf Course at Beach Opened

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 21. Opening of the community golf course was instituted yesterday when W. R. Osborn, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided as master of ceremonies, and Mayor S. R. Bowen, W. N. Thompson, F. E. Brooks and W. D. Young teed off on the first foursome.

Fifteen foursomes were played, three of them by some of the leading women of the city and others by the Chamber of Commerce, Southern California Company, American Legion, and following oil companies: Associated Oil, Independent Oil, Standard Oil, Richfield Oil, Union, Shell, Texaco and Standard Gasoline companies.

The project proposed by F. E. Brooks, mechanical arts instructor at the high school, originated in his class when he asked the students to draw up plans for a course. Civic bodies, several large corporations, City Council, Chamber of Commerce and many private individuals donated money and services which today make the project a reality.

STREETS TO BE GRADED

LANCASTER, Sept. 21.—Principal downtown streets of Lancaster are to be graded and oiled as the town's share of the 1930-31 county road program. Antelope avenue and Date avenue will be improved. The work will start at once.

PIRU ROAD HOPES GO GLIMMERING

Death Knell of Canyon Highway Sounded; Too Costly, Say Engineers

PIRU, Sept. 21.—Death knell to hopes for a scenic Piru Canyon road—for more than thirty years a dream of the Upper Santa Clara Valley residents—was sounded last night at the Ventura county Chamber of Commerce meeting here.

Evidence that costs of construction and maintenance would be excessively high was given to the chamber members and Piru townspeople present with a tinge of regret by county Engineer Petit and Automobile Club of Southern California officials, who had taken the trip on horseback during the day.

The regret was over the loss that tourists and motorists will suffer in not seeing the magnificent vistas and gorges of the Upper Piru Creek, the scenery of which is said to rival that of any locality in California.

The road was to have linked the Ridge Route alternately at French Flats with Piru by way of Canton Canyon and Piru Canyon. It would have made the San Joaquin Valley several miles nearer Piru by highway.

"An alternate highway pass may be found through hills and canyons to the south, however," Petit declared. "We will search for this."

Woman Editor Tells What She Saw in Europe

REDLANDS, Sept. 21.—The pinch of heavy taxation to pay for debts incurred during the World War is to be noted all through Europe but the people are cheerful about it and looking forward to "the day" when they will have their debts paid and can begin to accumulate for themselves, Mrs. Verne Gates Hosfelt, editor of the Colton Courier, told the Rotary Club here.

England boasts a population of 40,000,000 and at the present time 2,000,000 of these people are on dole, a percentage of unemployment greater than any other country she said. The taxation there to pay war debts is heavy, indeed. Thrift is apparent in Holland and there is no war debt to pay there so the Dutch are reclaiming wasteland from the Zuider Zee for agriculture and dairying, according to the speaker.

Progress made by Germany since the World War is amazing. It is a beautiful country, one great park with magnificent rivers and great forests, and the people are industrious and full of ideas. She was impressed by the wonderful advertising displays. In Austria great strides are being made in education and interest is keen in Czecho-Slovakia, which seems to be sitting on a firecracker with the Czechs in power and the Slavs the most cultured, according to Mrs. Hosfelt's observations.

Mrs. Hosfelt was interested in Italy and the hold that Mussolini has on the people and she saw there two armies with 1,500,000 men under arms.

OWENSMOUTH TO HAVE TUNNEL PARADE FLOAT

OWENSMOUTH, Sept. 21.—Owensmouth will be represented by a float in the parade which is to precede the formal opening of the new Sepulveda tunnel next Saturday, the 27th inst. It is planned to utilize the vehicle used in the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena last New Year. Twenty-four members of the Owensmouth High School trumpet-and-drum corps will ride on the float. These girls also will take part in the dedication ceremonies. The car will be decorated by members of the local Woman's Club.

CONFESSION SIGNED BY "FIRE BUG"

A. Q. Schilly Puts His Name to List of Blazes He Started in Pasadena

PASADENA, Sept. 21. — Interrogated for four hours today by Detective Lieutenants Harry Thomas and Edward Ewing, A. Q. Schilly, 30 years of age, of 875 North Fair Oaks avenue, signed a written confession which reveals him as the "fire bug" who has terrorized this city during the last three weeks.

Schilly, a Hungarian by birth, has admitted starting five blazes within a three-day period and is suspected of starting at least two other fires of incendiary origin.

He asserts that while serving six years in the United States Army, he was sentenced to serve a five-year term at the army prison on Alcatraz Island.

"The fact that I had served time at Alcatraz on bad-check charges has made it impossible for me to obtain work," he declared. "As soon as I was established in a job someone would find out I had received a dishonorable discharge from the Army and the job which vanish. I have become so despondent that at times my mind has been a blank."

The prisoner stated that he started fires at 821 North Raymond avenue, 877 North Orange Grove avenue, 880 Worcester street, 895 North Raymond avenue and at 873 North Fair Oaks avenue, next door to his own home. His favorite method was to toss several burning cigar butts through open windows.

When he changed his method and started the Orange Grove-avenue fire by piling papers in a room and lighting them with a match, he attracted the attention of a woman who telephoned the police, her call leading to his arrest a few blocks from the scene.

Schilly declared that he started the fires for two reasons. While in a despondent fit, he said, he "had a crazy notion" that if he could damage a building that he might later get a job repairing it. He also said that setting fire to something when he was in a frantic mood gave him the same satisfaction that an angry man thinks he gets from swearing.

The suspect declares that he once held a certificate as a certified public accountant and at one time was discharged from the Nick Harris Detective Agency.

VALLEY PLANTING LARGE LETTUCE CROP

RESEDA, Sept. 21.—About 3000 acres will be planted to lettuce in San Fernando Valley this fall, to be harvested at two periods for the Thanksgiving and Christmas markets. Present cool weather is proving beneficial to much of the crop already planted, especially in the central and western parts of the valley area, where scores of fields are showing a mass of green. Many of these lettuce fields were planted immediately after the harvest of the baby lima bean crop. The lima bean harvest at present is occupying the center of the agricultural stage. Tons of the crop have been gathered and sent to warehouses for recleaning and shipment. September and October delivery prices range from $7 to $7.75 per 100 pounds.

POOR SAVINGS BANK

BELL, Sept. 21.—A pitcher did not prove a very desirable place for Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Martin of Clara street, Cudahy, in which to place money. They put a $20 bill and two $5 bills in the piece of chinaware and then placed it in the cupboard. A day or two later they planned to go to market, and on looking in the pitcher, discovered that the $30 had disappeared.

State Organization of Police Chiefs and Sheriffs Convenes There Today

LONG BEACH, Sept. 21.—The California Peace Officers' Association, composed of Chiefs of Police and Sheriffs, will convene here Monday for a three-day session at the Hotel Virginia. The State Policewomen's Association will hold a separate meeting at the same time.

Sheriff Walter Shay of San Bernardino county is president of the organization. Other officials are: Chief J. S. Yancy, Long Beach, first vice-president; Sheriff Elmer H. Gun of Placer county, second vice-president; Chief John J. Harper of Burlingame, third vice-president; Chief J. J. McGrath of Redwood City, fourth vice-president, and Duncan Matheson, San Francisco, treasurer.

Officers of the women's organization are: Vada C. Sullivan, Los Angeles, president; Mrs. Elizabeth Lossing Berkeley, first vice-president; Mrs. Lulu Straw, Long Beach, second vice-president and Anna Hahn, Los Angeles, secretary.

Talks at the women's convention will be delivered by a number of leading women engaged in peace and court work, including Sheriff Ellen M. Keating, Marin county; Attorney Mabel C. Lineman, Los Angeles; Mrs. Mary Talbot, constable, Whittier, and Judge Georgia Bullock, Los Angeles.

ASK PRISON LABOR ON MOUNTAIN ROAD

PALMDALE, Sept. 21.—The Antelope Valley Joint Road Committee has adopted a resolution requesting the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors to establish a prison road camp in the mountains south of Vincent, and to start work on the Angeles Forest Highway from the north end of the route leading into the mountains. Many miles of the route from Vincent south offer no serious topographical obstacles, it is stated, and work by prison labor would complete the project. The resolution follows similar action by the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion members in this district. Other organizations also concur with the resolution.

TWO CHILDREN HURT IN TRAFFIC MISHAPS

ONTARIO, Sept. 21.—Two children, one girl and one boy, were injured today, and the cause of one of the mishaps was unknown to police. Juelda Breaux, 5 years of age, of 212 1-2 East Transit street, was struck by an automobile driven by J. O. Long, 418 East Transit street. Long reported he did not know he had struck the girl until he heard cries to stop. He took the child to San Antonio Community Hospital. Among her injuries was a broken leg. Pershing Gould, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. Orrin Gould, 527 East F street, was struck by an automobile in East E street. The driver, said to have been a high-school student, did not disclose his identity. The little boy's legs and one arm were gashed.

REDLANDS GIRL IN JAPAN FOR CAREER

REDLANDS, Sept. 21.—Miss Doris Fall Smith, a graduate of the University of Redlands, has arrived in Japan, where she will begin her work in religious social activities. She left several weeks ago. After graduating from the university here she went to Union Theological Seminary at Columbia University and the Pacific School of Religion. She is traveling secretary for the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions with headquarters at Matsuyama.

FIRE LOSS IN YEAR NOMINAL

San Diego County Has Few Back-Country Blazes

Cleveland National Forest Reports Decrease

Warning Issued to Prevent Late-Season Flames

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 21.—Barring any large late-season fires, San Diego county this year will pass through the fire season with only a nominal loss from back-country blazes.

Figures compiled at the office of L. H. Anderson, supervisor of the Cleveland National Forest, show that only 1910 acres have been swept by flames up to the 13th inst. this season within the boundary of the forest. Up to the same date last year 1185 acres were charred within the Federal area.

A total of twenty-seven fires, either within the national forest or threatening it, were extinguished by government rangers this year. This number is three less than the total a year ago.

Although there is every reason to hope that loss from fire will be small this season, officials point to late-season fires of last year as a warning to motorists and campers to use every precaution possible to prevent blazes. The Emery ranch blaze that swept over 23,040 acres and the Conejos fire that charred 30,000 acres the latter part of September last year, are cited by officials.

Few trees have been damaged by flames within the forest this season. Damage to brush-covered areas is computed at $1 an acre. It is impossible, government officials say, to compute damage to watershed areas.

The normal fire season ends November 30, although frequently fires start in the back country much later. Last year the season lasted until January, and on February 16 there was a back-country fire. The crew of twenty-three summer rangers still is on duty in the Cleveland area. When the fire season is ended all but three district rangers will be withdrawn for the winter months.

Improvement crews working for the government within this county have a personnel of forty-five and sometimes are used in the event of forest fires, augmenting rangers.

MAN AND WIFE DIE OF BURNS

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rogers of Etiwanda Victims of Gasoline-Stove Explosion

ONTARIO, Sept. 21. (AP)—Jack Rogers, 25 years of age, and his wife, Alice, 19, were fatally burned today when a gasoline stove exploded in their home at Etiwanda, a small community near here. Rogers was the proprietor of the Etiwanda Garage.

Rogers's clothing caught fire from the explosion and his wife was burned in attempting to give him aid. Both rushed from the house and tried to extinguish the flames by rolling in the grass, but the clothing was entirely burned from their bodies.

Neighbors took them to the San Antonio Community Hospital at Upland, where Rogers died at 7:20 p.m. and his wife died ten minutes later.

Barlow, born in foreign lands, are now full-fledged citizens of the United States, having passed the naturalization test with forty-three others in this county. B. W. Henderson conducted the examinations and throughout the day G.A.R. and W.R.C. representatives were present and gave each new citizen an American flag.

MAN WINS FIGHT TO DIE

Friends Try in Vain to Prevent George W. Markland from Putting Bullet into His Brain

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 21.—While friends struggled with him to get his pistol, George W. Markland shot himself in the head in the residence of Mrs. Maude V. Morelli, 621 Fremont avenue, shortly after midnight this morning. He died an hour and a half later in Cottage Hospital, where he was taken in the police ambulance.

Thomas Bendall, owner of the house, Mrs. Morelli and Markland had just finished a game of cards, when Markland, according to those present, took a pistol from his pocket and said he would shoot himself. Investigation of the suicide was made by Detective Officers Ove Westergaard and Allan Hauan, and Lieut. H. S. Coit. Stenographic record was taken of statements of Bendall and Mrs. Morelli.

In their statement to the officers, Bendall and Mrs. Morelli said that they both grabbed Markland and tried to get the gun away from him, but that he bent away and fired the shot into his head. The bullet passed completely through the upper part of his skull.

Bendall and Mrs. Morelli said that they had attended a movie and had arrived home about 9:30 o'clock. Immediately after Markland knocked and was admitted. They told the police that Markland had been moody because of a broken friendship with Mrs. Morelli.

In the investigation three notes written by Markland were found indicating that he had contemplated suicide. One of the notes said: "Let Mr. Haider bury me by the side of dad, if they can." Police explained that "dad" was a friend of Markland who died recently.

The second note, addressed to Mrs. Morelli, said: "Maude, I don't blame you. It's my own mental condition. Take this money and use it for anything that you wish. Give Billy Sin his radio."

The third note is his will, written in lead pencil: "I leave all my belongings to my sister, Ella Markland, 5556 Elenview avenue, College Hill, Cincinnati, O."

Markland was a bachelor, 43 years of age, and a carpenter. He lived at 625 Fremont avenue, and owned the property. He had not been working for some time because of illness.

Besides the sister, named in his will, Markland leaves an aged father in Ohio, Mrs. Morelli said.

The pistol with which he shot himself was a .32-caliber automatic of Spanish make.

USE OF PRIMITIVE IN MAN FOR GOOD HELD POSSIBLE

Way to Harness Alien Instincts Pointed Out by Pastor Walker in Discussing Dual Nature

Declaring that the dual nature of man is not a new discovery and that psychologists can learn much by a scientific study of the writings of St. Paul, Dr. Hugh K. Walker, in his sermon at First Presbyterian Church yesterday, frankly admitted the existence in man of those primitive instincts which, unchecked, make him little more than a beast. However, the preacher asserted, they can be sublimated to such an extent that their possessor may realise his essential unity with God.

Preaching on "Harnessing Alien Instincts for the Service of the King," Dr. Walker spoke in part, as follows:

"St. Paul is no back number when it comes to a knowledge of the inner workings of the human mind. He might properly be considered an expert in this line. Observation and experience taught him that those who declared man to be half-angel and half-devil were not far wrong.

OPPOSING ELEMENTS

"Heavenly aspirations and high ideals are present in man's make-up, to be sure, and they are alluring and intriguing. However, these are not lacking other elements, with a distinctly downward pull — primitive impulses, wild imaginings, untrained instincts.

"It was knowledge of such a 'dual personality' in man that inspired Stevenson to write the story of 'Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde' and that caused a cruder writer to say that man is a mixture, part of him having come from heaven and part of him from earth. We do not need the modern psychologist to talk to us about our complexes. We know that every one of us is a bundle of contradictions and that, unaided, the best of us have a hard and losing fight on our hands.

WISDOM OF PAUL

"Here is where Paul proves himself a better friend to humanity than some of our modern wise men. With all their talk, they leave us tangled up in a mesh of circumstances. Most of them emphasize the futility of any effort to free ourselves.

"The trend of thought among many of our intellectuals is at best toward futilitarianism. Paul pictures those whose every thought has been brought into captivity to the obedience of Christ. That means that not only the best, but the worst qualities of the soul have yielded to the sovereign sway of a divine Lord and Master. It is by this method that the 'war within our members' is brought to an end. It is in this way that God breaks through and enables us, as His willing captives, to find life and harmony, completeness and self-realization. Certain human qualities that originated, or at least flourished in life's moral jungles, qualities identified with cave men and savages, when harnessed and controlled, organized around a new center, prove themselves to be indispensable factors in our spiritual equipment.

DRIVING FORCE

"Among the savages and barbarians of long ago, the hunter strolled through the forest, eager to obtain food to satisfy his hunger. Nothing could stand in the way of gratifying this instinct. It was cruel, relentless, debasing. But the hunger that sent the savage upon his quest, drove St. Augustine on his mighty search for truth and for spiritual resources.

"So it is with the climbing instinct—the desire to go higher than our fellows, to overtop them. It has produced bloody conquerors, like Julius Caesar and Napoleon, but that same instinct has been sanctified and has become the mightiest weapon in winning fresh territory and new subjects for our conquering Lord. It was the Founder of the mightiest of modern movements in kingdom building who accomplished His almost superhuman task because He was driven by the impulses and urgings of an undying ambition to save souls.

"More than one-third of the millions of people on earth now are enrolled as the captives of Jesus Christ because this 'climbing instinct' has prompted a multitude of men and women to go out into all the world and win it for their Master.

"Even the fighting instinct can be trained and harnessed in the service of the King. It is high time for us to realize that a namby-pamby, easy-going religion will get us nowhere. We can make these days of peace more heroic than war by letting our fighting instinct work in harness for the overthrowing of the evils that threaten the life of the world."

MILITARISM SCORED BY PASTOR LANGFORD

"Getting Rid of Grudges" was the subject of a sermon preached yesterday by Dr. S. Fraser Langford at South Park Baptist Church. He said in part:

"If I were drawing pictures for the press I would sketch a picture of the world digging its grave with its own teeth and in place of the teeth I would insert the cannon of militarism. We have many leftovers of barbaric passion. When you bury the hatchet, you bury your enemy; when you get rid of the grudge, you get rid of your foe; when you wipe out the score with the eraser of forgiveness, you get rid of rancor and everything that disturbs the peace of your own heart. Enemies are melted by love; they are hardened by hate."

MUSSOLINI CALLED REAL KING OF ITALY

"In Italy, the King is king—but Mussolini is Mussolini," said Dr. John Snape in his sermon yesterday at Temple Baptist Church.

"Mussolini is a diplomat, a dictator, a Socialist and an Atheist, but he is a lover of Italy and the real King," said Dr. Snape.

"Mussolini and the King are cordial—the King has to be. The King's approval must be given to the Premier's proposals—but it is always given. Mussolini and the Pope get along cordially, but it is a surface cordiality. There is a mutual distrust. The Pope resents the fact that a man with such power in Italy as Mussolini has is not in the church but, instead, is an Atheist. All agree, however, that Mussolini is a great man, that

INTOLERANCE HELD GREATEST OF SINS

"The greatest job a man can undertake is to rid himself of bigotry and intolerance, the greatest sins practiced in the name of religion," declared Dr. Bruce Brown in his sermon yesterday at South Park Christian Church.

"The man is far along the road to peace who has learned to let people alone," said Dr. Brown. "The fellow who starts to club another ought to remember that there is a clothes line above his own head. The nation, church or individual that takes up the sword must be prepared to suffer by the sword. Avenge not yourselves' is a profitable doctrine for present practice and a safe one in preparing for the future. Converts are never made with an ax."

DUTY OF INDIVIDUAL TOLD BY PREACHER

"No one is exempted from need of conversion and the living of a Christ-like life," said Rev. A. L. Hill in his sermon yesterday at Highland Park Christian Church.

"No one is excused from worshiping his Maker and participating in the work of advancing the kingdom of God," said Mr. Hill. "Too many persons are resting in smug contentment merely because their names are on a church roll. The Gospel reaches out for all humanity, but it places the responsibility of accounting to God upon each and every individual."

FALSE GODS ASSAILED BY SHELDON SHEPARD

Dr. Sheldon Shepard, pastor of First Universalist Church preached yesterday on "False Gods." He spoke in part as follows:

"A god whose description sounds attractive, but to whom human experience gives the lie, is a false god. Any god which one posts as the ground from which he will draw his conclusions concerning life, is a false god. To say that god is thus and so, therefore, the world must be so and so, is wrong. To say that the world is so and so and, therefore, God must be thus and so, is sound. God must be reasoned to, not from."

VOLTAIRE DECLARED FRIEND OF FREEDOM

Instead of being opposed to religion, Voltaire was a firm believer in an intelligent Creator, Rabbi E. F. Magnin told his congregation yesterday in his sermon at Temple B'nai B'rith. Dr. Magnin said in part:

"Voltaire was opposed to tyranny manifested in church organizations, and in this respect he played no favorites. He attacked many denominations at one time or another, chiefly because, in his opinion, the leaders took advantage of their position to throttle the minds and the freedom of man. Much that he said was not always right and he had his prejudices, like every other human being. Much of it was inconsistent, to be sure, but he did pave the way for greater freedom in this world. Confined to the Bastille for a time, his writings did as much as anything else in the world to shake that monstrous structure to its foundations and finally overthrow the spirit which it symbolized."

SOLE JUSTIFICATION FOR CHURCH CITED

"The only justification for the existence of the church is the caring for souls," declared Dr. J. George Dorn in his sermon yesterday at Hollywood Lutheran Church.

"The world is not concerned about souls, that is not its business," said Dr. Dorn. "Caring for souls is the task of the Christian. We have been saved to serve. The extension of the Kingdom depends on our willingness to extend it. We are watchmen on Zion's walls. Los Angeles has a population of approximately 1,300,000, and of this number only about 200,000 are in all the churches in our city. Nearly 1,000,000 persons in our city have failed to actively identify themselves with the church. What an indictment of our loyalty! Here is a field which challenges the best that is in Christian people."

ONLY ONE DOOR SEEN FOR KINGDOM ENTRY

Adjt. Frank Howell, officer of Salvation Army Temple, preached yesterday on "I Am the Door." He said in part:

"There are twelve gates to heaven, but only one door to the Kingdom of God. The gates may admit many, but there is a reason why there is but one door, and that reason is in the words of Jesus, Who said, 'I am the door.' He said also that the sheep might go in and out and find pasturage.

"The door suggests home. It is an evidence of hospitality. It suggests shelter, protection, happiness and peace. No other door will allow one to enter the kingdom, for those who steal up another way are thieves and robbers."

SAYS CREATOR FINDS HIMSELF IN HUMANS

"Mystic Conversion" was discussed yesterday by Swami Dhirananda at Figueroa Playhouse. The speaker said in part:

"Conversion to a higher life wherein there is more intellectual certainty, inner peace and moral enthusiasm, happening suddenly or by slow degrees, is a fact which the psychology of religion tries to explain as being primarily due to 'subconscious cerebration' or working of subconscious influences, whatever may be the actuating cause. However, this is not a sufficient explanation. Truly, conversion is the unction of God put upon man, 'God's own counterfeit,' by God Himself. Conversion is self-assertion of the Eternal through the medium of the individual."

MINISTER SAYS FAITH STILL VITAL TO MAN

Preaching the first of a series of sermons on "The Faith of the Saints," Brother Sylvester, in his discourse at Junipero's Chapel of the Birds, yesterday told his congregation that the essence of the faith that sustained and blessed Christians of olden days still exists in the world as a guiding light for humanity. Brother Sylvester said in part:

"The thoughtless tendency of our time is to deny 'personality' to God, but small shallow minds confuse personality with a material body like our own. It is ultimately damaging to a vital faith to substitute for a divine, infinite Father some partial, abstraction of personality, as so many untrained dabblers in current thinking are doing. God must be a real person whom we can love, adore and serve if religion is to remain a vital force in our lives. Knowing the science, learning and philosophy of our day, we can assert without fear of contradiction that nothing has developed which makes faith in a creative Lord of the universe untenable or even the least bit more difficult. In fact, without such faith the universe is an irrational riddle."

MATTER DISCUSSED BY CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

Paul's declaration to the Corinthians, "The fashion of this world passeth away," constituted the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Matter," yesterday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston.

One of the Scripture citations included Christ Jesus's words: "Whosoever cometh to Me, and heareth My sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like: he is like a man which built an house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock: and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it: for it was founded upon a rock. But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built an house upon the earth; against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell; and the ruin of that house was great."

A correlative passage from "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, contains the following statements: "The testimony of the material senses is neither absolute nor divine. I therefore plant myself unreservedly on the teachings of Jesus, on His apostles, on the prophets, and on the testimony of the Science of Mind. Other foundations there are none."

TWO NEW CHURCHES DEDICATED

Services Conducted by Rev. Paul Brankenand Bishop Burns

St. John's Evangelical Church at 1500 West Fifty-first Place, and Southwest Knoll Community Methodist Episcopal Church at Gramercy Place and Eighty-third street were opened yesterday with dedicatory sermons by Rev. Paul Brankenand Bishop Burns, respectively. Rev. H. R. Gebhardt was installed as pastor of the Evangelical Church and Rev. Cloyd V. Gustafson as pastor of the Methodist Church.

The opening program for St. John's Evangelical Church began at 3 p.m. with choral music under the direction of Prof. R. Hurst. A banquet followed, with a meeting for young people at 6:30 p.m. Following a sacred concert held in the evening a large United States flag was presented to the church by the Daughters of America.

St. John's Evangelical Church, which has 200 members, was founded nine years ago by Rev. J. C. V. Heinkamp.

Dedication of the Southwest Knoll Community Methodist Episcopal Church by Bishop Burns, general superintendent of California and Arizona Methodist Episcopal churches, marked his 178th dedication in the past six years.

Work on the establishment of the new church was started less than a year ago by the Los Angeles Missionary and Church Extension Society.

NONSUIT ENTERED IN TRUCK WRECK

A nonsuit has been entered by Superior Judge Craig in the suit of H. T. Petty, truck driver, against the Southern Pacific Railway, Sully-Miller Contracting Company, and George W. Kemper, for $1900 damages, asserted to have resulted from a collision. Petty asserted he was injured when a truck he drove was struck by a freight train at the railway company's spur intersection of Anaheim Boulevard, Long Beach, May 4, 1928. The truckman named the contracting company and Kemper as defendants on the assertion that they had torn up the boulevard for repairs and had failed to post notices of construction.

QUIZ IN OFFING ON "PRISONER"

Octogenarian Rancher Balks Removal from Wife

District Attorney May be Asked to Investigate

Former Mrs. Heil Denies Mistreating Spouse

Investigation by the District Attorney of charges and denials that have been hurled in the fight for the custody of Charles P. Harris, wealthy 84-year-old ranch owner, loosed yesterday, with his wife, the former Mrs. Etta Heil, asking aid of the authorities in halting efforts to remove her as custodian.

Authorities yesterday admitted being somewhat puzzled by the situation, and were unable entirely to clarify the matter. Deputy sheriffs attempted to serve a temporary court order on Harris, placing him in custody of the Sheriff pending court action to determine foundation for accusations that have been made against his 54-year-old wife.

Harris was vehement in his denials that he is held a prisoner by his wife and that she is not giving him proper food and attention. He was joined in his contention by his wife. They have obtained the services of Attorney Paul Dixon, and today he will seek a court action restraining any attempt to disturb the wife and husband in their home at 2919 Waverly Drive.

ACTION PROMISED

At the same time it became known that Attorney H. Donald Painter, who sought the order removing Harris from the custody of his wife, will place the matter before the District Attorney.

Charges that Harris was held against his will and that his wife would not permit a conference with attorneys were placed before Superior Judge Fricke last Friday by Miss Josie Bingham, a maid at the Harris home, and Attorney Painter. Painter and the maid charged that Harris was prevented from seeing his attorney, after he had sent for the lawyer in connection with his will. They asserted that Mrs. Harris would not let the attorney see Harris, who has been bedridden for some time, and charged that she was administering doses of narcotics.

Judge Fricke granted a special order, placing Harris in the custody of the Sheriff and directing that he be held in the General Hospital pending the outcome of the court hearing.

When the deputy sheriffs arrived at the Harris home they found the patient and his wife, but left after Harris denied that he was being held prisoner, and declared he is happy, contented and satisfied with the attention shown by Mrs. Harris.

Dr. R. M. Dunsmoor, physician attending Harris, confirmed the statements of the pair, and told the officers that his patient is receiving proper care and that he found no evidence of narcotics. The doctor also made it plain that Harris is in no condition to be moved from his home.

Service of the court order was held up and Judge Fricke said that there will be no effort to force the removal of the sick man.

AGREEMENT CITED

In explaining to officers that he is "happier now than he has ever been," Harris told of the agreement between himself and the woman he married on January 30, last, which makes her the sole beneficiary of his estate.

Harris said that it was distinctly understood that the only duties of the woman as his wife would be to serve as his companion for the rest of his lifetime. He made it plain that his wife has carried out her part of the bargain.

Some months ago Harris drew up his will and fulfilled his part of the bargain by making her the sole beneficiary to his estate that has been valued at more than $300,000, mostly in valuable ranch lands in the San Fernando Valley.

PLOT SUSPECTED

Both Harris and his wife believe, they told the officers, that the attempt to remove him from the care of his wife came from parties seeking to handle his real-estate holdings.

Mrs. Harris, the former Donna Bell, and a former wife of Joseph S. Heil, Chicago millionaire broker, became widely known through numerous burglaries of private homes that were charged to her. Although wealthy, she obtained positions as a maid in homes of the wealthy, and would later be charged with robberies. She was never convicted, however.

In December, 1921, she appeared in Hollywood, and was arrested on charges of having robbed the home of Sam Wood, director. In 1922 she was declared incompetent and a trust company appointed to handle her affairs. In 1925 she again appeared here and established and managed the Sylvan Lodge Sanitorium at 4408 Santa Monica Boulevard.

CAMP AND BEACH RESORTS OF COUNTY LURE MILLIONS

More than 2,000,000 people enjoyed the facilities of the public beaches, mountain camps and playgrounds controlled by Los Angeles county during the fiscal year of 1929-30, according to the annual report of Fred E. Wadsworth, superintendent, which will be read this morning at the regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

Big Pines Camp in the San Gabriel Mountains was one of the popular playgrounds in the mountain area during the year. A total of 250,411 people enjoyed themselves there. During the year 73,006 automobiles entered the camp; 203 motorcycles, 73 horseback riders and 151 hikers.

The four county beaches entertained 1,921,950 people during the year. The heaviest attendance at the ocean front was during the months of May, June, July and August.

The total appropriation by the Board of Supervisors for the department for the year was $645,630. The total expenditures amounted to $540,027, a saving of more than $100,000, due to an economical policy and reorganization of the department during the year by Superintendent Wadsworth.

At present there are 300 men and women employed by the recreational department. More trained workers are needed, according to the report, because of the growth of activity at the beaches and camps through increased population in the county.

Lowe Children in Hospital to be Freed Soon

The four children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lowe of Moneta, who were taken to General Hospital following the death last week from an undetermined cause of three younger children probably will be released within a day or two, it was said at the institution yesterday.

Results of the chemical examination of the organs of the children who died will not be known until tomorrow or Wednesday, it was said at the Coroner's office.

Since the Lowe family's bereavement several substantial contributions have been forwarded to the parents through The Times and the County Welfare Bureau. Mrs. Thomas E. Merrill, 137 North Carson Road, Beverly Hills, yesterday added $5 to the fund and Mrs. E. G. Tyler, 139 North Carson Road, Beverly Hills, $10.

At the time of the triple deaths the father was out of work. Since then he obtained a position through the county organization.

PATENTED PAVEMENT LICENSE APPROVED

The license agreement between the city and the Permanite Pavements Company, covering the use of this patented pavement, has been adopted by the City Council and sent to Mayor Porter. The agreement runs only to August 1, 1931. Councilman Williams voted "no."

WARNING HARD TO OVERLOOK

Auto Club Posts New Parking Notices

Stop, Look and Listen

"Stop," cries Kathleen Roberts to Mildred Church as she notes that they are parked where "no parking at any time" is the law. New sign of national uniform design, which the Automobile Club of Southern California has posted on the Hope-street hill northwest of the Third-street tunnel, will be erected in all such places hereafter.

MOTORISTS who park when and where they should not in downtown Los Angeles because "they did not see the sign" or misunderstood it soon will no longer have such an alibi. New parking limit signs that will be easier to read and understand are being erected.

The new type of markers is made according to national uniform standards, and has larger lettering, with the parking warnings in various colors. The Automobile Club of Southern California is erecting them. "No Parking At Any Time" signs, 12x18 inches, with red letters on white already are on the Hope-street hill just west of Third-street tunnel, and a few new 12x24 parking time limit signs with green and red lettering are on Fifth street just east of Figueroa.

Red advises the drivers of the ban of parking between 7 and 9 a.m. and 4:30 to 6 o'clock p.m. and the green announces the forty-five-minute parking limit from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. during the day.

The new type of rectangular sign will gradually replace the old style, the Club announces.

The Japanese Cabinet is insisting on a reduction of government expenditures to less than the budget allotment.

SULLY FUNERAL RITES WILL BE READ TODAY

Daniel J. Sully, one-time "cotton king" and spectacular market plunger, who died at his home in Beverly Hills Friday, will be carried to his last resting-place in Forest Lawn Mausoleum today. Private funeral rites will be conducted at the residence, 442 South Rodeo Drive, Beverly Hills, at 3 p.m.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Emma P. Sully, one son, G. P. Sully of Los Angeles, and two daughters, Mrs. Henry Mahlstedt of Larchmont, N. Y., and Mrs. Jack Whiting of Los Angeles.

S. C. DEBATING POSTS FILLED

Bates Booth, former debate instructor at Long Beach Junior College, has been appointed varsity debate coach at the University of Southern California, replacing Coach Alan Nichols who is on leave. Randall Swansburg has been named captain of the Trojan debate squad this year, and Harris Robinson has been made student debate manager.

ROOFING HOUSE COMES TO COAST

Flintkote Company to Open Operations Here

Warehouse and Sales Office for Los Angeles

San Francisco Headquarters for Foreign Trade

The Flintkote Company, one of the world's largest producers of asphalt shingles, roofings and emulsions, will begin operations on the Pacific Coast within the next ten days. The company is affiliated with the Shell Oil Company.

Flintkote will have invested $5,000,000 for factories, warehouses and sales offices in connection with its advent into the West, according to R. L. Perry, manager of the San Francisco division of the company. Warehouses and sales offices have been located in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle. From these points sales of asphalt shingles, roofings, building papers, asphalt emulsions and scores of other asphaltic products manufactured by the company will be handled in all territories west of the Rocky Mountains.

The pay roll and purchase of raw materials during the coming year will total approximately $2,130,000, Perry said. Several thousand tons of California asphalt will be utilized and quarry operations have been developed within the State for the production of natural-color rock to surface the shingles and roofings. A policy of local purchasing of all raw materials, announced by the company, will result in increased sales for Pacific Coast manufacturers of nails, cans, box shooks and wrapping paper, Perry pointed out.

With the establishment of Pacific Coast operations the concern completes national coverage of the United States markets with a full line of its products. The San Francisco headquarters will be made the base for foreign trade developments in the Pacific area.

Newspaper advertising to acquaint the public in the West with the products of the company is scheduled as a part of the introductory program, according to Perry.

Los Angeles pedestrians may believe they have a hard time, but crossing Wilshire Boulevard is a simple matter compared to getting on the other side of any of the main boulevards in Paris, according to Municipal Judge Baird, who recently returned from a vacation trip to Europe. An attempt to cross a street in the French capital, Judge Baird said, is the supreme adventure of a lifetime.

"Traffic regulations in Paris are conducted on the ancient rules of Cumberland wrestling—catch as catch can," he describes them. "If you beat the taxi to the curb, you win. If the taxi catches you, you are it. The rules are not quite fair for the pedestrian as the taxis drive in the middle of the street or on the right or left side, so, of course, he is under a handicap.

"As there are usually something like 1500 taxis to the block it is quite an adventure to cross a Paris unless you are a broken-field runner of a Paddock.
